TRANSPORTATION DISCUSSED

Representatives of Transit Commission and Long Island Railroad Speak at a Meeting of Citizens

Warning the public of Forest Hills that it would not be long before the commuters would find the Long Island Railroad unable to take care of the traffic during rush hours and could not be capable of increasing at that period the number of trains, George F. Daggett, of the Transit Commission, addressing a mass meeting of Forest Hills citizens at Public School 3, stated that the Long Island Railroad was not desirous of affording rapid transit, but merely wished to operate a through line that would enable travelers to journey by that and other lines without leaving cover from Montauk Point to California. He said the Long Island Railroad could carry more passengers by running a shuttle service between the Pennsylvania Station and Jamaica, but that it would then be obliged to give up the transportation of baggage and other accommodations recognized as the true functions of a railroad. The Long Island Railroad believed and declared that it was the duty of the City of New York to provide the rapid transit facilities which the citizens needed and demanded. He recognized the desire of some of the residents of Forest Hills not to have their pretty village desecrated by subway service, but feared that they might wait too long and might ultimately find themselves at a disadvantage by reason of their anxiety to maintain the present status. The overcrowding was not yet alarming, but with the present rapid development of the village and with the railroad unable to place trains exceeding an eleven-car length in the Pennsylvania Station, it would not be long before every train in rush hours would be filled with standees.

Mr. Daggett stated that a new schedule would be put in effect May 14, and that it behooved the citizens to make every effort to see that Forest Hills lost none of its present facilities. Later information brought the hope, however, that Forest Hills might gain rather than lose by this change.

Questions addressed to Mr. Daggett showed that many citizens wanted any subway that might be built to be constructed north of Forest Hills and south of Flushing Creek. Mr. Daggett declared that the failure of population to grow along the line of the present rapid transit facilities on northern Long Island would make the city little disposed to build a line leading nowhere, through undeveloped territory.

Mr. Daggett added that the present municipal atmosphere was unfavorable for any rapid transit development, and informed his hearers that to talk of any further construction was at the present time utterly futile.

T. P. Brennan, who came in place of P. H. Woodward, general passenger agent of the Long Island Railroad, had little to add to Mr. Daggett's remarks, and contented himself mainly by making an appeal for better treatment of the railroads and a fuller, fairer realization of what they were doing for the country.

No action was taken. The meeting was called by President Herbert Chase, of the Forest Hills Association, merely to enable the residents of Forest Hills to learn the status of the transit situation.

LOCAL TALENT ON JULY 4 PROGRAM

A meeting of the Gardens Celebrations Association was held at the Forest Hills Inn on Monday evening, April 7, at which was presented an outline of the program for the coming July 4 festivities.

Among other items of interest the committee announced that the Forest Hills Post of the American Legion will again take charge of the Flag Raising exercises on the Green, in which they will be assisted by Mrs. Alexander Greene's large well-trained choir. The Olivia Park spectacle is being arranged by Walter Hartwig, with dancing by children from Forest Hills Gardens under the direction of Miss Dorothy Whyte. Music throughout the day will be furnished by the Leake and Watts band of 40 pieces.

MUSIC CHARMS

Women's Club Opposes Signboards on Highways, Amends Constitution and Chooses Nominating Committee

The Women's Club enjoyed a musical afternoon at the meeting held last Monday afternoon, at the Inn. Mrs. E. M. Guyon introduced those who gave the program. The Floriat Trio, Mary Waterman, violinist, Florence Briggs, cellist and Dorothy Fine, pianist, played with skill and appreciation a number of selections. Herman Epstein spoke on chamber music, and woman's responsibility in the musical world and urged the formation of a music club or a music chapter of the Women's Club in Forest Hills. "Chamber music," he said, "stirs us deeply but not too violently and therefore it is needed today in our homes." He thinks that musical taste in America is improving.

A letter will be sent from the club to 50 national advertisers protesting against sign boards on the highways. Mrs. Louis D. Speir, the president, spoke of the interest George Meyer has shown in the removal of sign boards from Queens Boulevard. The club went on record as favoring the state bill which aims to abolish advertising in state lands in the Adirondacks.

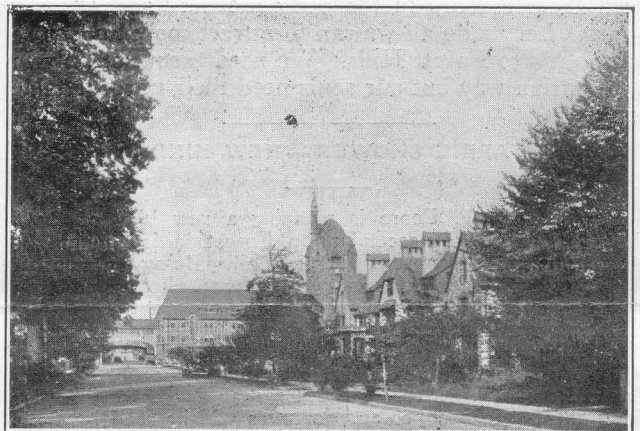

In a communication read by Mrs. John A. McFarlan for the motion picture committee, it was shown that the public is responsible for the standard of the pictures.

