FASHION SHOW HELD

All the Women in Town Attend and Plan Their Spring Clothes—Women's Club Growing.

As was predicted, the Inn ball room and all adjoining rooms were filled with women of all ages and figures on Monday afternoon, Feb. 4, when a style show was staged by Best & Co. Knabe & Co. loaned an Ampico, which furnished the music while the fashionable dresses were displayed on models, tiny girls, junior girls, young women and the matron. The speaker from Best & Co. told her attentive listeners to choose the cloth and type of dress for their own style and she also advised following the French in their simplicity of style. The Paris evening gowns, she said, are white or black or black with white trimming or vice versa and that the French woman in such an evening gown looks like a Whistler etching. Moire silk is much used; plaited skirts are quite the vogue and the new color this spring is artichoke green.

Chalif School pupils appeared in a Russian dance. The singer was Miss Cora Claiborne, contralto, with James F. Caskey at the piano.

After a long absence from the regular meetings of the Women's Club, the president, Mrs. Louis D. Speir, was present and received hearty applause for her word of greeting. Mrs. Forry R. Getz, first vice-president, was in the chair.

The club voted $100 for the use of the philanthropic chapter, of which $50 will be given to the Jamaica Day Nursery and $50 to the scholarship boy, Hudson Kellogg, who is attending Newtown High School.

The new members of the club are Mrs. Murray S. Brown, Mrs. K. Brunckhorst, Mrs. Arthur H. Flint, Mrs. William J. Kavanagh and Mrs. Boyden R. Sparkes.

Mrs. John M. McMillin, chairman, will entertain the philanthropic chapter at her home, 21 Fairway Close, Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 20, 3 p. m.

Mrs. Alden H. Vose will review "The Able McLaughlins," by Margaret Wilson, before the current readings chapter, on the afternoon of Feb. 26. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. S. E. Davenport, Jr., 20 Groton Street, with Mrs. Nugent Fallon, assistant hostess.

GETTING READY FOR JULY FOURTH

A meeting of the executive committee of the Celebrations Association of Forest Hills Gardens was held on Monday evening, Feb. 4, 1924, at 9 Station Square, in the offices of William D. Bloodgood & Co., Inc.

After transaction of the usual routine business, the committee reluctantly accepted the resignation as vice-president of Mrs. Charles H. Scammell, who found that her other engagements would not permit her to undertake the duties of a vice-president, and Ray Sterling was elected a vice-president for the year 1924 to fill the vacancy.

It was decided to form committees to deal with matters relating to decorations, entertainment, music, policing and similar arrangements, prizes, programs, property, publicity and posters, and speakers, and that the more urgent of these matters should be taken in hand forthwith, so that there would be something definite to report to the next meeting, which will be held March 3.

MASONS INCREASING MEMBERSHIP

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 19, at the Masonic Temple, the Forest Hills Lodge, 946, F. and A. M. will confer the third degree. The lecture will be given by the Right Worshipful Joseph N. Wickham, of the Mizpah Lodge, Elmhurst.

On Tuesday evening, March 4, a degree will be conferred. Also the members will have the treat of hearing one of the managers of Station WJZ of the Radio Corporation of America, who will speak on "Broadcasting."

DEMAND FOR LARGER HOUSES IN TRACT 11

The above house is now being built by the Sage Foundation Homes Co. at the southeast corner of Ascan Avenue and Kessel Street, Forest Hills Gardens. It is a very fine example of the Virginia colonial house of seven rooms and two baths. The material is stucco. The house contains a large living room, center entrance hall, dining room, butler's pantry, kitchen with pullman breakfast nook, two large bedrooms and bath on second floor, and three large bedrooms and bath on the third floor. Spencer boilers are being used; tile baths with built-in tubs and fixtures.

This house forms a very pleasing entrance to Tract 11, and is being duplicated at the southwest corner of Puritan Avenue and Kessel Street.

A large number of salesmen are always on duty to explain the details of the houses which are now being built with the usual care of the Sage Foundation Homes Co.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CAMP NIGHT

Monday evening, Feb. 18, 7:30 o'clock, the purposes and results of organized camping will be presented to the girls and boys, fathers and mothers of Forest Hills, in the Social Room of the Church-in-the-Gardens.

