GERMANY MUST PAY

France Has Suffered Terribly, But Still Makes Restoration

Member of the French High Commission Speaks at Open Meeting of the Women's Club—
Annual Meeting May 2

"How would any other nation act in similar circumstances?" is the question which you should ask yourself when you feel like judging France today," were the closing words of Vincent de Wierzbicki, member of the French High Commission to the United States, in his address before the members and friends of the Women's Club in an open meeting of the club at the Church-in-the-Gardens, Monday evening, April 25. Lieutenant Wierzbicki has spoken 500 times in 37 states of this country, before audiences varying from 50 to 14,000. During the war he was interpreter for the English at Havre, so Mrs. Lyman Beecher Stowe, chairman of the current events chapter of the club, under whose auspices the meeting was held, announced, after Mrs. Augustine J. Wilson, president of the club, had introduced her.

France Has Suffered

The speaker reviewed the treatment of France by Germany for many years before the war, beginning with 1870, when "France paid the indemnity without whining," and later gave up hope of regaining Alsace-Lorraine. He gave examples of the lack of militarism on the part of France and cited the massacres as a proof that Germany has all along been most militaristic. "France is not bellicose, but she has war-like genius, for she has resisted fifty German invasions," he said. He paid a glowing tribute to the Belgians and to the English. However, he affirmed that the victory of the Marne was a unique French victory and "it must not be forgotten that for four years France gave her soil," he said with much feeling. "That 7 per cent. of French territory invaded by the Germans had 92 per cent. of the iron and 60 per cent. of the steel of France," was another bit of information. Then he described graphically and statistically the importance of France in the exporting world in 1913, and how all that had changed, because of the war, by 1918. At the first date, England alone surpassed her in exports; at the last date seven nations exceeded her. "Germany destroyed 600,000 buildings, 97 blast furnaces, and miles of fruit trees. She destroyed men, women and children, and all in the worst possible way," he said, and then with gratitude told how the youth, resources, faith and inventive genius of America had helped to bring the armistice day. The appalling figure of 57 per cent. of the men of France between the ages of 18 and 31 lost, was given to show that France has suffered much.

France Makes Reparation

"After all this loss, France is denied everything the Allies have promised her," continued the speaker. "Germany denies defeat and she refuses to make payment. France is indeed stirred; she will put pressure upon Germany. In the meantime she makes reparation; 99½ per cent. of the railroads have been rebuilt, and 99 per cent. of the schools have been reopened; 80 per cent. of the factories are busy, and 50 per cent. of industry has been restored. France is not only busy, she has feeling as well as reason. In February, 1921, France exported more than she imported. Fighters can till the soil, officers can lead in industry. She is happy because of her friends, her victory, industry, the sanity of her people and her natural wealth. She has Americanized her industry and she has also democratized her property rights."

The church was filled with an audience that was deeply moved.

The annual meeting of the Women's Club will be held on the afternoon of May 2, at the Inn, beginning at 2 o'clock.

The current readings chapter will meet at the home of Mrs. William E. Woodard, Greenway Terraces, on Tuesday afternoon, May 3.

TEA FOR SUPERINTENDENT MANDEL

Flag Made Under the Direction of Mrs. Nelcamp Presented to the New School Building.

Mothers of the children of public school 3 met to present to the school the beautiful United States silk flag made by the members of the Mothers' Club, under the direction of Mrs. Charles B. Nelcamp. Mrs. Nelcamp made an extremely able presentation address to the school assembled and the children sang national songs and saluted the newly made flag. Mrs. Mary Hoppe, the principal, accepted on behalf of the school the patriotic and appropriate gift of the Mothers' Club. This ceremony took place on last Monday afternoon, April 25, in the assembly room of the new building on Colonial Avenue.

Edward Mandel, the new district superintendent of the schools, spoke on the present condition of the finances of the Board of Education. The meeting was arranged as a welcome to Mr. Mandel in his new office, for his home has long been in Forest Hills.

The Mothers' Club made a gift to Mrs. Belle Saunders, one of the teachers, recently married. Tea was served in the domestic science room. Mrs. Charles Pope Caldwell presided and was assisted by Mrs. A. E. Kretschmer and Mrs. James M. Saulpaugh, Jr.

HOME OF W. P. BEAZELL.

A Dutch Colonial house, the home of W. P. Beazell on Greenway South, on a small knoll surrounded by interesting old apple trees, has all the characteristics of a country house. The house is of strucco and shingle tile. The architect was Aymar Embury.