Mrs. Edward H. Mays reported on the revision of the constitution and by-laws and changes were made so that chairmen of chapters and standing committees are regular members of the executive board, such chairmen to be appointed by the president and ratified by the club.

Dr. Julia W. Perry and Mrs. Eugene Mackey will represent the club at a meeting to be held in Garden City, April 22, when the Women's Club of Garden City will entertain Division 2 of the State Federation.

Mrs. Speir appointed Mrs. W. P. Beazell chairman and Mrs. Charles H. Larsh and the club elected Mrs. John A. McFarlan, Mrs. John J. Sheahan and Mrs. Fred B. Humphreys to serve on a nominating committee.

New members elected are: Mrs. W. F. Baker, Mrs. Guy O'D. Bostwick, Mrs. Herbert Chase, Mrs. Hoyt B. Evans, Mrs. Alfred A. Gardner, Mrs. H. Henderson, Mrs. Sybil V. Hunter, Mrs. Louise C. Lott, Mrs. D. S. Mallory, Mrs. C. H. D. Robbins, Mrs. Raymond K. Sterling, and Mrs. E. McC. Voorhees.

SAVE THE BIRDS

THE Brooklyn Eagle, of March 24, prints the following article, showing how much has been done in Forest Hills in the past to attract the birds to the trees and shrubbery of our beautiful village:

Residents Give Aid

Many years ago Forest Hills was inhabited mainly by English sparrows and starlings, but through the efforts of the local bird club, co-operating with the National Association of Audubon Societies, large numbers of migratory song birds were quickly induced to spend the summer there with the result that this community is probably one of the best bird havens on Long Island today. The residents have taken great interest in the work. Feeding stations have been established everywhere. Trees are covered with food, the school children distribute large quantities of grain throughout the year to the residents for the feathered creatures, and bathing fountains have been located on virtually every lawn for the convenience of the birds. And the result has been most satisfactory. Species of birds which never were found in the vicinity before make their appearance now every summer. In addition to these a large number of migratory species have been induced to remain all winter at the place. Most of these live in houses that have been especially constructed for them.

It is perfectly obvious to any intelligent person that only by attracting the birds to our trees and shrubbery and our gardens is it possible to keep them free from the many pests that would destroy our growing things. The birds live on the caterpillars and other foes of plant life and when we become indifferent to these feathered friends we run the risk of losing our most valuable asset in Forest Hills. It is impossible to estimate the money value of our trees and shrubs.

Clean out our bird boxes. Put new ones on our porches and in the trees. Feed the cats red meat and keep them indoors in the early morning and evening hours. Let us do all we can to attract more and more song birds to Forest Hills. We need them not only in a utilitarian way but our souls need their unforgettable songs.

APRIL SHOWER — NEW KIND

Mrs. Charles P. Poore is planning a new kind of April shower, which will descend upon Forest Hills Inn on the afternoon and evening of April 25. Being an unusual shower, it will take place indoors, in the ballroom and sun parlor. There will be a fashion show, when 45 Forest Hills models will appear in the latest styles of garments. Mrs. Alden H. Vose is in charge of this department. Silhouettes will be made to order by the artist, Evelyn Enola Rockwell. Mrs. S. W. Eckman is responsible for this booth. Horoscopes and fortunes will be read by Belle Bart and associates, with Mrs. Louis Pedlar in charge. There will be a most attractive booth of gifts, perfumes and fancy articles. House supplies will be sold by Mrs. Gardner Osborn and Mrs. S. Ellsworth Davenport, Jr. A demonstration of home interests will be given by Mrs. W. R. Clymer. Mrs. Horace L. Willson will be responsible for mah-jong and accessories. In the sun parlor Mrs. J. Gorton Marsh will preside over refreshments. An evening program of special interest to the men will be given.

This shower will be given for the benefit of the Community House. Mrs. H. Merrill Jackson and Mrs. Poore are co-chairmen, Mrs. Otto L. Grever is treasurer, and Mrs. Beatrice D'Emo chairman of publicity.

Miss Rising entertained a bridge luncheon in the sun parlor on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Meyer entertained at a delightful dinner party in the sun parlor preceding the dance on Saturday evening. The unique table decorations consisted of a Japanese garden and spring flowers, the pool in the center containing live gold fish and the whole lighted by concealed electric lights.

FINAL DRIVE FOR COMMUNITY HOUSE FUND

The final drive for the funds to complete the much needed Community House has really begun by the work of the Women's Guild of the Church-in-the-Gardens, through whose ways and means committee many ways of raising money have been found. A committee of men composed of Gardier Osborn, chairman, J. F. McTyler and Edwin Bird Wilson will have charge of the general campaign of ways and means. A new building committee, headed by Guyon L. C. Earle, and composed of Dr. Ellsworth Davenport, Jr., S. W. Eckman, Albert Morton Gray and George H. Merrill, will supervise the completion of the building.

