PLAYERS' TRIUMPH

New Heights Reached at Last Performance— Visitors From Scarsdale Do Polished Acting

The Gardens Players again distinguished themselves, the occasion being the presentation of a bill in the Kew Gardens Country Club on the evenings of Feb. 17 and 18, with what many considered the best program so far attempted. The first number was "A Domestic Problem," directed by Walter Hartwig, with the scenic effects by Anna Price. The parts were taken by Frederick Youngs and Kathlyn Burns of Kew Gardens, and by Estelle Johnson and Beatrice Kieffer. There was a delightful atmosphere of "Quality Street" about it.

The second number on the program was a drama entitled, "The Law of the Sea," and was presented for the first time on any stage. The scene was laid on Cape Cod and dealt with the sinking of a ship. Later it is found that the captain deserted the ship and a dramatic situation of flavor arises. The parts of the sea captain and his wife were taken by Harvey Warren and Miss Bertha Mandell. Their performances were the outstanding bits of the entire evening's program. Miss Mandell rose to new heights and it was shown that Harvey Warren had dramatic fervor. Before, he has always been looked upon as a comedian, but now he has achieved in a new role. Others of the cast were Helen Hoeft, Beatrice Wilson and Crispia Bebb. Mr. Bebb had been out of town until two days before the first performance, but played his part with distinction. The scenery was designed by Walter Teague. The sketch was written by Harry King Tootle, who has many friends in Forest Hills Gardens, and who was much pleased with the presentation of the play.

The third "spot" on the program was by the Wayside Players of Scarsdale, New York, in a sketch called "Wurzel-Flummery." Although but a year old, the Scarsdale performers played with confidence, giving an excellent interpretation of the English comedy.

After the program the Players—both Gardens and Wayside—were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Clark at their home on Markwood Road.

THE NEW ST. LUKE'S CHURCH—THE THEODORE ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL

At the recent parish dinner at the Inn it was announced that with the approval of the Roosevelt family and the hearty indorsement of the Bishop of the Diocese, the new St. Luke's Church, which is being planned, will be a memorial to Theodore Roosevelt. This is the outcome of the Fourth of July Gardens celebration in 1917, when Roosevelt made his great 100 per cent., American speech. It will also be remembered that from 500 similar requests, the Colonel at that time accepted the invitation of Forest Hills. It is most fitting that this community should be the place of such a memorial; the Gardens has ever stressed American ideals and standards.

The get-together dinner at the Inn Tuesday evening was a forward movement in church activities. Covers were laid for 100. After short addresses by Judge Davies and Mr. Landers, an interesting program was given under the direction of Mrs. Albert Moore and her committee.

Women's Guild.

The next meeting of the Guild will be on March 7, at the home of Mrs. J. R. Davies, Exeter Street.

The residents are invited to visit the Inn today, between 10 and 1 o'clock. A choice variety of cakes, pies and bread are on sale. This sale is one of the activities of the Guild.

PUBLIC SCHOOL LECTURE

Dr. Alexander Lyons will lecture at public school 3, March 6, 8 P. M. His subject will be "Living and Making a Living." A cordial welcome is extended to all.

HOME OF N. S. JONAS

The above home of Mr. Jonas, located at the intersection of Greenway North and Wendover Road, is from the design of Grosvenor Atterbury and built by the Homes Company.

All parts of the external design are, in fact, of one piece, having a likeness in shape with the dormers as a feature. The main roof extended to form a hood for the main entrance is supported by substantial brackets.

The plan is direct and one can readily see the living room on the left, center hall, dining room on the right and kitchen at the rear. There are three bed rooms and two baths on the second floor, one bed room and bath on the third, a large brick and lattice porch at the rear of the living room.

The ivy has draped itself in an interesting fashion with bits of the rough brick and gravel aggregate stucco showing through.

DR. LYMAN ABBOTT TO SPEAK

An outstanding piece of news in this number of the BULLETIN is the announcement that Dr. Lyman Abbott will occupy the pulpit of the Church-in-the-Gardens tomorrow morning. Dr. Abbott celebrated his eighty-sixth birthday last December and retains the mental vigor, enthusiasm and sane judgment of a man in middle life. He has been the editor-in-chief of the Outlook for forty years; he is one of America's greatest preachers, having most acceptably filled the pulpit made famous by Henry Ward Beecher; his many books have been the source of inspiration and comfort to thousands of readers, and in countless other ways he has helped to build a better America. He is honored and followed, not only for what he has done, but because he has been a liberal, cultural, Christian gentleman. The church will not hold those who wish to attend and hear him.