TEA FOR MOTHERS OF THE GARDENS

The Mothers' Club of Forest Hills Gardens will hold a tea on the afternoon of May 9 at 3:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Lawrence F. Abbott, 194 Greenway South. The newly elected officers will be the hostesses. All mothers of the Gardens are invited to come and those who expect to accept this invitation are urged to reply to Mrs. Abbott.

The object of the tea is not only to introduce the mothers to the mothers of their children's friends, but also to find out what summer activities are desired for the children. Mrs. Donald G. Clark will be the volunteer teacher for some of the summer classes and others will lead the children in various activities which the mothers desire. Mrs. Clark is a trained and experienced as well as a progressive leader in children's work, and the club is fortunate in securing her services. Clay modelling, drawing, choral singing, story hours, circulating library, social dances and carpentry for boys are some of the suggestions that have been made. It is hoped that all will come ready to express their desires as to the wise and feasible summer plans.

A BOWER OF BEAUTY

EVERY kind of shrub which will thrive in this locality is growing in the Gardens; in fact there are seventy five varieties here. There are also forty kinds of vines. Olmsted Brothers, Brookline, Massachusetts, spent two years in planning this important work and for ten years the planting has been done according to this firm's plans. The result is a flowery bit of fairyland from early spring until late fall. From the first flaming yellow forsythia blossom down through the last red berries that cling in the fall, the shrubbery is a delight to the eye.

All over the village now the red and white dogwood trees are blooming gloriously. The azaleas give beauty and color to the landscape with their brilliant red and magenta blossoms; soon the white and yellow azaleas will bloom. The Japan quinces, with bright red blossoms and abundant, beautiful leaves are attractive. The old-fashioned flowering almond shrubs, with delicate pink blossoms are doing their share to make the scene one of great charm.

To know these shrubs intimately so as to be able to call each by name and to understand the characteristics enlarges one's life. To care for the shrubs in one's own yard, pruning them in the fall and fertilizing them in the spring, helps to add to the beauty of the whole. To guard the bushes in the parkways and in the parks from those who would break them, in order to take away the blossoms, is the duty of every one of us. Some people who live here were seen the other day on Groton Street with long branches of blooming shrubbery, which had been ruthlessly broken off. This habit removes the branches from public and private enjoyment and also takes away several years' growth and spoils the symmetry of the bushes. How can any one do such destructive and thoughtless pilfering?

BENEFIT FOR DEVASTATED FRANCE

Forest Hills children have a treat in store for them in the presentation of Eskay Harris' $50,000 six-reel production of "Alice in Wonderland," at the Garden Theater in Richmond Hill, on Saturday morning, May 14, for the benefit of the American Committee for Devastated France. The children will have the two-fold pleasure of the picture, which brings Alice, the Queen, the Mad Hatter, and all the other good friends fascinatingly to life, and of knowing that the money for their tickets goes to help the children of France. The picture, which has been shown a number of times in New York, is presented by a company of mid-gets, with a cast of over 100 in more than 150 scenes. Miss Anne Morgan and her co-workers are fostering this presentation. Watch for the posters giving the exact hour and price. Mothers of Forest Hills children may communicate with Mrs. Ralph E. Renaud, who is willing to make arrangements for conveying the children over to Richmond Hill for the performance.

WHY NOT HELP?

The Audubon Society sent out its subscription bills on April 15. To date less than a fourth of those to whom they were sent have responded. The bills went to 375 persons, so that even if every one answered there would not be much for the treasury. As it is, the society will have to curtail its activities for the coming year and we had hoped to do a lot between now and next June, 1922. A subscription is more than a dollar. It stands for interest, an observing eye for all the vivid bird life about us, a wish to see birds in the blossoming trees and hovering over gardens and singing cheery songs in the morning and dreamy, sleepy songs at twilight. It means to really care for the beautiful natural things that are ours for the asking, the working for, the encouraging by such means as our Audubon Society, for instance. The payment of $25 secures a life membership.

Mary E. Knevels, Secretary.

Mrs. Sage Will Speak Before School Children.

