DR. MANNING'S ADDRESS

Men's Club Enjoys Hearing About Problems Connected With Increasing Use of Gasoline.

The March meeting of the Men's Club of Forest Hills was held at the home of Guyon L. C. Earle, 37 Greenway South, on the evening of Mar. 3, Lyman B. Stowe, vice-pres., presiding in the absence of the president, S. E. Davenport, Jr.; Robert B. McKee, 49 Summer Street, and Leslie Bruns of the Gardens Apartments, were elected to membership.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Van H. Manning, formerly director of the Bureau of Mines of the United States at Washington, and now director of research of the American Petroleum Institute, New York. Dr. Manning has resided in Forest Hills for several years, but has been absent a considerable part of the time on account of making trips to Europe and to different parts of the United States in connection with the business of the institute. He sketched briefly and in a very interesting way the history of oil and then spoke of the international conditions as to this valuable product. He dwelt particularly upon the use of gasoline for automobiles and gave statistics showing the very rapid increase in the number of automobiles and the relatively slow increase in the production of oil. He made a strong plea for the open door policy, that is, for freedom of all nations to seek new supplies of oil and to develop oil lands subject to only reasonable restrictions.

At the conclusion of his address, Dr. Manning was asked many questions, especially as to substitutes for gasoline and as to whether there is danger of the supply of crude oil becoming exhausted. He said that he did not think that there was much ground for fear of exhaustion if the oil companies would get together and stop the cut-throat policies which have prevailed in carrying on the business in foreign lands. The Webb-Pomerene bill had not proved satisfactory in foreign lands, and as to the United States the combination of oil companies would not be possible, owing to the Sherman anti-trust law. Something has been accomplished, however, by state regulation. "Certainly," said Dr. Manning, "The United States can not be expected to continue indefinitely supplying 80 per cent. of the gasoline of the world."

OPERETTA AT KEW-FOREST SCHOOL

On Friday evening, March 10, the pupils of the upper grades of Kew-Forest School presented "Princess Chrysanthemum," an operetta by C. King Proctor, for the benefit of the War Veterans' Camp. It was voted an unqualified success.

Miss Janet McConnell, as "Princess Chrysanthemum," entirely justified the keen rivalry of "Prince So-True" (David Millar) and "Prince So-Sli" (Samuel McConnell), suitors for her hand and heart. In his impersonation of the pompous, greedy Emperor, "What-for-Whi," John Montague showed marked talent. Cicely Kershaw was a real "Fairy Moonbeam," while Collier Elliott did full justice to the character of the self-important "Top-Not." The dramatic ability of Robert Jones in the part of "Saucer Eyes," was a surprise and a delight to the audience and called forth many expressions of praise. Harriet Provost as "Tu-Lip," abundantly deserved the hearty applause accorded her.

The work of the chorus was worthy of special commendation. Careful and capable training was shown in every detail and the total result was received with genuine enthusiasm.

The dancing was well executed. The stage and settings were most artistic. Even the wistaria and masses of apple blossoms that decorated the wings and the proscenium were made by the pupils.

All in all, it was a very remarkable performance and reflected great credit upon the school and upon its musical director, Mrs. Anna Wells Bigelow.

MUSICAL AFTERNOON, MARCH 28.

Mothers' Club Throughout Year Has Varied Program—Many Phases of Childhood Studied.

The concert to be given at public school 3 on the afternoon of March 28, when Sally Hamlin, child wonder, will be the soloist, is exciting much interest and there will be a large crowd. One concert will be given from 2 to 3 P. M. and another one from 3:30 to 4:30 P. M. The proceeds will go towards the needs of the school house in the Gardens.