Lawrence F. Abbott, Greenway South, is his son.

The regular March meeting of the Women's Club will be held on the sixth at 2 P. M., at the Forest Hills Inn. The program will be a musical given by the Folklore Trio, which consists of William Lyndon Wright, Director of Music, New York University, piano; William G. Jones, head of Violin Department, Music School Settlement, violin; Charles P. Poore, head of 'Cello Department, American Conservatory of Music, Brooklyn, 'cello.

The current readings chapter will meet with Mrs. Robert C. Adams, 22 Deepdene Road, on March 7, at 2:30 P. M. Mrs. Phanor J. Eder will review "Erik Dorn," by Ben Hecht.

The philanthropic chapter will meet on March 9, at 2:30 P. M., at the home of Mrs. Albert Morton Gray, 38 Slocum Crescent.

TIME TO GET BUSY.

ALREADY the voice of the spring poet is heard in the land. The first robin has joyously chirped on the first pages of all our more enterprising metropolitan dailies. Soon the alert, green tip of the spring onion will be thrusting above the fruitful loam. In the city, where perhaps a few stray odors from country fields wander lost and helpless above the damp asphalt, it is the time, indeed, when "longen folk to goon on pilgrimages."

Not so with us. Here in Forest Hills there is an unwonted activity in our cellars (No, no, Mr. Volstead!), where throughout the winter has been heard only the death rattle of the ash-pit and the slow, moaning ebb of the coal-bins. Citizens with eager eyes and trembling fingers are fumbling about among piles of rusted hoes, rakes, spading-forks and even the humble trowel. Seed catalogues flaunt their flaming covers brazenly on library tables. There is delightful debate and hesitation as to the merits of "Spud Glorioso" and "Cabbage Cornbeeficus." Garden time is upon us.

The habit with which we gladly burdened ourselves in the war comes now to reward us in the peace. Some, of course, with memories of canning and scalded fingers, will "say it with flowers." The merry crocus and the romantic opening of the first white rose will content them. But, oh, the first blossoming of the white rose potato, and ah, the tender appeal of the bush bean lifting safely in its little hands the seed you so excitedly stuffed into the earth! And (Mmm!) the first plateful of the succulent pea!

Stay me with flagons and comfort me with apples, but restrain me not when my own vegetables from my own garden troop steaming from the kitchen!

Yea, though I walk with Rheumatism upon my right hand and Lumbago upon my left, yet will I do my spring planting early.

BENEFITS OF THE FLU

The entire editorial staff of the BULLETIN, from office boy to editor-in-chief—all the positions being held by one person—has been hit by the flu. One compensation, to the staff for the experience, is the realization that there are so many helpful and competent friends and one benefit to the readers is an attractive number of the BULLETIN. Thanks are due Mrs. Herbert P. Green, Ralph E. Renaud, Homer Croy and George Smart.

AMENDMENTS VOTED DOWN

Constitution of Community Council of Forest Hills to Remain as in Former Years.

At the last meeting of the Community Council, on Feb. 17, the proposed amendments to the constitution, which, if they had been adopted, would have brought about the reorganization of the Council into north and south side chapters, were voted down. This leaves the organization just as it always has been, the membership covering the whole of Forest Hills and Forest Hills Gardens. Eligibility for membership depends only upon payment of the $2 yearly dues which were payable the first of January. Checks should be sent to John Ortgies, treasurer, 60 Continental Avenue.

Resolutions were sent to Senator Karle and Assemblyman Cosgrove, as well as to the Speaker of the Assembly, protesting against the proposed cemetery to be opened near Middle Village. Resolutions were also sent to Senator Meyer and others interested, approving the Meyer bill, which, if passed, will free the Board of Education from the Board of Estimate, and will virtually wipe politics out of school affairs in New York City.

The lengthening of the south platform of the Long Island Railroad so that incoming passengers will not need to walk through two cars before they can get out of the trains, was discussed, and the matter will be taken up with the proper railroad authorities.