Mrs. Henry Hof is chairman of the Women's Guild ways and means committee, with Mrs. Robert Greig, treasurer and Mrs. James J. Finnegan, secretary. Mrs. George H. Merrill has charge of arrangements. The members of the committee are: Mrs. James H. Cassidy, Mrs. Donald G. Clark, Mrs. W. R. Clymer, Mrs. S. W. Eckman, Mrs. Otto L. Grever, Mrs. A. K. Hanks, Mrs. N. F. Holch, Mrs. H. M. Woodard. The Guild has decided to raise $15,000 as its share in the final drive. This money is to be earned by the members. All other organizations are expected to raise their share toward this final effort by following the example of the Guild.

EXHIBITION OF SILHOUETTES

Miss Else Hasselriis, the distinguished Danish artist, sister of M. and C. H. W. Hasselriis, of Forest Hills Gardens, is holding an exhibition of her rarely beautiful silhouettes at 21 West 57th Street. The exhibition opened on April 7 and will last until April 19. "In giving the silhouette life, she has discovered a new medium and created a style distinctly original," one critic says. The people of Forest Hills are cordially invited to enjoy this unusual exhibition.

DEATH OF MRS. KNOCHE

Mrs. Charles W. Knoche, of Forest Hills Gardens and Lake Ronkonkoma, died March 22 at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. J. Taylor, Park Avenue, Baldwin, Long Island. Mrs. Knoche had been in poor health for a year, and six months ago she was operated on at Brentwood Sanitarium. She was the widow of Charles W. Knoche, who met his death a short time ago in an automobile accident on Queens Boulevard. The Knoches formerly lived at 5 Cranford Street.

PLAYERS ENTER TOURNAMENT

The meeting of the Gardens Players at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hartwig on March 27 was very well attended, some 40 members being present. The president, Mrs. Hartwig, made a brief report of the plans for the Players for this year, especially for the Little Theatre Tournament May 5 to 10 at a Broadway theatre. The play is already in rehearsal with a most excellent cast. The Players are on their toes for the prize, which is $100 and the much coveted Belasco Cup. This trophy, now held by the East-West Players of Manhattan, represents the award given for the best Little Theatre work in the tournament last year in which 20 groups competed. It will be remembered that the Gardens Players won a $100 prize in last year's tournament with "The Clock."

Tickets are on sale to members of the Gardens Players exclusively until April 10, after which date the sale will be open to the public. It is urgently requested, therefore, that members of the Gardens Players put in application immediately to Miss Taylor, Secretary-Treasurer, 15 Continental Avenue, Telephone Boulevard 5916-J, from whom further information in regard to the tournament and the Gardens Players entry can be obtained. Orchestra seats $2.20 each.

After the business meeting Mr. Hartwig read the much-discussed play of Eugene O'Neill, "All God's Children Got Wings," which is scheduled for production by the Provincetown Players at the MacDougal Street Theatre. A discussion of the play by members of the Gardens Players followed the reading.

Owing to the interest taken, the Gardens Players have decided to discuss other plays of public interest as they appear either in manuscript before production or after they have been produced.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY TO GIVE BIG DANCE

The dance to be given at the Forest Hills Inn on Wednesday evening, April 23, for the benefit of Mary Immaculate Hospital, Jamaica, by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Forest Hills and Kew Gardens, promises to be an event of unusual social interest. Many committees are actively at work and many homes in the community are contributing toward the success of the event. Those in charge of arrangements are endeavoring, if possible, to credit the entire receipts of the evening to the hospital fund. The ballroom has been obtained through the courtesy of M. Lawrence Meade, manager of Forest Hills Inn, while the music for the occasion, Wilson's Orchestra, has been donated by Mrs. Francis B. Colton, Mrs. Frederic Gretsche, Mrs. William L. PARTY FOR COMMUNITY HOUSE FUND

A mah jong and bridge party was held at Forest Hills Inn on April 3 for the benefit of the fund for the construction of the Community House. The affair was attended by about 165 guests, and was under the auspices of the Women's Guild of the Church-in-the-Gardens. The ballroom was tastefully decorated with Chinese banners, parasols and lanterns, and the refreshments were served by waitresses in Chinese costume.

The use of the Inn and the interesting adornments of the rooms were generously provided through the courtesy of M. Lawrence Meade, who recently succeeded to the management of the Inn.

A pleasing feature was the gift of a box at the Casino Theatre by Carle Carlton, producer of the new musical comedy "Paradise Alley." This box was sold at auction and helped very materially in swelling the fund.

A number of dinner parties were given in the sun parlor, preceding the principal events of the evening.

A substantial sum was produced for the Community House. The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. James H. Cassidy, Mrs. Otto L. Grever, Mrs. John M. McMillin, Mrs. Alden H. Vose and Mrs. Horace L. Willson.

HOME GRILL OPENS

The Home Grill, formerly known as the Gardens Tea Room, was opened formally on Thursday evening, April 10, in the Tennis Apartments. A delicious dinner was served and dancing was enjoyed.