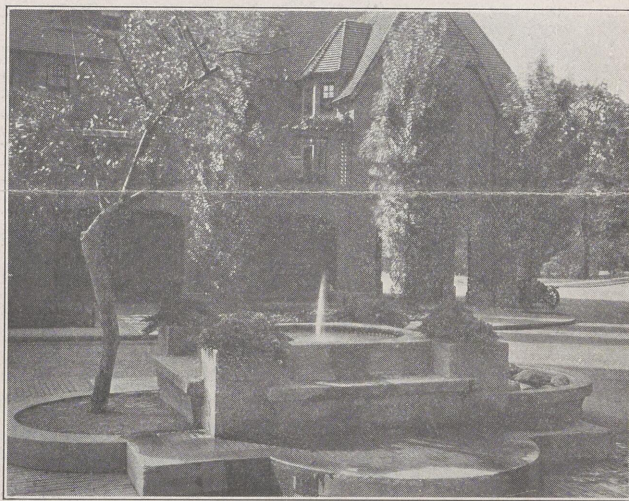

Inoculations

Dr. Russell Cecil will speak on "Inoculations, Pneumonia and the Common Cold" at the next meeting of the Gardens Mothers' Club, at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Halsey, 119 Greenway South, at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of April 10.

Intelligence Tests

At the home of Mrs. Richard Knight, on March 13, the club made plans for playground and school garden sprinkling and progress on the Community House plans was reported.

Miss Ruth Clark evoked much interest by her talk on "Intelligence Tests for Children" and made two startling statements which produced much discussion: first, that a child's intelligence quotient will remain the same through life, and second that where children show no particular bent and even go through college that way, it almost always means that those children can, if they will, be successful at almost anything. However, their choice to take up some particular work must be forced after college, for they owe some definite service to society.

Miss Clark spoke of five tests being applied now to children after the sixth grade to determine their choice, mechanical, artistic, musical, language or clerical. These tests call for solving problems and are rated for speed and accuracy. She said that will power at present is almost impossible of measurement, and of course is such a great factor in success.

The Junior Employment Service has counselors in schools for children from 12 to 14 years of age to advise them as to their courses of study. It is also a clearing house for jobs.

THE CROWDED PLATFORM

The Community Council requests each resident of Forest Hills to write a letter to E. M. Weaver, Engineer Maintenance of Way, Long Island R. R., Jamaica, calling his attention to the crowded condition of the Forest Hills station platforms during the rush hours, and urging upon him the necessity for the extension of the eastbound platform by the length of at least two cars, with stairway for exit at each end.

ONE OF THE CHARMS OF THE GARDENS.

DAILY the notes of spring come louder into our windows. The song sparrow is already looking for a possible nesting site and sings cheerily from the leafless bough. The robin's first calls are heard and from the nearby grove the woodpecker drums. We are delighted with the bird life which proclaims itself everywhere and even tolerate the harsher notes of the grackle, suggestive of ground still barren and water covered with ice. These sounds are the beginning of the new awakening and within a few weeks we shall enjoy again the full chorus of the birds as they return in ever growing numbers.

Now is the time for observation and resolution. A glance at trees and bushes reveals among branches many a bird nest of last season, the robin's bulky nest in the elms, the redstart's cup-shaped nest high up in tangled branches, the yellow warbler's and song and chipping sparrow's in shrubbery. An observation of these bird nests may lead to the wish to have a nest in your own garden. A good starting point is to place a bird house there, or to attach a shelf to the porch to aid the home building of the early robins, blue birds and song sparrows. Old boxes should be cleaned out and repaired. When this work is finished, observe what takes place around the house. A cold day will bring to us the northern birds that are about to leave, the trim tree sparrow and slaty junco. Then look for the migrants as they pass, especially the gorgeous red fox sparrow with markings of a thrush.

One unfailing way to keep birds in the neighborhood is to show hospitality. It is but little trouble to throw out crumbs and small seeds and thereby save from an untimely end many a bird at a season when food supply is short. Acts of kindness in dealing with our feathered life yield dividends not only in the way of pleasure in observing the birds partaking of the bounty or hearing their songs, but also in keeping our best allies in fighting insect pests.