The next meeting will be held on March 17, when Lyman Beecher Stowe will explain a plan he has for organizing the young people of Forest Hills into a Junior Community Council.

PRESIDENT OF AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF GRAPHIC ARTS SPEAKS

Frederic W. Goudy, Deepdene Road, world famous type designer and author of books on typography, president of the American Institute of Graphic Arts, was given an ovation when he rose to speak at the Art Center, on the evening of Feb. 15. His subject was "News From the Printers' Paradise and the City of Crafts." In a charming fantasy, Mr. Goudy told the tale of a visit to the City of Crafts in the Printers' Paradise and of the decisions of the Court of the Printers' Guild, as it sits in judgment. News from the great printers, Gutenberg and others, down through the ages, was presented in a most original way. Pages from the works of the famous printers were thrown on the screen and gave life to the story.

A NEIGHBOR'S IMPRESSION

The Women's Club of Jackson Heights gave a Washington's Birthday entertainment in the Community Club House on the night of Feb. 22. The chief feature was the impersonation of Abigail Adams by Mrs. George Smart, with quotations from the letters of John and Abigail Adams, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. George Le Blanc, both of Forest Hills Gardens.

As Mrs. Smart, in a reproduction of the costume of Abigail Adams, spoke to us in the person of the wife of the second President, of the problems of the nation's birth, and wove her original tale from the missives which passed between this famous man and his wife and from other historical documents, she transported us back to Washington's time and made it very real and human. It was most charmingly done.

SPEEDING MUST STOP

I wish to voice a protest against the excessive speeding of automobiles, and especially of delivery wagons, through the streets of Forest Hills. They are a constant menace to the small children who play on the sidewalks and who cannot be watched every moment by busy mothers. I personally have spoken to the manager of one of the stores whose drivers are among the worst offenders, and was most insultingly received. I am sure that no one would regret it more than this same manager if a child were injured or killed by carelessness which he might have prevented. What can be done about it?

A MOTHER.

THE INN

Miss Josephine Natt was the guest of Miss Adelaide Shaw over the week-end.

Mrs. Coleman Bigelow and Mrs. Irving Halsted had a very beautiful display of antiques and imported goods in the sun parlor during last week, and the sale was well patronized by the guests and the residents of the Gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Audley Clarke are visiting in Camden, S. C., for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal L. Peterson have returned to the Inn from Florida, where they were married a few weeks ago. Mrs. Peterson was Mrs. Harriet Peck before her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Chance Vought of New York are among the recent arrivals who have come to make their home at the Inn.

Owen Rossiter, Brookline, Mass., is at the Inn for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fuss and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Phillips, of New York, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Demarest for the "Tacky Party" and over Washington's Birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hedding and small son, of Bronxville, are now numbered among the guests of the Inn.

Miss Peggy Glidden, East Orange, N. J., spent the holiday here, the guest of Miss Quinn, and enjoyed the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Otto and family, of Manhattan, have arrived to make their home at the Inn.

Miss Elizabeth Burdick entertained at dinner on Saturday, Feb. 18. Covers were laid for eighteen in the sun parlor, yellow being the color scheme. The young people enjoyed the dancing during the evening.

Allen Hopping entertained a party of twenty-four the same evening. During the afternoon the young people rehearsed for the benefit play given at the Hotel Plaza for the Child's Day Nursery and Hospital by the Lehbog Circle.

Big Sisters' Benefit

The "Tacky Party" given Feb. 21 by the Big Sisters of Queens was a great success financially and socially, and was enjoyed by all the participants. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Casselman, Mrs. Taylor, Lester Brion and Allan Milliron for the best costumes. Mrs. John M. Demarest and Mrs. Murray Brown were the committee in charge. Supper was served in the sun parlor at midnight, and dancing continued until 2 o'clock. George MacDonald, vice-president of the Big Brothers and Sisters of America, gave a short talk on the work that is being done by the organization. Although the returns are not all in, it is believed the receipts will exceed $500. Members of the committee are very grateful to all those who helped plan and carry out the fun of the evening. Especially do they wish to thank Mrs. Aspinwall Goodrich, to whose untiring efforts was due much of the success of the evening. Mrs. Goodrich alone sold $115 worth of tickets.