Paul R. Jenks, of the Flushing High School, trail maker for the Appalachian Mountain Club, will tell of the joys of outdoor life and of his particular interest, mountain climbing. A typical day at a girls' camp, also special events, field day, life-saving tests, canoe trips, the Gymkhana and Presidential Range trip will be illustrated on the screen by Mrs. Blanche Carstens, director of Camp Allegro, Silver Lake, New Hampshire.

Boys' camp activities will be shown by Arthur H. Flint, who will also tell what some Forest Hills boys did in camp last summer. Mr. Flint is the director of Camp Forest Hills-in-Groton, New Hampshire.

This meeting is for boys and girls who want to go to camp, and for parents who are investigating camps.

LEGION TO GIVE DANCE

The Forest Hills Post, American Legion, will give an informal dance at the Forest Hills Inn on the evening of Thursday, Feb. 21. The price of the tickets will be $2 for a couple, or $1.50 for a stag.

The Auxiliary of the Legion met Thursday afternoon, Feb. 14, at the home of Mrs. Charles Pope Caldwell, 29 Ibis Street, and perfected some of the arrangements for the dance.

HELPING PUBLIC SCHOOLS

THE public schools in New York City present such baffling problems that all patriotic citizens, and particularly parents, cannot help but be concerned about the education of the boys and girls of the greatest city in the world. With considerable relief and satisfaction, one learns of the magnificent achievements of the Public Education Association, whose director spoke in Forest Hills last Monday. This organization, founded in 1895, incorporated in 1899, has a paid staff of 60 workers and issues a weekly bulletin. It is "an organization which enables citizens to make their combined influence effective for the schools; supplies reliable information on current educational problems, and demonstrates new ways of adjusting the school to the child. Membership is open to all who desire the betterment of the public schools."

By joining this organization one becomes an ally of a group of people who are helping to improve the most important system in our present-day society.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO EX-PRESIDENT WILSON

Forest Hills Post of the American Legion held a memorial meeting for Ex-President Wilson in the Church-in-the-Gardens, Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 6, at four o'clock. The Rev. Mr. C. E. Silcox gave the memorial address, the Rev. Mr. W. P. S. Lander, of St. Luke's, read the prayers and the Rev. Mr. Albert Sheppard, of the Presbyterian Church, read the scripture. Mrs. Alexander Greene, soprano, Louis Williamson, tenor, and H. Hall, organist, rendered appropriate music, beautifully.

Mr. Silcox brought out the fact that Washington represented the aristocratic class, Lincoln, the common people, and Wilson, the professional class. "Woodrow Wilson was an eloquent and idealistic democrat, a son of the manse," he said. "He was the most scholarly man who has filled the Presidency, a thinker and a doer, whose intelligence was synthetic as well as analytic and this creative mind led him into leadership in the fight for the League of Nations. He was a master of English because of his thought and diction. He was a pacifist, who mobilized millions, who fought for allied command and for the League. He gave his life for his country and his ideals. The world's great ideas and ideals are paid for in death."

In closing Mr. Silcox quoted Tennyson:

"In the vast Cathedral leave him,
God accept him, Christ receive him."

TO TALK ON BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

The Mothers' Club of Public School 3 will meet next Monday afternoon, Feb. 18, at 2 o'clock, in the school auditorium. Mrs. Melville Shater, representing the Home and School Association, will speak on "Books for Children." The usual business of the club will also be transacted.

CONCERT TO BE GIVEN IN THEATRE

Arrangements are being made to hold the spring concert of the Forest Hills Choral Club on Friday evening, April 11, in the Forest Hills Theatre. The organization is planning to make this concert surpass any program given by the club up to date. It is expected that all the tickets will be sold far ahead of the date of the concert.

McEVROY-MACK

At the Church-in-the-Gardens, Friday afternoon, Feb. 8, by the Rev. C. E. Silcox, Gaston J. Mack was married to Miss Mildred H. McEvoy, both of New York.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Bixler have moved from Jersey City to Forest Hill's Gardens, 33 Ingram Street. Mr. Bixler is a Princeton graduate and formerly lived at Forest Hills. Mrs. Bixler was formerly Dora Headden, of Jersey City. They have two young daughters, Barbara and Joan.