Always bear in mind that among the many attractive phases of the life in Forest Hills Gardens there is a splendid opportunity to watch the ebb and flow of bird life, for we are on the direct line of bird migration and flock after flock stops here after its flight across the bay. Let us not idly overlook this interesting feature, but help to make bird life a part of our already attractive landscape.

MUSIC CHAPTER IN CHARGE

Women's Club Members Listen to a Program Given by Folklore Trio.

The Folklore Trio, piano, violin and cello, gave the very much appreciated program of the Women's Club at the meeting at the Inn on Monday afternoon, March 6. The program was an unusually interesting and novel one, consisting as it did of folk songs of Denmark, Sweden, Germany, Bohemia, Serbia, Japan, China, Wales, Ireland and America. In the last named there were two kinds of folk songs, those of the negro and those of the creole. All of this music has been especially transcribed for the group by the pianist of the organization, William Lyndon Wright, director of music at New York University. The program was both charming and instructive. The trio presented the songs in instrumental form, preceded by a word of explanation by Mr. Wright as to the text or plot of the songs and matter of historical interest connected with them and in some cases of amusing anecdotes of his experiences in collecting them. Beside Mr. Wright the other members of the trio are William G. Jones, violin, head of the violin department at the Music School Settlement, and Charles Prescott Poore, cello, a resident of Forest Hills.

The afternoon's program was arranged by Mrs. Edward H. Moir, the chairman of the music chapter of the club.

Miss Patten, sister of Adela Patten, who was expected to speak, presented the subject of law enforcement. Miss Patten is connected with the Anti-Saloon League. Mrs. Louis Dean Speir reported for the civic committee.

The library committee has been working to improve library quarters, both the temporary ones and the permanent ones, which are so much needed. A full report will be given at the April meeting.

Mrs. Moir announced an exceedingly attractive meeting of the music chapter at the home of Mrs. E. M. Guyon, 342 Burns street, at 2.30 o'clock on the afternoon of March 24. Mrs. Guyon is arranging a special musical program at which several of her friends from New York will assist, and the music and life of Grieg will be studied.

Mrs. Donald G. Clark reported that the flu played havoc with a meeting announced for the current readings chapter which was planned for March 7. It is now stated that Mrs. Phänor J. Eder will review "Erik Dörn" by Ben Hecht, on the afternoon of April 4, at the home of Mrs. Robert C. Adams, Deepdene Road. On next Tuesday afternoon, March 21, at the home of Mrs. E. C. Stokes, 191 Greenway North, Mrs. George Smart, will review "Modern Democracies" by Viscount Bryce.

"SCANDALS AT THE SHORE"

Musical Comedy Presented as Benefit for Day Nursery.

"Scandals at the Shore," a musical comedy in two acts, book and lyrics by Allen T. Hopping of the Forest Hills Inn, music by Electus T. Backus, was presented by the Lehigh Circle, for the benefit of the Silver Cross Day Nursery, at the Masonic Temple, Tuesday evening, March 14.

The cast was headed by Aubrey G. Sommer, Allen T. Hopping, Ruth Sentner and Howard Hopping, and proved to be a great success. There was a chorus of fifteen girls, and I must say that I have always found the chorus of an amateur production much more refreshing than that of the professional.

Aubrey G. Sommer, as the clerk of the hotel, was excellent; Allen T. Hopping, the actor-author, was convincing as the young juvenile. Ruth B. Sentner, the leading lady, was striking when she appeared in a white canton crepe gown trimmed in red, which was designed by Miss Glenn Milton and executed by Hickson. Howard Hopping scored as the much-abused husband.

The musical numbers which won the hearts of the audience were: "We'll Be There," sung by the Hopping brothers; "I'd Like to be Your Beau," "Prohibition," and "Girls."

The others in the cast who deserve mentioning were the Misses Mildred Wedekin, Charlotte Shoenberg and Gertrude A. Fink.

