TO COMPLETE COMMUNITY HOUSE

Committees Are Being Reorganized to Finish Much-Needed Building.

A new start is to be made toward the completion of the Community House and as a step in that direction the various committees connected with the movement are being reorganized. The plan for the organization of committees as adopted in 1921 by the Church-in-the-Gardens contains the following paragraph:

"In order that the proposed Community House shall in the broadest way serve as an institution for the character-building of our children and the religious, educational, charitable, patriotic, and other proper activities of the people of Forest Hills as a whole, the Trustees of the Church are authorized to appoint at once a temporary advisory committee consisting of representatives of the various organizations and the community, to act in an advisory capacity to the building committee in regard to the plans and construction of the Community House; to the ways and means committee in regard to the raising of funds for the building of the Community House; and to the Trustees of the Church in working out a plan for the management of the Community House and the preparation of a tentative program of activities and means of financing the house and the activities when it is ready for use."

The personnel of the committee was organized early in 1921 on the above basis, but, owing to various changes in organization which have taken place since that time and to the expiration of terms of members appointed, it has become necessary to reorganize the committee, and the Trustees of the Church-in-the-Gardens have requested each of the following non-religious organizations in the community to nominate a member of the advisory committee: The Gardens Corporation, the Men's Club, the Women's Club, the Gardens Players, the Gardens Mothers' Club, American Legion, and Forest Hills Association, and also each of the other churches in the community: Episcopal, Presbyterian, and the Christian Science Church. Three members are to be selected as representing the community at large by the other members of the committee. The building committee and the committee on ways and means are also being reorganized and it is expected that at an early date definite plans for completing the building will be presented to the community.

RUGS AND RELIGION

The Women's Guild of the Church-in-the-Gardens is most fortunate in having for the next meeting, March 14, A. U. Dilley, the recognized rug authority in America, who will speak on "Rug Weaving in Relation to Religion, or the Interpretation of Rugs." His talk will be profusely illustrated with especially hand-painted lantern slides of extraordinary beauty. Mr. Dilley was chosen to speak on the famous Ballard collection of rugs recently added to the Metropolitan Museum of Art. He has lectured at the museums of art in the large cities and before many colleges and clubs.

The Guild urges all members to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Mr. Dilley; and friends are invited to enjoy this privilege with the members.

MAKING PLANS FOR JULY FOURTH

The Executive Board of the Gardens Celebrations Association is able to report substantial progress toward the July Fourth celebration. A very satisfactory arrangement has been concluded for directing the activities at Olivia Park, and an affirmative response has been received to a request for the services of an enthusiastic boys' band of 40 pieces.

During the call of a committee at the Forest Hills Inn last week, M. Lawrence Meade, the new manager, expressed his great appreciation of the festivities held Christmas Eve and July Fourth in the Station Square and promised the committee his cordial co-operation. Other committees have their plans well formulated and expect to make some interesting reports in the next issue of the BULLETIN.

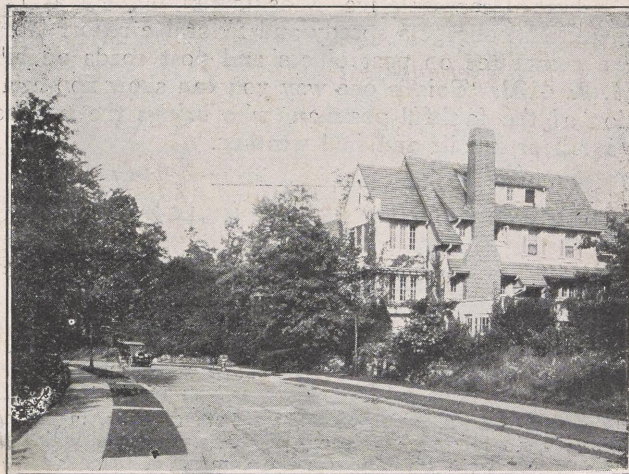

FIRST-CLASS PARTY GIVEN

The Washington's Birthday dance and entertainment held in the Masonic Temple on Friday night, Feb. 22, proved to be one of the most popular and enjoyable events held in Forest Hills for a long while. Over 200 members of the Forest Hills Association and their guests danced until the small hours of the morning. James McGill, chairman of arrangements, and his indefatigable committee, spared no effort in their decoration of the Temple and the arrangement of the program of events. Herbert Chase, president of the association, welcomed the members and friends on behalf of the officers. The program was formally opened with the singing of the Star-Spangled Banner. A wide variety of favors was given to the guests, some of which added considerably to the orchestration of the night. Col. J. E. McNary, of Kew Gardens, was fortunate enough to hold the lucky number in the lucky number dance.

