SPLENDID IMPRESSION MADE

Large Mass Meeting Held in Station Square on September 9

Henry H. Curran, Judge Charles F. Moore, Lyman Beecher Stowe and other Prominent Men Speak

The mass meeting held in Station Square on the evening of Sept. 9 was well attended by the residents of Forest Hills, and Henry H. Curran, who has since been chosen Republican-Coalition candidate for Mayor, made a very favorable impression. The speakers were introduced by Judge Charles F. Moore.

Mr. Curran talked very briefly, but said that he would be glad to come back after the primaries and discuss political issues. He said: "I like Forest Hills. I like your houses. I am greatly interested in the housing problem. I want to see more building of little homes for little families. I want to see great stretches of little homes near enough to New York City, so that the men can get back and forth to their work easily."

Other speakers were Edward J. Neary, candidate for Clerk of the County of Queens; Henry Wenzel, Jr., candidate for County Judge of Queens, and Henry Baum, candidate for re-election as Assemblyman. Mr. Baum recalled the promise made to the people of the vicinity, when he spoke in Forest Hills in May, that he would, if re-elected, introduce a bill providing for mosquito control. He said he was ready to keep that promise.

The chairman then asked Lyman Beecher Stowe to give some personal reminiscences of Mr. Curran. Mr. Stowe said: "I had the chance to observe Mr. Curran at close range when, some years ago, I was active landlord of the Tiffany Studios and Mr. Curran was manager of one of the floors. Mr. Curran never asked for anything that was not his due, but did ask for everything that was his due. No matter who his client was, that client was well served. The people of New York would always be well served by Curran. When he was on the Board of Aldermen he learned the work of the board in every detail until he became an expert. I once overheard the remark, 'No lawyer who understands political affairs in New York City will ever present any matter to Curran which isn't absolutely open and above board.' That is the reputation Curran has. He is a professional politician in the sense that he knows issues as well as any boss that ever served. He has been offered posts with good salaries, but has turned down every such offer. He would rather serve you and me than receive the largest salary he could command. We have a great opportunity to get back of this man and support him. Let us follow the precedent we established with Mayor Mitchel. Let us cast the largest primary vote of any election district."

CHALK TALK SUNDAY

The Sunday School session of the Church-in-the-Gardens will have a chalk talk by George Warwick tomorrow morning at 9:45, and it is expected the attendance of members and friends will be large.

Mr. Warwick will use the easel so much in service while overseas with the A. E. F. in northern France and Belgium, and with the Army of Occupation in Germany. He will sketch several pictures with his colored crayons, illustrating his message.

On one occasion "over there" Homer Rodeheaver, the great leader of song, shared the time with George Warwick in a meeting in the underground assembly hall at Verdun. One hundred feet down in the depths of that historic fort, the shells bursting outside, the vibration of the French guns as the reply was made could be distinctly felt. And through it all several hundred men of the American forces listened to the gospel message and at the close voiced their appreciation.

CANDIDATES WILL SPEAK

Meeting of the Community Council to be Held at New School Building on North Side

The Community Council will hold its September meeting on the evening of the 23rd in the new school, public school 3. A number of political candidates, both Republican and Democratic, will address the meeting. At the mass meeting in Station Square on Sept. 9, Mr. Curran promised to come back to Forest Hills after the primaries and discuss political issues. "I must go now," he said, "but I will return." It is hoped that this promise will be fulfilled by his attendance at the meeting next Friday evening.

The new building will be opened for the first time for a general meeting of citizens, who will be given an opportunity to inspect this up-to-date, attractive school home of the children of Forest Hills.

HOME OF W. L. HARRISS

In this number of the BULLETIN, is shown the home of W. L. Harriss, located at the corner of Greenway North and Slocum Crescent.

This is a good example of skill in the employment of brick as the sole material of a house.

The entrance vestibule is an interesting example of the colonial, and leads one to enter the main hall with its wide open stair case. On the first floor is the living room, dining room, service part and an attached garage. On the second floor, master's room and two baths with service quarters over the garage. In the basement is an interesting billiard room with tile floor and stucco walls and ceiling. At either ends are the living room and dining room porches.

The house was constructed by the Homes Company from plans prepared by its own architectural department.

PLAYGROUND WILL OPEN

Miss Agnes T. Reilly, of Yonkers, N. Y., will supervise the playground at public school 101, daily, except Saturday and Sunday, from 2:30 to 5:30 P. M., during the fall months. Miss Reilly is recommended by Miss Harrington, who is the physical education supervisor at public school 3. She has had two years at the Savage School and has been one of the playground leaders in one of the large school playgrounds in the Bronx.

The playground opens Sept. 19 at 2:30 P. M.