After the performance dancing was enjoyed by all until 2 o'clock.

The list of patronesses includes Mrs. F. H. Bisbee, Mrs. John M. Demarest, Mrs. W. W. Dunklin, Mrs. George H. Hill, Mrs. A. Howard Hopping, Mrs. Fitzhugh Minnegirode, Mrs. George F. Ordway, Miss Eunice Hill, Miss Elizabeth Ordway, Mrs. Stuart Otto, Mrs. Louis C. Pedlar, Mrs. George K. Reed, Mrs. M. B. Sentner, Mrs. H. P. Williams, Mrs. Albert Wright, Miss Glenn Milton, Miss Daisy Wright, Miss Frances Wright.

THOMAS W. MAYER.

THE INN

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Downing and daughter, Miss Mignon, of Kansas City, Mo., are among the recent arrivals at the Inn for the spring and summer.

Mrs. J. E. Probst, Englewood, is the guest of her son and daughter, Senator and Mrs. J. A. C. Johnson, for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Gittere, Jamaica, are now making their home at the Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Audley Clarke have returned after a two weeks' visit in Camden, S. C.

Mrs. H. L. Steedman and Mrs. A. R. Wadsworth of New York are numbered among the late arrivals for the season. Miss Antoinette McPike, recently of the Gardens, is now making her home at the Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Jackson, baby and nurse, of Marietta, Ohio, have arrived at the Inn to make their home.

Mrs. H. S. Sussman has returned after a week's visit with relatives in Madison, N. J.

Miss Faith Harrington, Providence, R. I., is the guest of Miss Helen Smith for the week. Miss Smith entertained a small company at bridge on Tuesday afternoon in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Browne and family, recently of Milwaukee, are now guests of the Inn. Mr. Browne is the general sales manager of the Curtiss Aeroplane Corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Livingston of New York were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Otto over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Runge are visiting relatives in Philadelphia for the week.

Major and Mrs. L. L. Barrett, Manhattan, have arrived to make their home at the Inn.

Miss Florence Haviland has returned from a short visit in Lakewood, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Penn are spending a short time at the Inn before going into their new home in the Gardens.

Mrs. M. Minck has returned home after a three weeks' visit in Pinehurst, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. McGahie entertained a company of ten at dinner Saturday night and later enjoyed the dancing.

The members of the Lehbog Circle who presented "Scandals of the Shore," were entertained last Saturday night at dinner and dancing by Allen Hopping.

DON'T MISS THIS OCCASION

An interesting program has been completed for the community meeting to be held at the Masonic Hall, Sunday evening, March 26, at 8:15 o'clock. The meeting has been called by S. W. Eckman and Dr. Albert Sheppard. The object is to give the residents an opportunity to hear a discussion of the problems of the Near East and Asia Minor. The political, social and economic outlook in Asia Minor has been a subject of much interest in this country ever since the United States refused the mandate of Armenia and Mesopotamia. The discussion will be led by Dr. William E. Doughty, who was one of the members of the American Commission which went to Transcaucasian Russia, Georgia, Syria, Palestine and other countries in the Near East during the past summer to make a survey of condition in those regions. Dr. Doughty is recognized as a speaker of exceptional ability and since his return to the United States he has traveled extensively throughout the country, speaking on the situation as he saw it.

A three-reel motion picture, entitled "Alice in Hungerland," will be exhibited. The story is centered about the adventures of a 12-year-old American girl in strange lands, who begins her journeys as a stowaway.

A charming Oriental touch will be given the meeting by the presence of Mme. Ncuvar Dzeron Koshkarian, who was born in Armenia and has traveled extensively in America and Europe. She will sing Armenian folk songs and the Armenian national anthem. She wears a rarely beautiful costume a century old, which reveals the rich art of Armenian dress. By profession she is a painter, but she has given much of her time to informing the American public regarding her country, its customs and traditions.

