TO-NIGHT'S THE NIGHT

Christmas Eve Fantasy to Be Presented in Station Square, Choral Club Will Sing.

Everything is in readiness for the Christmas Eve celebration in the Square tonight at 7 o'clock. The unusual and original Christmas fantasy, which the Celebrations Association has arranged for the pleasure of the families of the community, will take place as announced in the last BULLETIN. The 35-foot community tree, standing in the bowl of the fountain, decorated with myriads of lights, will attract attention not only to-night, but every night for a week. The improvised living room on the lower platform of the station—chimney, fireplace, two little children enjoying their gifts—will all be a part of the picture.

While the children are asleep and dreaming, the Teddy Bears, Tin Soldiers and Dolls all come to life and dance. With the appearance of Santa Claus, emerging from the chimney, the scene of activity is shifted to the community tree, where Santa and his helpers will distribute simple gifts to all the children of the Gardens.

Then follows the musical program:

"EAGER HEART"

Establishing a Christmas custom, the Gardens Players will repeat their performance of "Eager Heart" in the Church-in-the-Gardens in the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, Dec. 28. The admission charge for this performance has been fixed at 50 cents for adults as well as children, so that everyone may have the opportunity of enjoying this charming Christmas play. The memory of last year's performance is still vivid in the minds of many Forest Hills residents. The performance this year will be more elaborate than was last year's, as a musical score written for the play has been added to the production.

THE SCENE OF THE CHRISTMAS FANTASY.

SCHOOL SITE IN GARDENS APPROVED.

On Dec. 17 the Board of Estimate approved the purchase of the present site of public school 101 in Forest Hills Gardens. The block, bounded by Russell Place, Standish Road and Children's Lane, includes the present temporary school building, the school gardens, the basketball field and the playgrounds, and contains 77,334 square feet. Through the generosity of the directors of the Sage Foundation Homes Company the property was sold to the city at the nominal price of $28,500. When it is realized that this property has a market value of about one dollar per square foot, or $77,000 for the entire block, one realizes the magnitude of the contribution made by the Homes Company.

The Gardens School Committee of the Community Council of Forest Hills has worked two years to accomplish the acquisition of this site for a public school. A petition to the directors of the Sage Foundation Homes Company and to the Board of Education, two years ago, signed by 300 residents, was an important step in bringing the desired result. Last April the directors of the Homes Company granted the committee a six months' option on the property for the Board of Education. This option expired the first of last October, but John M. Demarest, on behalf of the Homes Company, extended this option until the end of December for action by the Board of Education and the Board of Estimate. The action of the former was taken on Nov. 2, and the latter on Dec. 17.

The committee desires to thank the Homes Company, as may also the whole community, interested as it is in the democratic schooling of all the children in the Gardens. The committee also thanks Ambrose O'Connell for his personal introduction of the chairman to Comptroller Craig, as this interview helped very much in coming to the happy solution. Indebtedness is also acknowledged to William J. Dempsey for arranging an interview for twenty-five mothers with Maurice Connelly, President of the Borough of Queens. Gratitude is also hereby expressed to Mr. Connelly for his personal interest; both he and Mr. Craig have been extremely kind and helpful. Sincere appreciation is expressed to George J. Ryan and to Dr. Shallow of the Board of Education for their interest, assistance and co-operation.

The community may also be grateful to the members of the committee for laboring so long on the proposition, but since the public school will benefit their children and will improve their property, their work and interest may partly be repaid by the success of the long struggle.

CHRISTMAS MEDITATIONS.

THIS is the day before Christmas! The world is full of mysteries; people are weighted down with secrets; packages of various shapes and sizes are hidden away in many unsuspected places. "Jest before Christmas I'm as good as I can be," are the words of Riley to express the almost perfect deportment of the small boys in our homes. It might just as well be said of some of us adults, who are more cheerful and courteous than usual. Cheer and courtesy are as contagious as measles and so that subtle, indefinable something, which we call the Christmas spirit, has come again and will linger with us, we trust, for many a day.

Tonight we join our neighbors in the Square. We too believe in Santa Claus and we want to meet him again as he distributes his simple gifts, near the community tree, to all the children of the town—we want to share in their faith in the good old Saint Nick. All of the families of the village will meet around a common Yule Log, to see the children in their pantomime play and to hear the hundred voices sing the old, old Carols, rich in historical and local memory, recalling that chorus of long ago which sang to the shepherds.

Tomorrow is Christmas! Dr. Van Dyke says: "It is a good thing to observe Christmas day. The mere marking of times and seasons, when men agree to stop work and make merry together, is a wise and wholesome custom. It helps one to feel the supremacy of the common life over the individual life. It reminds a man to set his own little watch, now and then, by the great clock of humanity which runs on sun-time." From its origin the day should be simple and sacred. Tomorrow is Sunday and a part of the day will be spent in church, where songs and message, rich in tradition and sacred in memory, will help to lift us out of petty thinking and selfish living.