A NEW VOLUME

WITH this number of the BULLETIN a new volume of the local paper is started. "Turning over the leaf," as it were, is always interesting, for it leads to reminiscence and prophesy. In September, 1915, the paper was started by the Homes Company at the suggestion of one of the residents who became the first editor. At first it was sometimes hard to fill the pages, but as the activities of the Gardens organizations became more varied and the clubs and churches more numerous, the first and second editors found it increasingly difficult to boil down the news so that it could be printed in four pages. The present editor, who has been in service since June, 1919, realizes that today the greatest impartiality and the fairest judgment are necessary to cover the present life and work of the community in the limited space. It is not an easy thing to do and we do not always succeed, but we are cheered by the complimentary comments that have been made by editors of very important publications, men who live in our village. Another remark, "How much the people of the town would miss the BULLETIN if the Homes Company did not feel inclined to publish it," is heard frequently.

The aims of the BULLETIN were splendidly expressed by the manager of the company in the issue when the present editor was announced and we repeat the words, for they state the intentions as we embark on a new volume:

"The BULLETIN is the 'town crier' of the Gardens. It has no political, social or religious prejudices. Its ambition is to bring the news of current events to those whom it tries to serve. Its purpose is to interpret the community; to reflect its struggles; to gather up its loose ends; to call attention to its needs; to deal with facts; and to create an atmosphere of neighborly feeling."

After all, perhaps the most important work of the paper is "to create an atmosphere of neighborly feeling." Through the editorials and through the news, this shall be considered of paramount value in the coming year. Why not adopt as a motto for the Village Beautiful the couplet used by a settlement of Friends, which is:

"The simple life and friendly cheer
May all those find who gather here."

The past volumes of the BULLETIN are being appropriately and beautifully bound in five sets. In this way the little paper permanently records the history of the life of this unique community and this too is another incentive for making it just as accurate a picture of the town affairs as it is possible to do.

PERSONALS

Miss Helen Kay and Miss Edna Schlesier have spent two weeks at Sugar Hill, New Hampshire.

William Lyndon Wright, director of music of New York University; William G. Jones, head of violin department of the Music School Settlement, and Charles P. Poore, head of the 'cello department of the American Conservatory of Music, Brooklyn, comprise the membership of the Folklore Trio. They present afternoon and evening programs of folklore music in instrumental arrangements. Before the programs, Mr. Wright gives a short talk as to the text or history of the songs, and then during the program he plays the piano. For particulars address Charles P. Poore, 4 Roman Avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Waddell, Groton Street, have spent the summer in the Maine woods, forty miles from Kineo.

Mrs. George Sherwood Eddy and Miss Margaret Eddy, formerly of the Gardens, have spent the summer in England. They have sailed for the United States. Miss Eddy returns to Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., this fall.

Dr. and Mrs. David Latshaw have returned from Alburgh, Vermont, and can be reached at the home of Mrs. Herbert P. Green, 296 Burns Street. Miss Margaret Latshaw was here a few days before returning to Cornell University for another year.

Fred Small, Greenway North, will enter the Freshman class at Yale this fall.

Florence Longcope, Wendover Road, will enter Lasell Seminary, Auburndale, Mass., this month.

Orra Freeman, Greenway South, has entered Dana Hall, Wellesley, Mass. Mrs. S. S. Freeman accompanied Miss Orra to Wellesley and will remain at the Inn there for ten days.

Howard Ortgies, Continental Avenue, will be a senior at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., this year.

Mrs. Curtis E. Kloetzer and son have returned from a vacation spent in the Berkshires. Master Curtis will return to St. Paul's School, Garden City, Sept. 22.

Kimball Gray, Slocum Crescent, will go to Cambridge soon, where he enters the freshman class of Harvard. "Kim" has been given a scholarship for his first year by the Harvard Club of New York City.

Dr. and Mrs. Forry R. Getz, Slocum Crescent, are home after six weeks spent in the great national parks and the wonderful mountains of the West. They are enthusiastic over "the boundless and alluring West."

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kreamer and Baby Beverly have returned from a visit at Stony Brook, L. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis J. Abbot, having rented their house at 72 Greenway North to Mrs. Rowland H. Smith, left Forest Hills Thursday and will spend the winter in Washington. In the Outlook for Sept. 14, Mr. Abbot has an article, "International Politics in the Berkshire Hills," giving an interesting review of the Institute of Politics recently held at Williams College. He will report the meeting of the conference at Washington for reduction of armament.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Speir have returned from an extended trip to Yellowstone Park, Utah and other attractive parts of the West.

FOREST HILLS CHORAL CLUB

The members of the temporary Forest Hills Choral Club and all those who are interested in having a permanent organization are invited to a meeting at the Church-in-the-Gardens, Thursday, Sept. 22, 1921, at 8:15 P. M. Bruno Huhn will talk on the subject of music and the proper studies for the coming season. The attendance of everyone interested is urged at this first meeting to decide whether or not a permanent choral organization should be undertaken. J. Gorton Marsh will act as chairman. Mrs. C. H. Scammell and Donald G. Clark are the other members of the committee. There will be active and associate members.