Mrs. Walter P. Sauer will furnish a very welcome and pleasing part of the program by rendering several songs.

This will be a most interesting and instructive gathering, and one that is in every way well worth attending. It is earnestly hoped that those contributing their time and ability will be rewarded with a "standing room only" audience.

There will be no admission charge. Children under 16 must be accompanied by their parents.

SPRING CONCERT

Seventy-five voices will sing in the spring concert to be given Saturday evening, April 22, at the Masonic Temple by the Forest Hills Choral Club. This program will mark the close of the first year for organized effort in the uplift of musical standards in the field of choral singing in the community. Under the able and untiring direction of the conductor, Bruno Huhn, steady progress has been noticeable.

The program will be of special interest. There will be four and five part choruses with the incidental solo parts taken by the talented local singers. John Palmer, of New York, will be heard in monologues, and from all reports these will be a great treat. Miss Alice Shaw, of New York, has been engaged as accompanist for the chorus. Miss Shaw is also accompanist of the Rubenstein Choral Club and she has great musical ability. There will be other assisting artists.

The concert will be followed by a dance. Taylor's orchestra, which delighted so many by the excellent dance music at the first concert, has been engaged for the April program.

Mrs. Charles H. Scammell, president, is compiling a beautiful souvenir program for this occasion and will be glad to receive a few more advertisements to be placed in it. By supporting the club in the way of advertising, the residents will win the appreciation of this worthy organization.

RUS IN URBE

Woods and open lots and fields,
Please, oh please, do not burn over.
Leaves and trees and grass and weeds,
Let them keep their nature's cover.

Burning kills the seeds and seedlings,
Makes the ground all black and bare,
Leaves the rabbits, birds and beasties
Lacking cover, food and lair.

Beautiful the browns and yellows,
Leaves and grass and weed stalks sere
Winter long, if left to nature.
Please don't burn them; keep their cheer.

Let them spread their seeds in springtime,
Let the little seedlings grow:
Sumacs, cherries, locusts, cedars,
Soon will make a woodland show.

Vines will grow: Virginia creeper,
Bittersweet and honey vine.
Flowers also: daisies, mulleins,
Asters, milkweeds, columbine.

Please, kind friends, preserve these friendlings,
Let them flourish while they may.
Burn them not; and all will thank you,
All who cherish nature's way.

LOUIS DEAN SPEIR.

PERSONALS

Word from Miss Maud Marren says: "See Naples and die!" Not at all. Live to see it again, and Rome." Miss Marren is enthusiastic over a trip which is both recuperative and delightful.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Hamilton, Slocum Crescent, are home, having thoroughly enjoyed a trip west and south.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert V. Moore, Tennis Place, have been on a southern trip.

Donald Louis, Count D'Oyley, eldest son of the Marquess and Marchioness D'Oyley of Paris, France, and Miss Carolyn Arnold, an actress, and a sister of Roberta Arnold, who is now playing in "The First Year," were married a week ago at the chapel in the Municipal Building. Deputy City Clerk J. J. McCormick officiated. The couple are now at the Imperial Hotel, where the Count has been staying since his arrival. He is in the engineering business here and as soon as he can get a leave of absence he and his bride will take a trip to France, and upon their return they will make their home in Forest Hills.

Mrs. George W. Rogers of Tennis Place entertained at tea on Sunday afternoon last for Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, the well known writer. Among the guests were Mrs. Lester Brion, Mrs. N. R. Wilkes, Mrs. A. V. Moore and Mrs. John M. Demarest.

CHURCH-IN-THE-GARDENS

Dr. Charles E. Burton will preach tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. William Furgerson, soprano, of New York, sings for us Sunday mornings during March. H. Everett Hall, organist, has resigned and will play at the Park Avenue Methodist Church, morning and evening services. Samuel Pierce, of New York, has been engaged as organist for the Church-in-the-Gardens. He is an able organist, both as soloist and accompanist.