KEW-FOREST SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Abbott have presented to the school a carpenter's bench as an incentive for the development of organized manual training work in the school. Under the direction of Mr. Fear, the boys have prepared sketches, made estimates and ordered the necessary lumber for the construction of eight lockers for the boys' c. at room.

For the month ending Feb. 4 the scholarship banner was awarded to the fifth grade.

Since the holidays the following new pupils have been enrolled: Leonard Bolognino, fourth grade; James Dannett, third grade; Henry Keiner, kindergarten; Susan Merrimon, high school I; Miriam Plaisted, high school I; Robert Sage, first grade; Norma Trabold, kindergarten; Frank Fowler, high school I.

The basketball team has played the following games, with results as indicated:

Dec. 6, Hawthorn Athletics 11, Kew-Forest 20; Jan. 6, Forest Hills Athletics 17, Kew-Forest 22; Jan. 14, Richmond Hill, Third Form 44, Kew-Forest 12; Jan. 21, Elmhurst All-Stars 34, Kew-Forest 14; Jan. 30, Hawthorn Athletics 24, Kew-Forest 14; Feb. 8, Hawthorn Athletics 14, Kew-Forest 15; Feb. 10, Richmond Hill Second Team 7, Kew-Forest 8; Feb. 20, Pigmies 14, Kew-Forest 18.

PERSONALS

Willis J. Abbot, who has a house in Forest Hills Gardens and who was recently appointed editor of The Christian Science Monitor, asked Mrs. Homer Croy to go to Yale and write up Yale's entrance into motion pictures wherein America's history is to be shown in 100 reels and which will be sold to the schools and churches over the United States. The article, with illustrations, occupied a page in the issue of Feb. 24.

Master Victor Luneborg arranged a motion picture show for the children of Forest Hills Gardens and sold tickets. The exhibition was held in the social room of the Church-in-the-Gardens, Feb. 18. The young hustler was able to turn over $15.40 to the Community House Fund.

Miss Katherine Glover, who has been sharing the house at 338 Burns Street with Mr. and Mrs. Jules Gingras, has moved to 310 East Fifteenth Street, New York, taking along her adopted son.

Mrs. Charles H. Scammell, Greenway Terraces, gave a delightful tea to her host of friends at her home on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 25. Mr. Scammell's sister, Mrs. Dr. J. M. Reese, of Phillipsburg, New Jersey, and Mrs. Scammell's sister, Mrs. E. L. Penfrase, of Chicago, were honor guests. Mrs. Augustine J. Wilson assisted in receiving. Mrs. George H. Merrill also was invited to assist but was unable to be present.

John Nemeth, Jr., of Philadelphia, has bought a house at 326 Burns Street and he and his family have moved in this week.

Hobart Baird has rented Miss Corscaden's house on Beechknoll Road, and, with his family, will occupy the house on April 1.

On Thursday, Feb. 23, a baby girl, Barbara Kathryn Fahys, was born to Capt. and Mrs. George Ernest Fahys, Jr., of 126 Greenway North. The baby is the grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Fahys, of 777 Park Avenue, New York, and of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Jackson of Brookville, L. I. and is the great grand child of Mrs. Joseph Fahys of 540 Park Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil D'Emo are leaving today for Camden, South Carolina, where they will remain a month.

AN AFTERNOON OF MUSIC, WITH SALLY HAMLIN AS SOLOIST

The Mothers' Club of the Gardens is planning a concert, to be held at public school 3, for the children of public schools 3 and 101, for the benefit of the activities of public school 101. Tickets for children will be 25 cents, for adults 50 cents each. Through the generosity of the Ampico Company the proceeds will go for necessities of the school in the Gardens not furnished by the Board of Education. The date will be Tuesday, March 29, at 3:30 o'clock. The program is one that all mothers should be glad to have their children hear, and which they will enjoy themselves. The feature of the afternoon will be the child, Sally Hamlin, who has given concerts at Carnegie and Aeolian Halls and the Hippodrome. She plays and interprets nursery songs and dances to the accompaniment of the Ampico. She has been wisely trained, is amazing in her versatility and has a wide repertoire.