The custom of exchanging gifts on a certain day is much older than Christmas and means much less; for Christmas is a gift day, not with commercial or material value emphasized, but where thoughtfulness and love are stressed. Something of one's love and personality must go with every gift no matter to whom it is sent. Of the wise men's gifts,

*"We are not told whose gift was gold
Or whose was the gift of myrrh."*

The Carols in the Square, the visit of Santa Claus, the mistletoe, holly and gifts in our homes—all these are the outward, visible signs of an inward grace and peace; symbols of the most precious memories and fondest hopes. May this Christmas spirit extend throughout the world. In the immortal words of Tiny Tim: "God bless us every one!"

A DISTINCT TRIUMPH

Forest Hills Choral Club Gives the Initial Program—Two Assisting Artists.

The recently organized Forest Hills Choral Club of 75 voices gave its first program on Friday evening, Dec. 9, in the Masonic Temple, before a capacity house. The audience gladly showed its appreciation of the entertainment, which was a decided triumph, not only for the officers and members of the club, but also for Bruno Huhn, the conductor. The members of the club praise the conductor and he replies: "The whole credit for the wonderful success of the concert is due to the individual members of the club and the way they have worked."

The program showed variety in selection, thereby pleasing different tastes. "The Song of Autolycus," from Shakespeare's "Winter's Tale," by Lee Williams was attractively done and was repeated as an encore. "Sleeping," by Edward German was appealingly sung. "Land Sighting," by Edward Grieg was charmingly rendered, and "Ole Uncle Moon,"—a catchy song in negro dialect—pleased the audience so much that it will be given again Christmas Eve. A good looking club, a well balanced program, intelligently rendered under a skilled leader, a generous number of encores and an appreciative audience, describes the initial appearance of the club. Much credit belongs to Mrs. Charles H. Scammell, organizer and president.

Anna Welch, harpist, assisting artist, gave four delightful numbers. The "Arabesque" by Debussy and the "Prelude from 'Lucia,'" were rendered by her with skill. Denton Bastow, tenor, with a splendid, well trained voice, under perfect control, added much to the program. He responded to encores generously and won the greatest applause when he sang "On the Road to Mandalay," by Oley Speaks, which Oley Speaks himself, does not sing any better.

A very successful dance followed the program.

THE OBSERVER.

KEW-FOREST SCHOOL NOTES

During the past term, athletic activities have aroused more enthusiasm than ever before among the pupils of Kew-Forest. A school soccer team, developed under Mr. Fear's coaching, played a schedule of games with outside teams, with results as follows:

Oct. 27—Kew-Forest 0—Richmond Hill H. S. 3rd year, 5.
Nov. 8—Kew-Forest 2—Carlisle A. C. 1.
Nov. 11—Kew-Forest 3—Hawthorn A. C. 1.
Nov. 15—Kew-Forest 1—Richmond Hill H. S. 2nd year, 2.
Dec. 3—Kew-Forest 3—Hawthorn A. C. 1.

The Miller cup soccer series also furnished plenty of excitement during the term. Seven games were played, the Cubs (Captain J. Montague), winning the series.

On Wednesday, Dec. 21, the school closed for the holidays. The various classes celebrated the occasion in appropriate fashion, and on the last afternoon of the term a very pleasing program was given by the school, consisting mainly of a play presented by members of the High school and eighth grade, and an operetta by pupils of grades 5, 6 and 7. The program concluded with the singing of Christmas carols by the whole school. Refreshments followed, after which the pupils of the High School and eighth grade went over to the High School Building for an hour of dancing.

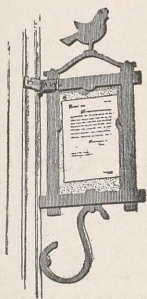

School re-opens Wednesday, January 4.

RUSSIAN AUTHOR TO SPEAK

Dr. Gregory Zilboorg, Russian author and dramatist, member of the Kerensky Government and a member of the reception committee for the Elihu Root Commission, will be the speaker at the January meeting of the Women's Club at the Inn, on the afternoon of the third. The regular day is Monday, the second, but owing to the holiday the meeting has been arranged for the following afternoon.

The current readings chapter will meet on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 10, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Silas B. Brownell, Tennis Place Apartments, when Mrs. Robert C. Adams will review "If Winter Comes," by A. S. M. Hutchinson.

The ways and means committee of the club, Mrs. Walter S. Mayer, chairman, announces a card party, to be given on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 18, at the home of Mrs. Henry Hirschberg. The tables will be $5.00 each—single tickets $1.25—and this sum includes prizes and refreshments.

"EVERY BIRD A FRIEND"

Through the courtesy of the Long Island Bird Club, Mrs. Mary S. Sage spoke before 521 school children of Forest Hills on Dec. 13. The children marched into the new auditorium of public school 3 and were delighted with the pictures shown and the bird stories told by Mrs. Sage. Mrs. Mary Hoppe, the principal, arranged it so that the children were in the room in three groups, according to years, and that made it possible for Mrs. Sage to grade her talk according to the understanding of the hearers. They came, these little students of bird lore, from all the rooms in public school 3, from the little portable building next to it and from public school 101. The colored slides shown by Mrs. Sage had been made from photographs of bird life and she dwelt particularly upon the birds which stay here in the winter. She offered one dollar for a good bird photograph sent to her by a child of Forest Hills. She asked the children to always remember that "every bird is a friend and every bird has a work to do."