Miss Mary V. McDonald, formerly teacher in Public School 45, Brooklyn, has been transferred to Public School 3 and is teaching grade 7A, specializing in history, drawing and English.

Miss Agnes German has been transferred as a teacher from Public School 3 to Public School 101.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Daniels, 20 Markwood Road, announce the birth of a son, Stoddard Wilder Daniels, Feb. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Abbott, 31 Markwood Road, announce the birth of a son on Jan. 31.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Folsenbee, 46 Occident Street gave a surprise birthday party, on the evening of Feb. 8, for their brother-in-law, John D. McNutt. Twenty guests played bridge.

Mrs. Eugene Christian, 55 Bow Street, left Thursday for a two-months' stay in St. Petersburg, Florida, at the Colonial Hotel, owned by Dr. Christian, who has been there since the day after Christmas. In two months, Dr. and Mrs. Christian will motor home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mayer, Colonial Avenue, announce the birth of a son, William Charles Mayer, Jr., on Jan. 30.

Margery Hogan, Burns Street, celebrated her twelfth birthday on Feb. 9, when she entertained a number of friends.

Isabel Sarkisian, Jewell Street, entertained 60 friends on Feb. 2, at the Seminole Avenue Clubhouse, in celebration of her twelfth birthday.

Mrs. Carl C. Joys and daughter, Alice, Burns Street, are spending a month in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peelle, of Euclid Street, left last Saturday for an extended visit to Palm Beach and other points in the South.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Sarkisian, of Jewell Street, left on Friday for Pinehurst, where they expect to spend at least two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Caffey, of Seminole Avenue, sailed on Saturday for a ten days' visit to Bermuda.

Mrs. James H. Cassidy, Ascan Avenue, gave a Valentine party on Feb. 13, at her home, for Peggy Mantle and Ann Katherine Thompson. The guest list was limited to the four-year-old friends of the guests of honor.

WORK OF PUBLIC EDUCATION ASSN. EXPLAINED

Howard W. Nudd, director of the Public Education Association, spoke on the subject "Needs and Conditions of Public Schools," before the Gardens Mothers' Club, at the home of Mrs. W. F. Saybolt, 35 Greenway Terraces, Monday afternoon, Feb. 11. Mr. Nudd described the crowded conditions in New York schools, where 1,000,000 scholars are enrolled, of whom 350,000 are on part time and 500,000 are in crowded classes. The Mayor selects the School Board of seven members, and that board controls the school professionally as well as in other respects. The Public Education Association, incorporated in 1899, keeps the public informed about schools and stimulates interest. It issues a weekly bulletin and maintains an office in Albany during the sessions of the Legislature. Some of the accomplishments of the association may be listed under these headings: (1) use of schools as community centers, (2) school lunches, (3) improvement of art in schools, (4) emphasis on nature study, (5) study of health of children, (6) appointment of visiting teachers to handle problem children, (7) grading the children by mentality and potentiality. As a result of the last accomplishment, the Board of Education has established 23 experimental schools.

The organization has made such a remarkable showing that members of the Mothers' Club were urged by Mrs. Donald G. Clark, president, to join the Public Education Association and so support the good work.

RADCLIFFE ENDOWMENT BENEFIT

Mrs. Owen D. Young, Mrs. Robert Goodale, Miss Mabel Weeks, Mrs. Thurlow Gordon and Mrs. Augustin Duncan, ex-officio, comprise a committee which has arranged a most unique and interesting concert of "Folk Songs of the Danube and the Vistula," sung by Miss Patricia Macdonald in costume, for the benefit of the Radcliffe Endowment Fund, on the evening of Wednesday, March 19, at 8:15, at the Colony Club, New York City. Tickets at $2 may be obtained from Mrs. T. M. Gordon, 84 Puritan Avenue.

THE INN

The social activities for the month of February at the Forest Hills Inn began with a fashion show on Monday, Feb. 4, under the auspices of the Forest Hills Women's Club.