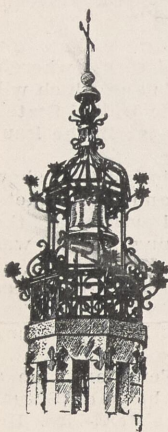

DOCTOR, LAWYER, MERCHANT, CHIEF?—"INTELLIGENCE TESTS FOR CHILDREN"

What are our children to be and do? This question will be answered at the next meeting of the Mothers' Club of Forest Hills Gardens at Mrs. Richard Knight's home, 84 Greenway South, on Monday, March 13, at 3 P. M. The club is fortunate in having a speaker, Miss Ruth Clark, of the Junior Employment Service, who is testing High School children for vocational and professional inclinations, and advising them in the selection of their life work. Her subject is, "Intelligence Tests for Children." Mrs. Knight offers as a further inducement tea and a social half hour after the program.

MRS. EDWARD VAN WAGENEN

Friends here were shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Lucy Hoe Van Wageningen, wife of Edward Van Wageningen, at her home near Kingston, New York, on Feb. 21. Services were held in New York, at the home of her uncle, William J. Hoe, 327 West Fourteenth Street, on Feb. 23. Mr. and Mrs. Van Wageningen lived for several years at the corner of Markwood and Upshaw Roads.

CHURCH-IN-THE-GARDENS

Prem Chand Lal, of India, will present his illustrated lecture, "Jerusalem, the Sacred City," tomorrow evening at 7:45 in the social room under the auspices of the Women's Guild and the Christian Endeavor Society. Mr. Lal was chief guide in Jerusalem during its occupation by General Allenby's soldiers. He speaks English fluently and brightens his lecture with many stories and interesting traditions. A hearty welcome is extended to all to hear Mr. Lal. He will also speak at the sessions of the Sunday school tomorrow morning.

The members and friends of the Christian Endeavor Society had a happy party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Montague, 33 Euclid Avenue, last evening.

Beginning Sunday evening, March 12, the Christian Endeavor Society will conduct for a period of four Sunday evenings a class to study the meaning of church membership, and it extends a hearty invitation to all young people in the community to join the class, especially those who contemplate church membership at Easter. It is hoped that Dr. Latshaw will be able to conduct this class.

Interesting reports of the splendid progress now being made in the Sunday school work are given by the leaders. It is gratifying to know that this very important phase of our church program is developing, in spite of the great handicap in the matter of space. The co-operation of parents in the campaign for promptness and regularity of attendance is earnestly solicited.

The Women's Guild.

The Women's Guild will meet on the afternoon of March 10, at the home of Mrs. John M. McMillin, Fairway Close, when Mrs. Rowland H. Smith will review a book of vital interest to all Guild members. There will also be a musical program. J. F. McE.

VISUAL INSTRUCTION

Long Honor Roll for First Semester of Public Schools is Announced by Principal.

Public schools 3 and 101 have recently acquired considerable material for visual instruction; two stereopticons with one thousand slides, and thirty stereoscopes with more than one thousand stereographs. By means of these photographs and slides, every corner of the world is brought graphically before the pupils.

On the afternoon of March 9, the Paul Clemens' entertainment, "Jack and the Beanstalk," will be given in the auditorium of public school 3 for the benefit of the school fund.

WIDENING OF QUEENS BOULEVARD

Borough President Connolly Addresses Forest Hills Association.

Maurice E. Connolly, Borough President of Queens, spoke before the Forest Hills Association in public school 3 on Thursday evening, Feb. 23, about a number of civic matters of interest to the community. He said concerning the widening of Queens Boulevard that he had not been satisfied with the assessment as levied at first, by which the burden of the $2,000,000 cost of widening would fall largely upon residents of Queens. He believed that, since most of the traffic on the boulevard was by through, and not by local, cars, the bulk of the assessment should be carried by the City of New York rather than by the Borough of Queens. He assured the association he would not give up the fight until this adjustment in assessment was made. He also gave the assurance that when the work of widening was commenced, the present roadway would be kept open for travel while the new area was being paved, so that at all times the boulevard would be passable for travel. Twelve-inch sewers will be laid on each side of the boulevard rather than one large sewer in the middle, to obviate the necessity of tearing up the roadway when sewer repairs or house connections need to be made.

Mr. Connolly expects the work of widening to commence this year. He said that the paving of streets which have already been taken over by the city is paid for primarily by local assessment, then kept in repair and repaved, when necessary, by the city.

He showed, on the screen, some very interesting diagrams illustrating the Croton reservoirs and water system which will, in the near future, be supplying Forest Hills with water.