Through the courtesy of the Bird Club of Long Island, an organization composed of people in Oyster Bay and organized in 1915 by ex-President Roosevelt, Mrs. Mary S. Sage will speak to the children of the different grades of the public schools of Forest Hills on the subject of "Our Feathered Friends," on Thursday, May 5. She will go from room to room telling her story to suit the different ages and using pictures as illustrations. Mrs. Sage spends her time talking to the children of Long Island, outside of Queens, on this subject. This treat for the children of Forest Hills has been arranged by the Forest Hills Gardens Audubon Society, whose officers are co-operating with the Bird Club of Long Island in bird conservation matters.

MEN'S CLUB ELECTION

New Officers Chosen—Mr. Stowe on Self-Government—Next Meeting Ladies' Night.

At the meeting of the Men's Club, Monday evening, April 18, at the home of Lyman Beecher Stowe, officers for the year beginning next October were elected as follows: president, S. E. Davenport, Jr.; vice-president, Lyman Beecher Stowe; treasurer, Thurlow Gordon; secretary, R. W. Knight.

Owing to the inability of Kermit Roosevelt to accept the invitation to address the club, on account of making a trip to Spain, Mr. Stowe acted as substitute, speaking on "Self-Government" in a very entertaining manner. Mr. Stowe described the operations of the George Junior Republic at Freeville, N. Y., where girls and boys from 16 to 21 live, work and govern themselves,—their motto being, "No Work, No Food." The Republic was established by William R. George in 1895, and, under his guidance and that of trustees, has continued successfully, although it has had its troubles, the principal one of which was known as the Revolution of 1911. At that time, highly incompetent officers were installed and it became necessary to arrest and put in jail nearly all of them. After their incarceration, competent officials were installed. Shortly after the "revolution," Ex-President Roosevelt visited the Republic, was told about what had happened and exclaimed: "Bully! That's the way I did in Panama."

Mr. Stowe told a number of humorous stories, indicating how boys and girls, even when they have little schooling, are able to deal justly with each other and get at the root of troubles which need adjustment. He told of the introduction of self government plans in a Brooklyn school, the Filene dry goods store in Boston and Sing Sing prison, and said that the movement for the establishment of junior municipalities is now well under way. This later form of self-government by young people is to be tried at Glen Ridge and in several of the Oranges in New Jersey.

"I do not know," said Mr. Stowe, "whether democracy has succeeded or not, but I do know that it has not been given a fair trial."

The Men's Club announces that May 16 will be "Ladies' Night," and the meeting will take place at the Inn. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rogers will give groups of songs and recitations which they gave during the war to the United States soldiers in France.

COMMITTEES ACTIVE

High Cost of Living, Mosquitoes and Other Matters Receive Attention of Community Council.

The Community Council this month did not hold its regular open meeting on account of an accumulation of committee work which it seemed necessary to transact. The governing and advisory boards and committee chairmen, therefore, met at the home of the president, George Smart, 45 Deepdene Road, on the regular Council night, April 15.

Memorial Day.

Mrs. Sterling Birmingham, member of the American and French Children's League, presented the matter of the sale of official "Poppies of Flanders" for Memorial Day decoration. These poppies are being made by the soldier-orphan children of these two countries and the fund from their sale is to be used exclusively for these orphan children. The league has a plan which is being expanded by Mrs. Gordon C. Pearce, of 11 Dartmouth Street, Forest Hills, of taking moving pictures of a large group of Forest Hills children dressed in costume, the pictures to be used for publicity for the League throughout the United States. These poppies can be ordered through the American and French Children's League, 234 Central Park West, checks made payable to Mrs. McAllister Smith, state chairman.

High Prices

The subject of the cost of foodstuffs was again under discussion. The chairman of the committee appointed at the last Council meeting to investigate the prices in this village as compared with prices in near-by towns and in New York, reported that prices just outside of Forest Hills were remarkably less than in our own stores which give delivery; that these cheaper stores are accessible to the residents of Forest Hills by telephone; that they make several deliveries a day here, and are found to be entirely satisfactory. One matron who is trying one of these nearby groceries reported that she had that month given two dinner parties without strain to the family budget because of the saving on food as compared with the usual price paid for the same article in Forest Hills. The chairman also reported that he found upon investigation that 75 per cent. of the people of Forest Hills are not interested enough in economizing to question Forest Hills prices, and that the 25 per cent. who are interested have already solved their budget problem by hunting out these cheaper stores.

Mosquitoes

Mosquitoes were the subject of a general discussion. It was the consensus of opinion that an expert should be employed to hunt out and oil all possible breeding places. The anti-mosquito committee has promised to find this expert and will call on the residents to subscribe to a fund for his expenses. Any one who spent the summer here last year will be willing and anxious to donate to this cause. S. W. Eckman is chairman.