The association purposes holding a St. Patrick's Day party for the children of the members of the association, in the Clubhouse, Seminole Avenue.

SUPERINTENDENT ETTINGER INVITED TO SPEAK

On March 10, in Public School 101, the Gardens Mothers' Club will meet at 3 o'clock. The chairman of the program committee, Mrs. Lyman B. Stowe, has invited Superintendent Ettinger of the New York Public Schools to speak at that meeting and there is a strong prospect that he will come. The club has enjoyed a series of inspirational educational speakers, some who represent new methods in education, some from public and others from private schools and the hope now is to hear the head of the largest school system in the world.

Mr. Woolcott is not only a speaker of high merit, but is sometimes called America's foremost dramatic authority. His lectures consequently make a strong appeal to all who are interested in plays and the mysteries of life behind the footlights. His subject will be "Behind the Scenes."

The current readings chapter will meet on the afternoon of March 11, 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Samuel McConnell, 78 Greenway Terraces, when Mrs. Donald G. Clark will review Max Beerbohm, H. HELP THE POSTMEN

THE sensational news from Washington fills three and four columns on the front pages of our daily newspapers, so that some important reports of constructive and less colorful legislation cannot be found in the news dispatches.

A certain bill, known as H. R. 4123, now before the committee on post offices and post roads, if passed, would bring to postal clerks and letter carriers something approaching a living wage. The present remuneration of these very important and helpful members of our body politic is $1,400 for the first year, with an increase of $100 per year until a maximum of $1,800 is reached. No argument is necessary to prove that, in this time of the high cost of living, this is not enough money for a self-respecting postman to maintain himself and his family. The proposed bill provides for a minimum wage of $2,000 and a maximum of $2,400.

If you would like to see justice done to the postal employees, write to Hon. James W. Wadsworth, Jr., Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Senators, and Hon. John J. Kindred, Representative, Washington, D. C., asking them to encourage a speedy and favorable report from the committee on post offices and post roads on bill H. R. 4123. This is one way you can show appreciation of the faithful postman who brings the mail to your door in fair and foul weather.

REUNION OF CAMP FOREST HILLS-IN-GROTON

Camp Forest Hills-in-Groton reunion was held in the Social Room of the Church-in-the-Gardens on the night of Feb. 22. It was a get-together of the boys who were at the camp in New Hampshire last summer, with their fathers as guests. Dinner was served to 32 with Arthur H. Flint of 92 Beechnoll Road, director of the camp, and Mrs. Flint, as host and hostess.

Hugh Hutchison, of Brooklyn, associate director, made the awards for proficiency in camp activities. Jerseys with the camp letters were given to George Simons of Forest Hills, Howard Schmolze of Kew Gardens, Edward Taggard, David Baker and Thomas Schultz of Richmond Hill, and William Häuck of Brooklyn. Monograms were awarded to Sanford Close, S. E. Davenport, 3d, and Harford Getz of Forest Hills, Merrill and William Clymer of Kew Gardens, Harold and Arthur Kroeger of Hollis, Arthur Pabst and Charles Blewett of Richmond Hill, Gilbert Phillips of Woodhaven, and Walter Schlichting of Hicksville.

Harold Kroeger read the camp log, and after that the fathers and sons played progressive games, Dr. S. E. Davenport winning the men's prize and Howard Schmolze the boys' prize.

Editor, FOREST HILLS BULLETIN:—

Will you kindly publish a notice to mothers urging them to instruct their children not to worry or tease dogs—a practice which has caused recent accidents here. I speak from long experience, and can say that invariably a so-called "attack" by a dog is made in self-defense and from fear.

Will anyone losing or finding a dog, or desiring to have one given him, please telephone to the writer, Boulevard 6598.

MRS. C. GORDON PEARCE, 118 Dartmouth Street.

CAMP LIFE DESCRIBED

A Girls' Camp and One for Boys Pictured as Alluring Places for Younger Generation.

In spite of the wintry blasts outside, the beauties and joys of out-door camp life were brought home to the people who attended a meeting in the interest of camps, in the Social Room of the Church-in-the-Gardens, on the evening of Feb. 18, under the auspices of Mrs. Blanche Carstens and Arthur H. Flint.

The first speaker was Paul R. Jenks, trail maker for the Appalachian Mountain Club. He said that the White Mountains are full of camps and that the summer campers use the huts of the trails. He laid down certain rules of camp life: (1) campers should have good manners; (2) they should live in the open; (3) some experiences should be enjoyed, which they do not have the rest of the year; (4) the camp should be near water and near the mountains. "The spirit of the outdoors gets into those who work on the trails and any one who spends the night on a mountain top will find God there," concluded Mr. Jenks.