The Inn is booked to capacity, which has been the case for the last seven months. The waiting list for accommodations is daily increasing. The regular Saturday night formal dances are extremely popular, not only with the guests of the Inn, but also with the residents of Forest Hills Gardens, and great throngs assemble every Saturday night. A decided hit is being made by

Leonard's Quadrangle Orchestra, made up of college boys from the Columbia University. Among other entertainments at the Inn during the past months was a series of lectures, splendidly delivered by Prof. Delroy, his subject being "A Raid Upon Psychic Fakery."

The wedding reception, dinner and dance of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Muhs, of Jamaica, L. I., was held at the Inn on Tuesday, Feb. 12. Mrs. Muhs was formerly Miss Margaret Andres.

Mrs. Stuart Otto entertained a party of thirty in the sun porch of the Inn to celebrate the birthday of her daughter, Juliette, Feb. 12. Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Harn gave a delightful dinner on Saturday, Feb. 2, in the sun porch, after which the party of fourteen enjoyed the Saturday night dance. Mrs. N. F. Holch, of Forest Hills Gardens, gave a happy surprise party on Wednesday, Feb. 6, to celebrate the birthday of Mr. Holch. The evening was voted a complete success by all present. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Willson gave a charming party to fifty children of Forest Hills. The decorations of the ballroom, arranged by Mrs. Willson personally, were unusually attractive and in keeping with the Valentine season. Numerous parties are booked for the remainder of this month, also an elaborate wedding on Monday, Feb. 25, arrangements for which are being made by the bride's brother, Rev. Francis J. Karl, of Glendale, L. I.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dahman, of Forest Hills, entertained at dinner on Feb. 6, a party of eight. Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Harn have returned to the Inn after a week's sojourn at the Ambassador Hotel, Atlantic City.

The management announces the annual masquerade ball on Saturday, March 1. Costumes will be on exhibition and for rent beginning with Thursday, Feb. 28.

E. J. Schuellein gave a bachelor's farewell dinner on Tuesday, Feb. 12. The party, which was staged in the billiard room of the hotel, was a most attractive one. Mrs. Robert Runge gave a delightful mah jongg party in the sun porch of the Inn on Wednesday, February 13, followed by a very sociable tea party.

Among recent arrivals at the Inn are Miss E. Blow, of New York City, and Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Mack, who are spending their honeymoon here. E. R. Knopf, of New York City, is also registered. Mrs. W. E. Courian has joined Mr. Courian here after her recovery from a severe illness which kept her in Toronto, Canada, for some time. Mrs. R. M. Fullerton returned to the Inn after a sojourn in the South.

APPEAL FOR LIBRARY SITE

Committee Works Hard Against Odds—Local Library Station Grows in Circulation and Membership.

The 1923 circulation of the Forest Hills Library Station was 10,325 books, 7,009 being for adults and 3,316 for juveniles. The number of borrowers on Jan. 1 was 845. This is a gradual increase over preceding years, but the library committee hopes that the numbers of borrowers, and the books put in circulation will increase greatly in the present year.

For several years library committees of the different organizations have encouraged the use of the local library. In the spring of 1922 the members of the committee asked John C. Atwater, Queensborough librarian, how to proceed to secure a permanent site. As a result of his advice, the committee appealed six times to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for $25,000 for the purchase of a site, from Jan., 1923, to June, 1923. On June 29 that board ruled that the people of the locality should select a site, have it approved by the Queensborough Library Board, get the approval of the Board of Aldermen, and then ask the Board of Estimate for the appropriation of the money. This meant a complete change in procedure.

After the election in the fall of 1923, the committee secured the promise of help of James M. Murtha, alderman, and of Richard S. Newcombe, district attorney.

Two years ago the chairman of the committee asked Mr. Atwater what were the determining factors in the choice of a library site, and his reply was (1) central location, (2) unimproved property, and (3) near a main thoroughfare, but not on it. Acting upon that advice, Mrs. George Smart, chairman, presented a drawing of a plot on Continental Avenue and Dartmouth Street to a large meeting of the library committees, in the spring of 1922. There was general approval of the plot. In December, 1923, when the chairman asked the approval of the plot by the Queensborough Library Board, the Forest Hills Association executive committee objected and asked that a site on the Boulevard be chosen. During the month between Dec. 10 and Jan. 12 twelve meetings in the interest of the site were held, attended by citizens from every geographical part of the town. Three sites were proposed: (1) the Continental Avenue-Dartmouth plot, (2) the corner of Ascan Avenue and the Boulevard, and (3) a triangular plot on the Boulevard, DeKoven and Euclid Streets.