Complaint was made of the tradesmen who do not observe the entrance and exit signs in the service lanes, and who do not check up their horses when entering these lanes. The hedges are being badly mutilated by this neglect on the part of the delivery men and a committee was appointed to speak to offenders and to warn them of more strenuous action if this rule is not observed in the future.

The next regular Council meeting will be on May 20, when the members will hear the district representatives in the Legislature tell of their activities during the last session.

DEATH OF WILLIAM J. MORIARITY

Early on the morning of April 22, at his home, 135 Ivy Street, Elmhurst, William J. Moriarity, Postmaster of Forest Hills, died. For a number of weeks he had been in failing health, but put up a brave fight and spent as much time at work as his strength would permit. The funeral was held on Monday morning, April 25, at St. Bartholomew's Church in Elmhurst. Mr. Moriarity was 40 years old, was born in Flushing and had lived many years in Elmhurst. He is survived by his wife, a step-son and a step-daughter, of Elmhurst, and his father and mother, of Flushing. He had been the Postmaster of Forest Hills since the establishment of the office here, six or seven years ago.

THE INN

Miss Mary Shaw, the noted actress, was a guest of the Gardens Players, who held a dinner in her honor at the Inn on Wednesday, April 13. Miss Maude Marren was hostess and Miss Shaw was delighted with Forest Hills. It is hoped that she will again visit us very shortly.

Mrs. Hershon, of the Gardens, had a very delightful bridge party last week, when she entertained twelve of her friends in the blue room, after which afternoon tea was served in the sun parlor.

We are very pleased to see that so many of the residents of the Gardens are making use of the Inn for their afternoon entertainments and any parties entrusted to our care will always receive the same courtesy and attention as we give to our home guests.

Other ladies who have also had bridge parties during the last two weeks are Mrs. Edward Packard of the Gardens Apartments; Mrs. Mackey of Brooklyn, who was formerly a resident of Kew Gardens, and at which many of the Kew Gardens folks were present.

The Flushing Country Club held its first formal dance at the Inn on Thursday evening last, the object being to make the various members from Flushing and Forest Hills acquainted. About two hundred guests were present and a most enjoyable dance was given, after which supper was served in the dining room, the garden off the sun parlor being decorated for the occasion with colored lights and the guests walking to the dining room through that entrance.

Mr. Folger of the Pennsylvania Hotel again gave a dinner party at the Inn on Saturday evening last, when he had a table for ten guests.

Through the courtesy of O. C. Harn of the Gardens Apartments, a very interesting moving picture was given a week ago last Monday along educational lines, including a good comedy.

On Wednesday evening last a special performance was held at the Inn, to which we had a large attendance and which was most enthusiastically received.

The usual bridge party was held on Wednesday evening, April 20, and the next and last for the season will be held on Wednesday evening, May 4. The attendance was large and the entire evening was very greatly enjoyed by everyone, the prizes being carried off by the guests of the Inn and one guest of the Gardens. These affairs are gratuitous and make a very enjoyable way to pass the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Beatie returned quite unexpectedly last week from Paris and have again taken up their residence at the Inn, where they were most heartily welcomed by both the guests and management.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl MacFadden and their small son and governess recently arrived at the Inn, after Mrs. MacFadden's return from Florida, and will remain until May 1, when they are taking the Martin house on Continental Avenue for the summer to await the completion of their new home on Greenway North.

Miss Sally Pierce of the Inn has been spending her vacation at Atlantic City, Miss Martha Williams and Mrs. J. L. Owens joining her there for this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Adair, who were guests of the Inn all last summer, have just returned from Miami, Florida, and it is hoped that they will remain this coming season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Inman, of Atlanta, are stopping at the Inn while paying a visit to their niece, Mrs. Stanley, of the Tennis Place Apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Thomson, of New York, are among the recent permanent arrivals.

Mrs. Eleanor Mead has just returned from her South American cruise and was heartily welcomed by her many friends here.

Among the recent arrivals are: Dr. C. Pritchett, of Danville, Va., who is visiting David Graham of the Inn; Mrs. A. M. Daniels, Mrs. J. M. Murray and Mrs. W. H. H. Austin, of New York. Miss K. Kuhne, of Pittsburgh, Pa., has been a guest of Miss Daisy Wright for several days, as was J. S. Young, of Cambridge, Mass.