Mrs. Blanche Carstens, director of Camp Allegro, Silver Lake, New Hampshire, told that every child has hunger for the outdoor life. This is natural because in 1700 only 3.3% lived in the cities of this country; in 1880, less than 30% were found in cities; and in 1920, 51.4% were found in the crowded places. The result has been the development of camps, maintained by private individuals, private organizations and by public organizations. The first boys' camp was started in 1881. Today there are 300 boys' camps with 20,000 campers and 260 girls' camps with 18,000 campers. With various private organizations and various departments of city, state and national governments promoting camp life, there were 800,000 people in organized camps last summer and millions in tourists' camps.

The National Recreation and Playground Association recommends for a location of a camp: (1) good drainage and a clean body of water; (2) good sanitation; (3) safety; (4) abundant, good and simple food; (5) equipment simple and recreation and instruction progressive; (6) councilors of fine character, training and spirit; (7) program such that each child may express himself or herself; (8) rhythmic exercises and (9) community spirit, which is also spiritual.

After her introductory talk, Mrs. Carstens showed stereopticon views of her camp which has had six years of successful history. All the work and play of 50 happy girls in a splendidly equipped and wisely conducted camp were pictured in a very happy way.

Arthur H. Flint told of the camp life of 17 boys who were in his camp last summer—Camp Forest Hills-in-Groton, New Hampshire. Mr. Flint also used slides to picture the life in his camp, where 30 boys will be included in the family this coming summer.

MRS. CONKLING ELECTED TREASURER

At a meeting of the Mothers' Club of Public School 3, held in the auditorium of the school on the afternoon of Feb. 18, Mrs. L. E. B. Conkling was appointed treasurer in the place of Mrs. H. A. Yerkes, resigned.

The club voted to send letters to the Postmaster General, to the United States Senators of New York and to our Representative, favoring the bill to increase the compensation of clerks and letter carriers. The treasurer was authorized to pay the club's yearly dues to the United Parents' Association.

The speaker who had been announced was unable to be present, so the time was spent in an informal discussion.

SEAMEN SWARTZ DIES

Seamen M. Swartz, 24 Underwood Road, aged 41 years, died on Feb. 15. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. C. E. Silcox on the afternoon of Feb. 17 and the burial took place at the Greenwood Cemetery in Brooklyn. Mr. Swartz was a member of the Ivanhoe Lodge 610, Free and Accepted Masons and the members of the Lodge attended the funeral services.

Mr. Swartz is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Marie Alice Littell, a mother, four sisters, all of whom live in New York, and a brother, of Stamford, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. Swartz moved to Forest Hills Gardens last April.

TRACTOR WORKS WELL.

To Be Used for Many Purposes—Gardens Corporation Urges Residents to Sign the 4-Mill Agreement.

Last fall the directors of Gardens Corporation purchased a Fordson tractor from the Fuller-Luce Co., in New York. The tractor was primarily purchased for snow removal purposes, but owing to the open winter it had no opportunity to demonstrate its worth until early this month. After its first try-out several minor changes were needed, and after the operator had become familiar with handling it, good progress was made.

There are some twelve miles of streets in the Gardens, and under average conditions the machine should sweep all the walks in four hours. A regular route is followed and no partiality will be shown. However, as the Greenways, Continental Avenue and Burns Street are main arteries of travel, it is necessary for the general good of all that these streets be opened first.

In summer the tractor will be used to clean the streets, haul away rubbish, pull the tarvia cart for patching, and perhaps mow grass in the parks.

On Feb. 15, 242 members of Gardens Corporation had signed the four-mill agreement. It is provided therein that the agreement becomes effective when two-thirds of the members have signed, and as there are 472 members the necessary number becomes 315.

If you are a property owner in Forest Hills and have not signed, please give serious consideration to joining in the agreement by signing the card of assent. With a large percentage of land in the Gardens on a four-mill annual basis, the finances of the corporation will be much more secure, an accurate upkeep budget may be put into effect, and the continued success of Forest Hills Gardens will be made certain.

HORACE HUME,

Chairman of Publicity, Gardens Corporation.

MISS KROEGER'S PUPILS GIVE RECITAL

On Feb. 8, in the auditorium of Public School 3, the pupils of Miss Adeline Kroeger gave a recital. Master Andrew Hargreave welcomed the guests and introduced the performers. The children who took part were Dorothy Reinert, Isabelle Sarkisian, Inez Galbraith, Marjorie Conkling, Katherine Kelly, Marjory Mayer, Frederick Schramm and Robert Reinert.

Miss Kroeger spoke of the four necessary pianistic requirements of an artist—talent, emotion, intelligence and technique.

Miss Ida Iacapraro, a member of the class of Mrs. A. M. Virgil, directrix of the Virgil School of Piano, demonstrated technique and after the demonstration played several numbers delightfully.