This lecture is a part of the educational program of the Forest Hills Gardens Audubon Society and such a lecture is given twice a year, free, to the school children of Forest Hills. The Long Island Bird Club, founded in 1915 by Theodore Roosevelt, employs Mrs. Sage to go all over Long Island, outside of Queens, and tell her bird stories to school children. The local Audubon Society is in touch with the Long Island Bird Club in general bird conservation on the island and is grateful to the club for the gift of Mrs. Sage two days in the year.

PERTINENT PROBLEMS STUDIED BY MOTHERS.

"Inculcating Honesty in Children." will be the subject of a talk to be given by Miss Mary Haviland at the home of Mrs. Lyman Beecher Stowe, Greenway South and Union Turnpike, at the meeting of the Forest Hills Gardens Mothers' Club, on Monday afternoon, Jan. 9, at 3 o'clock.

In spite of the inclement weather, a number of enthusiastic mothers met each other and the teachers and principal of public school 101, at the hospitable home of Mrs. George H. Merrill, Arkwood Road, on the afternoon of Dec. 13. The Doubleday, Page & Company Book Shop of Lord & Taylor loaned Miss Ennis for the afternoon, so that she could talk to the mothers about the books which are selling this winter. She recommended fairy tales for children in their recreational hours. "Fairy tales," she said, "point out the value of industry, perseverance and ingenuity."

Mrs. Edmund O'Shea was elected recording secretary, in place of Mrs. William E. Woodard, resigned. In the place of Mrs. A. E. Coburn, resigned, Mrs. Ambrose O'Connell was elected corresponding secretary.

CHURCH-IN-THE-GARDENS

A very special invitation is extended to friends in Forest Hills to worship with us on Christmas morning at 11 o'clock. Dr. Latshaw will preach and Mrs. Scammell, chairman of the music committee, and Mr. Hall the organist, are arranging for special Christmas music.

The Sunday School will give its Christmas program Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. A pantomime play entitled, "Why the Chimes Rang," will be presented. The entire point of the exercises will be that of a giving Christmas. There will be an illuminated Christmas tree, around which will be spread the gifts of books, toys and money given by the children and friends of our Sunday School to the Children's Aid Society of Brooklyn. It is suggested by the committee that each gift be nicely wrapped in Christmas style and the package marked as to its contents, together with the suggested age of the child for whom it is intended.

Recently the Sunday School sent a gift of $50 to the children of Armenia.

The Christian Endeavor Society had a very successful Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Millar, 14 Olive Place, last Thursday evening. The admission to the party was a contribution by each one in attendance of some food product for a Christmas basket to be given to a needy family. There will be no meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society on Christmas evening, the next meeting being on New Year's night at 7:45 in the social room. The meeting will be conducted by the members of the society home from school under the leadership of Miss Helen E. Smart. There will be associated with her Misses Ora Freeman, Margaret Latshaw, Florence Longcope and Janet Perry, and Messrs Forster Willson, Edward Vanderminden, Edgar Snow and Marvin Latshaw.

SECOND HALF YEAR BEGINS

The Forest Hills Choral Club is so firmly established in the life of the community that there is no question of its permanency, its place and its service. The regular dues for active membership, including music, training and two tickets for each concert, are $10 a year. There are so many seeking admission into the club since the concert on Dec. 9, that it has been decided to welcome members for the rest of the year at half price, or $5.00.

The rehearsals of the second term will begin on the evening of Jan. 5, in the social room of the Church-in-the-Gardens. After the rehearsal there will be a social hour, of which Mrs. J. Gorton Marsh is chairman.

BANK FOR FOREST HILLS

The Corn Exchange Bank has leased an office on the southwest corner of Continental Avenue and Austin Street, and as soon as the necessary repairs can be made, will open a branch there. This announcement has been sent to the Community Council.

Victory For Community Councils

Residents of Forest Hills who have been annoyed by the odor of burning garbage in the Corona Meadows, will be interested to hear the result of the fight which the Community Councils of Forest Hills, Elmhurst, Corona and Ridgewood have made against the nuisance.

Application was made on Dec. 20 before the Bureau of Finance and Budget for a renewal of the dumping contract by the Brooklyn Ash Removal Co. for "one, two, three or five years." The bureau would not consider absolute refusal of contract. Queens is too convenient to Brooklyn and the trash must be disposed of, they contend, without the expense of a long haul. Borough President Connolly, therefore, made a plea for a short term contract with the proviso that the Street Cleaning Department of the city of New York be held responsible for the condition of the dump.

Heretofore it has been impossible to hold any one responsible except the Brooklyn Ash Removal Co. which was more or less within its rights because of operating upon its own private property. The matter was passed with that proviso, and the councils interested feel hopeful that under the new contract the condition will be improved.

The situation as to water rates is virtually the same as it was a month ago, since final court decision has not been rendered.

MRS. H. P. GREEN,
Secretary of the Community Council.