At the first meeting of the class conducted by Dr. Latshaw Sunday evening, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor, there were some 30 present. His subject was "What is the Church?" He will speak tomorrow evening on "What the Church Believes." We suggest that all parents who would like to have their young people enlightened on matters of this kind urge that they be present at this meeting, and, if possible, accompany them. This class will meet each Sunday evening until Easter at 7:45 in the social room.

The Women's Guild

The last meeting of the Women's Guild at the home of Mrs. John M. McMillin was well attended and the review of the book, "The Kingdom and the Nations," by Mrs. Rowland H. Smith, was much enjoyed. A group of ladies, members of the Choral Club, furnished the music.

Mrs. George H. Merrill, president, and the members of the executive board have mailed a letter to each member, outlining the budget plan for the year 1922. Fifteen captains of ten teams will follow the letter by personal calls. It is planned in this way to raise a large sum for benevolent, missionary and local church work without any sales.

A Doll Party

On Saturday afternoon, March 4, Mrs. John A. McFarlan entertained at her home, Slocum Crescent, for her doll "Johnette" and the guests invited were the dolls and their little mothers of the primary department of the Church-in-the-Gardens. Mona Hasselriis' doll, "Jessie," won the prize, as being the prettiest doll; Florence McGill's doll "Ruby" was awarded the prize as being the tallest doll, and Patsy Renaud's doll, "Jeanne," took the prize for being the smallest one. Children winning prizes for games were Ellen Luneborg and Natalie Green. Other teachers in the primary department assisted Mrs. McFarlan in making this party most successful.

IS THIS YOUR COMMUNITY?

Is this your community?

Do you desire to have a voice in the management of its affairs?

Are you the head of your own household, or is your neighbor deciding matters for or against the health, safety and welfare of your children?

Do you want to make Forest Hills a good place to live and a safe and desirable place in which to bring up your children?

Do you want to help decide such questions as water rates, gas rates and gas quality, telephone service, fire protection, train schedules, library or no library, school or no school, etc.? Or are you content to sit back and let some one else settle these questions for you?

Last year 210 families did their best to solve your problems for you. There were just 210 members in the Community Council last year. If you did not join, or if after joining you did not attend the meetings, you should not complain if these civic matters were not decided for the advantage of your household.

The Community Council should include every resident of Forest Hills. You are invited to join, come to the meetings and express your views. Your vote will have equal weight with your neighbor's, whether you have lived here three months or three years.

The meetings are held on the third Friday of every month. Please keep this date for the Community Council. Don't let your church or your club plan a concert or dance for the third Friday. Tell them that evening is sacred to the Community Council and that you want to attend the Community Council meeting.

MRS. HERBERT P. GREEN, Secretary.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

At the last meeting of the Women's Guild, at the home of Mrs. J. R. Davies, it was unanimously voted that the activities of the ensuing month should be delegated to individuals. This will necessitate that each member provide her own means of raising funds. It will, therefore, be left to the initiative of each to select the best way in which she may serve her church during the Lenten season.

The following women have expressed their willingness to take orders for home-made dainties: Mrs. L. M. Burt, 17 Ingram Street, fudge, $1.00 per pound; Mrs. Frank Wheeler, 'phone Boulevard 6484, raised and nut bread; Mrs. A. V. Moore and Mrs. Sterling, 'phone Boulevard 6727, salads and angel food; Mrs. Padelinetti and Miss Courtenay, 16 Cranford Street, colored linen handkerchiefs with drawn threads of contrasting colors, $1 to $3 each.

The rummage sale will be held in New York during the last week in March. Owing to the sudden illness of the chairman, Mrs. G. Willis Drake, Mrs. E. C. Stokes was appointed to take over her work. She will be glad to send for donations.

Beginning next month, the Guild will meet on the first Friday, instead of the first Tuesday, of each month. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Albert V. Moore, Tennis Place, on Friday, April 7.