Mr. Atwater, John W. Dolan and Rev. Homans, of the Queensborough Library Board sites committee, met the Forest Hills committee on Jan. 12, personally inspected the plots proposed, were given complete data on size, cost, etc., and promised to make a selection among these sites.

The Queensborough Library Board, in session Jan. 17, passed the following resolution: "Resolved, that the buildings and sites committee be requested to prepare as they deem necessary a list of proposed library sites and buildings in Queens, with estimated cost thereof, such list to be submitted to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment."

The Forest Hills people who attended the different meetings in the interest of the site were Lawrence F. Abbott, Herbert Chase, John M. Demarest, S. W. Eckman, Mrs. F. M. Knowles, Louis P. McGahie, George M. Meyer, Rev. Albert Sheppard, Mrs. George Smart, Lyman B. Stowe and the members of the Queensborough Library Board.

RECEPTION TO MR. AND MRS. SILCOX

Mr. and Mrs. Lytle J. Hunter, 43 Greenway Terraces, will open their beautiful and hospitable home on Monday evening, March 3, when the members of the Women's Guild of the Church-in-the-Gardens will hold a reception in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Silcox, who came to Forest Hills on March 1, a year ago. This reception will also be in honor of the many new members.

JANET PERRY DIRECTS PLAY

Janet Perry, daughter of Major Clarence A. Perry and Dr. Julia W. Perry, is making a name for herself in Pittsburgh. Miss Perry is a student at Carnegie Institute of Technology, where she is specializing in the various phases of the drama. At a meeting of the Congress of Women's Clubs of Western Pennsylvania, to be held Feb. 25 at the Congress Club House, Miss Perry, it is announced by the Congress Outlet, will be the director of the play "Society Notes," which will be presented.

THE CHURCH - IN - THE - GARDENS

The Board of Trustees holds its monthly meeting on Monday night, Feb. 18, at the residence of Robert Greig, 82 Greenway Terraces.

Miss Marie Verda is to be the soloist on Sunday mornings, Feb. 17 and 24. During March and April the soloist is to be Mrs. Alexander Greene, who is also director of the Junior Choir. The musical numbers for next Sunday are as follows: Organ prelude, "An Indian Legend" (Baron); soprano solo, "Hear Ye, Israel," from Elijah (Mendelssohn); anthem, "The Lord Is My Rock" (Rogers); organ postlude, "A Song of India" (Rimsky-Korsakoff). The minister will preach as usual. Mrs. Charles H. Scammell is arranging a special musical program for the whole of Lent, including both morning and vesper services.

Mrs. Alexander Greene has returned from the South and resumed the direction of the Junior Choir. There are now 40 children in the choir. Among the soloists at the Junior Church recently have been Betty Welsh, who sang Handel's "O Lord, Correct Me," and Jane Mays, who sang West's setting of "I Think When I Read That Sweet Story of Old." The children are being taught the rudiments of music, scale and notation, etc., by the assistant director, Miss Dorothy Burton. The Church School has now an enrolment of 202 children, exclusive of the cradle roll, with an average attendance for January of 156. It is expected to begin soon a department of religious pageantry and drama in connection with the school.

At the February communion service, the following new members were received: Mrs. Donald G. Clark, Mrs. Samantha M. Neville, Miss Florence Schum, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stanion, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Beecher Stowe, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad B. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bird Wilson. It is expected that there will be another large accession of new members at the April communion.

Mrs. H. M. Jackson has accepted the presidency of the Women's Guild, and is already at work. The Guild is planning an unusual program for the year, and expects to get actively behind the movement for the Community House. At a meeting last week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Forry R. Getz, the speaker was Miss Deborah Knox, of the Union Theological Seminary.

A large number attended the first meeting of the class in church history, which is held in the social room on Wednesday evening from now until Holy Week. The course is offered by the minister, and aims to give an airplane view of "The Growth of Christianity." The class meets at 8 p. m.