MRS. SCAMMELL AND CHORAL CLUB

While Mrs. Charles H. Scammell, president of the Choral Club, is enjoying a trip to California, she is thinking of Forest Hills. Mrs. Scammell suggests that we have an Easter sun-rise service in Olivia Park, similar to the services held in California. She is also thinking of the Choral Club, and rejoices over the news of the successful weekly rehearsals in preparation for the spring concert.

THE INN

Last Saturday night's dance at the Inn seemed so much like a real old-fashioned old home week, there being present a great number of the former guests of the Inn as well as many residents of the Gardens. The management of the Inn extends a hearty welcome to all the people of the Gardens and their friends and hopes that there will be many more such happy gatherings.

Last Thursday night the ball-room of the Inn was the scene of a Washington's Birthday dance, very fittingly arranged for by the American Legion Post of Forest Hills. This post has also made plans for Monday, March 3, when General Bullard will address a general open meeting of the American Legion at the Inn, to which all guests and their friends are invited.

All indications point to a delightful masquerade ball on Saturday, March 1. Invitations have been issued and a large attendance is expected.

The Jamaica Hospital benefit dance held on Friday, Feb. 29, was a very successful affair. This was under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Forest Hills Branch of the Jamaica Hospital. The supper feature of this dance was an old-time box social.

Mrs. H. R. Sweet entertained a party of two tables of mah-jongg on Tuesday, Feb. 26. Mrs. Mark Hayes is spending several weeks with her mother at St. Petersburg, Fla., and expects to return to the Inn about March 20.

New arrivals at the Inn are: Fred Kelly, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rauchfuss, Brooklyn; Mrs. Hubert G. Streat, and Mrs. Hollis Davenny, New York. John P. Boyd, Roseland, Va., has returned to the Inn after a prolonged absence. Later arrivals are Miss Marion C. Nill, Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Eagleson Robb and daughter Nancy, New York.

ANOTHER DEEPENE

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic W. Goudy, who lived for many years in the artistic home which they built on Deepdene Road, and are now making their home on an estate near Marlborough, have named their new estate Deepdene. The American Printer in a recent issue printed a beautiful picture of the waterfall on the Goudy's new estate. Mr. Goudy is a world-famous type designer. Among his many valued treasures is an old engraving of a place called Deepdene in England.

THE CHURCH - IN - THE - GARDENS

Tomorrow the minister, Rev. C. E. Silcox, begins the second year of his pastorate in Forest Hills. The anthem for the day will be "Rejoice, Jerusalem, and Sing" (George N. Nevin), and the solo "Forever with the Lord" (Gounod), sung by William Roberts, bass. Beginning Sunday, March 9, the soloist will be Mrs. Alexander Greene.

The offering in the Church School tomorrow is to be devoted to the relief of German children. This offering is taken at the request and on the high recommendation of the Federal Council of Churches of America, whose investigators have reported on the serious situation, involving tuberculosis and hunger oedema, prevailing among the children of Germany.

Beginning on the first Sunday in Lent and continuing through until Easter, Vesper services will be held at the church at 5 o'clock, introductory music beginning at 4:50. These services will be largely musical in character. There will be brief talks by the minister.

The informal Sunday evenings will be discontinued until after Easter. Last Sunday evening a most enjoyable evening was spent at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Clark. A trio consisting of Mrs. J. A. Corscaden, violinist; Dr. J. A. Corscaden, cellist, and Samuel Chapin, pianist, rendered several delightful numbers. Conrad B. Taylor, accompanied by Mrs. Taylor, sang two groups of tenor solos, and Mrs. Edgeworth Smith, of Kew Gardens, played an Etude of Chopin and the "Liebestraum."

At a meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gorton Marsh, Feb. 17, Miss Dorothy Burton, soprano, and Miss Adele Plate, reader, furnished an attractive program. Mrs. E. H. Mays read interesting letters from her husband, who is in Japan.

The following topics will be considered next in the course on "The Growth of Christianity," on Wednesday evenings: "The Rise of the Creeds," "The Rise of the Sacraments," and "The Political Consolidation of the Church."

The Women's Guild will hold a reception to the Minister and Mrs. Silcox, together with those recently received into the membership of the church, on Wednesday evening, March 3, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lytle J. Hunter, 43 Greenway Terraces, who have graciously offered their home for this occasion.

Whatever objections older folk may have to the recent storm and freeze, the children at least have used to the utmost the facilities for skating and sledding provided for them by the Forest Hills Association. The rink has been in fine skating condition for some days, and the steep decline of the golf course provides ideal conditions for a long toboggan ride.

On Deepdene Road and in Olivia Park coasting has been enjoyed. Skating on the Inn courts and at the West Side Tennis Club has been a popular sport.
