INDEPENDENCE DAY

R EADJUSTMENT periods are always hard. The country is feeling the strain of getting back to "normalcy" after the war. Unmistable signs of slowly improving business are visible to those who are carefully studying the business conditions. Patience, economy, cooperation and industry are the most important factors in the readjustment and the exercise of all these virtues on the part of the people for the good of each other and the country as a whole, is patriotism, in its real meaning.

On July 4th we shall celebrate the 146th year of the country's independence. All over the country there will be merrymaking, family and community gatherings, when the greatness of the nation's history will be recalled and when anew the citizens will pledge themselves to more sincere devotion to the welfare of the people as a whole.

In Forest Hills and in Forest Hills Gardens there will be all day celebrations which will show that the citizens of each section have worked hard to plan a day which will not soon be forgotten. The success of the work of all the committees will depend very largely upon the cooperation of the people of the two parts of the village and the general participation in the events of the day on the part of all the residents of the town. May the events of the day interest and embrace the entire community.

MEMORIAL DAY.

A simple, dignified and impressive service was held on Flag Pole Green on the morning of Memorial Day, May 30. Howard Springsteen, commander of the local American Legion Post and Hon. Charles Pope Caldwell, chairman of the committee, were in charge. Members of the Forest Hills Choral Club lead the singing with Mrs. Charles H. Scammell at the piano. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was read and then Dr. David Latshaw, chaplain of the post, prayed and spoke.

Dr. Latshaw said that we must not forget that the day is for remembrance. We should remember the battlefields of France, the crosses there and that the boys had died for a great cause. He then read the names of the four Forest Hills boys who had died in France: Rice Bassett, Whitney Bowles, Clarence O. Collins and Louis Serlin. Dr. Latshaw closed his talk by saying "we must remember to be peacemakers." The singing of "My Country 'Tis of Thee" closed these appropriate services.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED:

It takes about one hundred and twenty seconds to drive from the Turnpike to Station Square on Greenway North, at twenty-five miles an hour. Every increase of five miles an hour decreases the time about sixteen seconds. The committee on streets and public utilities of the Community Council submits that the decreased time does not warrant the increased risk involved. Besides there is a law against it. There has been some improvement in driving, but still there is room for improvement.

J. GORTON MARSH, Chairman.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF KEW-FOREST SCHOOL.

On Friday morning, June 9, the Kew-Forest School brought to a happy conclusion its work for the year.

In a program whose every number afforded real entertainment it is difficult to select any one speaker for special praise. The occasion was marked by a spirit of happiness and enthusiasm. Particular mention should be made of the musical selections, which were rendered with the finish and the sincerity that have come to distinguish the school's musical performances.

Lawrence F. Abbott, the speaker of the day, very appropriately addressed his remarks to the pupils, and in terms they could readily understand. Mr. Abbott pointed out the benefits that accrue from turning to some practical use the particular interests that arouse the pupil's enthusias. He spoke of his delight in certain expressions used several of the pupils in their themes, expressions of love and loyalty to Kew-Forest.

John Montague, the sole member of the Class of 1922 called forth hearty applause by his excellent oration, "The Problem of the Curriculum." He was awarded the schools diploma of graduation. He expects to enter Princeton in September.

After the exercises the visitors were shown about the buildings by teachers and pupils. Light refreshments were served in the class rooms.

COMMUNITY COUNCIL.

The regular monthly meeting of the Community Council was held on June 16.

Committee reports showed progress and many accomplishments for the month. The presence of fewer mosquitoes than usual for the time of year testifies to the activity of the anti-mosquito committee. The decrease is speeding automobiles, and the cutting of grass along the parkings, testify to the activity of the committee on streets and public utilities.

The secretary would appreciate, for the general mailing list, names and addresses of new residents, and names of departing residents whom they replace.

Also, please continue to report to J. Gorton Marsh at to the secretary, license numbers of speeding cars.