Mrs. C. H. Scammell has for many years been active in organizing the choral singers for special occasions. She feels that now is the time to organize permanently and with Bruno Huhn as conductor, to begin rehearsals the early part of October. Winter and spring concerts should be planned. Bringing to Forest Hills many prominent singers and musicians as soloists on the programs would be an attractive feature of this new club's activities.

THE DAVIS CUP REMAINS

S. E. Davenport Describes the World Contests in Tennis

The Davis Cup, the most coveted trophy in the tennis world, will remain in this country for at least another year because of the success achieved by the American defenders against the Japanese challengers. The cup's donor, Dwight D. Davis, witnessed the triumph.

Tennis has become the "world sport," for it is played in more countries than any other known outdoor game, and it was an inspiring sight to the man in the stands to see the beautiful bowl in the center of the grandstand enclosure, and to realize that twelve countries had challenged the United States for its possession. One could be pardoned for the thrill of pride of race that manifested itself when our defenders seemed so thoroughly able to beat back the representatives of Japan, the winner of the tournament of nations, for we are supreme without a shadow of doubt.

At 2:34 o'clock, on Friday, Sept. 2, our "Little Bill" Johnston, whom many regard as the most popular player in the country since the time of McLaughlin, took the court against Ichiya Kumagae, the Japanese Captain. "Little Bill" won with comparatively slight effort, using his renowned forehand drive to good effect and bringing his marvellous volleying into play whenever he particularly needed a point. The match was rather uninteresting, for Kumagae was way below form, and Johnston played almost perfectly, winning in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2. Not so the contest between world's champion, "Big Bill" Tilden and Zenzo Shimidzu; the heat was terrific; Shimidzu, the acme of steadiness, hugging the base line, driving and lobbing well and faultlessly, covering court like a cat, while Tilden, his best shots everlastingly returned, his service not behaving, gradually exhausted himself, and, dropping the first two sets was within two points of defeat in the third before his "will to win" and a short lapse on the part of the son of Nippon allowed him to save himself and take advantage of the usual ten-minute rest.

The start of the fourth set showed the spectators the real champion, for, confidence and strength returned, he was everywhere, with service aces, kaleidoscopic change of pace and a vicious net attack at his command. Shimidzu wilted before the onslaught, smiling all the time though hand-capped with cramps, and "Big Bill" came through. Score 7-1, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2, 6-1.

Probably our best doubles team, viz., R. Norris Williams, and Watson M. Washburn, played against Japan in the doubles match, and they needed to be good, for the doughty Japanese fought hard, and with the aid of a terrific thunder storm staved off defeat for four hours. A thrilling match it was, with Japanese steadiness and court covering pitted against an impregnable attack, with Williams and Washburn playing brilliantly most of the time and storming the net continually. In a nutshell, this is the whole story, though one could dilate on Williams' volleying and back-hand shots and Washburn's overhead work. We had the better team and it won, 6-2, 7-5, 4-6 7-5, with Shimidzu again proving the strong man of his team and still smiling.

Although the cup was ours, the contests on Labor Day were played before full stands, and, as on the first two days, the spectators showed a keen appreciation of tennis etiquette as well as of the fine points of the game. Kumagae was more like himself, and, with greater speed in his drives and far better control, he forced Tilden to work hard to win at 9-7, 6-4, 6-1. Each won on service as a general rule, but Tilden could not be denied and slowly wore down his agile opponent.

Johnston was bothered considerably by the fact that Shimidzu made very few errors and returned his best shots, playing a comparatively soft game, but by a careful plan of attack, which included a gradual advance to the net position from which he could make use of his incomparable volleying, he won by a score of 6-3, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4.

If Itchy and Shimmy are true examples, Japan has some fine sportsmen, for these two conducted themselves in faultless style and made worthy opponents for a team of real Americans, of whom the 10,000 or more spectators a day were justly proud.

THE INN

Mrs. V. Hattermer, 37 Harvest Street, entertained, for her son, a party of twenty at dinner Saturday evening in the sun parlor; the decorations were blue and gold. The young people enjoyed the dance after dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bobst and son have returned after having been away for the summer.

Miss Marie Pierce has been joined by her sister, Miss Helen, of Worcester, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Adair are back from a short visit in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cumming and son, of New York, are among the recent arrivals for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sevier of Dayton, Ohio, are spending a few weeks at the Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Beauchemin and family, of Memphis, Tenn., are numbered among the arrivals for a few weeks' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Williams and son, of Forest Hills, are spending a few weeks at the Inn.