Mrs. J. F. Lloyd, with her little daughter Jane, have recently arrived and intend spending the remainder of the summer at the Inn. Mrs. Lloyd is a friend of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hitchcock, of the Inn.

THE CHURCH-IN-THE-GARDENS

This church, though identified with the Congregational denomination, is in reality a union or community church. Some eight or nine denominations are numbered in its membership, including Baptist, Episcopalian, Congregational, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian, Reformed, etc. The fellowship is excellent. Anyone in the community desiring a church home will find it in The Church-in-the-Gardens.

All organizations for boys in New York are cooperating in Boys' Week, May 1-8 under the leadership of the Rotary Club. In recognition of Boys' Week, Dr. Latshaw will speak on "That Boy" on Sunday morning, May 1.

Sunday, May 8 will be Mothers' Day. The Pastor's sermon will be on "Our Mothers."

Fred Stone's hobby is hunting wild animals with the moving picture camera.

The Pastor has invited Mr. Stone to show some of these pictures in the social room of the church on Sunday afternoon, May 8 at 5 o'clock. Mr. Stone and the church are cooperating on this occasion as part of their contribution to our community life and in the interest of the education and wholesome recreation of the children and adults of Forest Hills.

The Women's Guild is to be congratulated upon securing the services of Mrs. Egbert Hayes of China to deliver a series of five lectures on China's art, history, life and political situation. Her first lecture on "Chinese Art" at the home of Mrs. Elliott on Winter Street last Tuesday evening was the best of its kind ever delivered in Forest Hills Gardens. An audience of 50 of the friends was present to hear Mrs. Hayes. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present next Tuesday evening at 8:30.

J. F. McT.

ST. LUKE'S

Gifts of flowers for the Altar are desired for the first, third, fourth and fifth Sundays in May. Tomorrow is the first Sunday and any who will give flowers may make arrangements by telephoning Mrs. Jessup or Mrs. Knight of the Altar Guild. Boulevard 6112-J or 6269-J.

The Woman's Guild in the rummage sale held Monday and Tuesday of the past week cleared six hundred dollars for the building fund. This is the largest amount thus far realized in this way, and Mrs. Drake with those working with her on the committee, as well as those who, by their gifts, made the sale possible, are to be congratulated on its success.

On Friday, May 6, Mrs. Drake will entertain the members of the Woman's Guild at tea at her home on Greenway South, meeting at 3 P. M. A special invitation is extended to new members to attend.

The new two-manual pedal base organ is now in position in the church and will be dedicated at a special musical service soon to be held.

E. M. B.

"POMANDER WALK"

The Gardens Players Production Praised in Current Magazine

The April number of the Ladies' Home Journal has an article written by Henry MacMahon and illustrated by F. Sands Brunner, describing "Open Air Theatres", in which the Gardens Players receive a pretty and well deserved compliment. The narrative reads: "Last fall the Gardens Players of Forest Hills, Long Island, discovered outdoor staging to be quite superfluous for open air performances of 'Pomander Walk'.

"The suburb's planner had built a block of six or eight houses, each with a garden plot and set in a half circle, so that for all the world it looked like a replica of the absurd little corner of London where Louis N. Parker laid the action of his story.

"Walter Hartwig, president of the Players, had ten feet of imitation sea wall constructed for the Old Fisherman to angle from; Director Bertha Mandell rehearsed the children and grownups in their own gardens and door-ways; the open side of the circle was closed by a roughly put up grand stand; then, presto!—Pomander Walk, out Chiswick way, half way to Fairyland, sprang into reality with Toastmaster Brooke-Hoskyn (F. E. Smith) gossiping and bullying from his second-floor front, lovers dallying on the lawn or mooning in the gazebo, the revengeful Eyesore flinging Widow Poskett's (Jewel St. Leger Aldrich) cat into the river, and gallant, one eyed Admiral Antrobus (Edward H. Moir) rescuing the lady from hysterics and widowhood.

"The well acted play gave a better illusion of reality than when performed at Wallack's by an all-star cast a decade ago, and it must be said that the 'setting' behaved very nicely. Not once during two long evenings did the six little houses play out of character; dogs and kiddies refrained from disturbing the 'atmosphere'; even the lordly commuter effaced himself for the nonce by slinking into the cellar or back kitchen rather than destroy the illusion of 1805 by the cut and vintage of 1920."