W. Y. Harlow, of New York, is here for an indefinite visit.

Mrs. H. F. Dalton has returned after having spent a pleasant vacation at the Hotel Warren, Spring Lake, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Shares, and daughter, Janet, have returned from their visit at Pine Orchard, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Fullerton and son, Bradford M., of Manhattan, have come to spend the winter at the Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Fisher, of New York City, are also numbered among the winter guests, having spent the summer at Glen Cove, L. I.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hill and daughter, Miss Eunice, have returned to the Inn for the winter.

Mrs. Lafayette Franklin and little Junior, and mother, Mrs. N. T. Cassell, of Denver, have returned for a short stay after having spent the summer at Sugar Hill, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Sigsbee have returned, having sojourned in the Adirondacks, at the Algonquin Hotel, for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Henderson are among the guests returning after a short vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jewett have also returned after several months' absence.

Mrs. A. B. Stuart and the Misses Helen Hoefft, Florence Sherman, Georgia Leffingwell, Adele Marie Shaw, Mary L. Nutting and Estelle Johnson, have all been welcomed back to our midst, after having spent the summer at various summer resorts.

Miss Elizabeth Camp and Miss Gladys Tree have cabled from abroad of their anticipated arrivals about Oct. 1, sailing on the Carmania, leaving Liverpool, Sept. 24.

EVENING PROGRAM IN OLIVIA PARK.

The Gardens Players announce that they are busy with rehearsals on a production scheduled for Friday evening, Sept. 30, and Saturday, Oct. 1. The performances will take place at 8:30 in the evening at Olivia Park. This will be the final subscription performance for last year's members and the program is an attractive one. Three short plays will be presented: "Sweet and Twenty," a comedy by Floyd Dell; a revival of "A Bright Morning," by the Quinteros (repeated by general request), and "Told in a Chinese Garden," a romance legend of ancient China.

Several new members of the Players are making their first appearance in this performance. Van H. Manning, a new leading juvenile, will appear in "Sweet and Twenty," with Lolita Cordon and Walter Claypoole. Harvey Warren, Elizabeth Williamson, Bryan Dorr and Beatrice Kiefer will again make up the cast for "A Bright Morning." In "Told in a Chinese Garden," Jeannette Ramson, Tecla Fickner and Robert Pegoix will make their debuts, and others in the cast will be Maude Marren, Irving Hare, Edward Swazey, Crispia Bebb, Clarence Perry and Maurice Mayer. The Gardens Players having disposed of the mosquito question on the Fourth of July, and in collusion with the Weather Man, promise a comfortable as well as a unique performance. Membership subscription tickets are valid for this performance. Extra tickets will be on sale at the gate.

THE CHURCH-IN-THE-GARDENS

Although many of the members have not returned to their homes, their places were well filled by visitors last Sunday morning. Dr. Latshaw's post-vacation sermon on the text, "I am a Stranger (Pilgrim) in the Earth," was greatly enjoyed.

The Church-in-the-Gardens is a community church, including in its membership representatives of at least eight different denominations. An especially cordial invitation is therefore extended to newcomers and visitors to worship with us.

Morning worship tomorrow at 11 o'clock. Dr. Latshaw will speak. Theodore Webb, baritone, will sing.

The first session of the Sunday School will be held tomorrow morning at 9:45 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. McTyier cordially invite the members of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor and their friends to meet at their home, 57 Summer Street, Sunday evening, Oct. 2, at 7:30 o'clock, for the first meeting of the season.

H. Everett Hall, organist, has been re-engaged for the coming year.

A meeting of the corporate body of the church is called for Wednesday evening, Sept. 28, at 8 o'clock, in the social room, to consider a letter from Dr. Latshaw, written under date June 29, 1921, take action thereon and transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

CLASSES IN NURSING

Last spring a very successful class in nursing was conducted under the auspices of the Forest Hills Chapter of the American Red Cross. Another morning class is now forming. There will be sixteen lessons, one lesson a week from 10 A. M. to 12 M., and there will also be an evening class from 8 to 10 P. M. These classes will be conducted in the social room of the Presbyterian Church of Forest Hills on Seminole Avenue. This opportunity is open to all women of the town over 16 years of age, and it is hoped that the required number will enroll to learn the fundamentals of home nursing. A small fee of $3 is charged each member of the classes, and this amount is for the materials used; it does not cover instruction, for that is furnished by the Forest Hills Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Those who desire to join should telephone to Mrs. C. W. Johnson, Boulevard 6367-J.

THE PETITION FOR BRIDLE PATHS

The residents of the Gardens are urged to sign the petition for the bridle paths in Forest Park. Even those who do not join the Forest Park Riding Club are solicited to sign the petition, which was mailed recently to all residents here, because a large number of signatures will have weight with the Board of Estimate.
