COMMUNITY COUNCIL

High Cost of Living Will Be Discussed at Next Meeting—William B. Dickson Lectures on Labor Problem at April Meeting

The next meeting of the Community Council will be held on May 21 at the Church of Forest Hills, when the absorbing subject of the high cost of food will be presented by several interesting speakers. This subject at this time ought to attract a large number of people. Details will be announced in the next BULLETIN.

At the well-attended meeting of the Community Council for April, held on the evening of April 16 at the Church-in-the-Gardens, William B. Dickson, vice-president of the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Company, was the speaker on the subject, "Some Current Phases of the Labor Problem." Many expressed the thought that this was one of the finest addresses ever given in Forest Hills, and Lawrence F. Abbott said it was the best address on the question of labor he had ever heard. Space forbids any kind of an adequate report of the lecture. Mr. Dickson said that in the steel industry he is regarded as a visionary and a radical. "Most people are aiming for efficiency," remarked Mr. Dickson, "while I am booked for happiness, the safest route to which is via Democracy Junction."

"Happiness," he continued, "is a sense of physical, mental and spiritual well-being; a consciousness that you are so related to your environment as to be able to live a life of self-expression. The requisites for attaining happiness are, (1), healthful and pleasant home surroundings; (2), useful employment of a character to permit some measure of self-expression; (3), sufficient leisure and opportunity for culture and recreation."

In the light of these things, he discussed various phases of the modern industrial world such as specialization, and he said that in solving the human problem in industry we come to the question of the survival of our democratic ideals. The laborers who have political power, but who are stunted in body and soul by environment, are a menace to democracy. "Free government is more important than good government," he continued. "Democracy is an opportunity and we must apply democratic principles to industrial relations."

Mr. Dickson, in closing, explained a plan of employee representation which has been put in force in his company and has had a measure of success. "Human nature will remain the same," were the speaker's final words, "and nothing can be devised to take the place of fair dealing and sympathetic recognition of the other man's rights."

MEMORIAL MEETING

Held to Honor Rowland H. Smith

The friends and neighbors of Rowland Holbrook Smith gathered in the Church-in-the-Gardens on Sunday afternoon, April 18, when the Men's Club, of which Mr. Smith was president, and the church, of which he was chairman of the board of trustees, held a memorial service in his honor.

The service was marked by simplicity, dignity and sincerity. The hymns used were the favorites of Mr. Smith, and these were, "I Need Thee Every Hour," "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," and "Work, for the Night Is Coming." Arthur H. Flint, moderator of the Church-in-the-Gardens, offered prayer; Mrs. R. P. Kaighn sang a solo, and Mrs. George C. Le Blanc was the organist. George Smart, acting president of the Men's Club, presided.

The speakers were S. W. Eckman, Luther Lewis, W. J. Gould, Leo O'Connell, John A. Kingsbury, Lawrence F. Abbott and the Rev. Dr. D. G. Latshaw.

HOME OF JOHN G. ELLIOTT

On Winter Street between Ascan Avenue and Summer Street, is the home of John G. Elliott illustrated above. The exterior walls are of rough cast stucco on hollow tile blocks. The massive brick chimney and attractive entrance, with the slightly curved roof lines, combine to relieve the design from monotony and at the same time give simplicity and uniformity to this very attractive home. This house is one of three planned and erected in this location by the Homes Company and has the advantage of well studied relations of setbacks, one to the other.

NEW NEIGHBORS IN THE GARDENS

Among the new purchasers in the Gardens are Mack Carmichael, who bought Mrs. Grant Rossman's house on Puritan Avenue; Dr. Philip G. Cole, Fred Haggerson, Fred Truempy and Harvey T. Warren who have bought the 4 house group on Greenway North; Willis J. Abbott who bought Harry P. Burton's house on Greenway North; Russell Parker, Jr., purchaser of the Carnahan house on Russell Place; Miss Estelle S. Haines who bought Mrs. W. R. Hulbert's house on Ingram Street; Carl K. McFadden purchaser from the Company of the dwelling in course of construction on Greenway North and Overhill Rd; Ned Bidde-son who bought Mr. Crowell's house on Continental Avenue; George W. Rogers who bought Arthur Naul's house on Tennis Place; T. S. Redmayne, A. Cameron, F. M. Knowles, H. D. Van Houten, F. T. Wallace, B. G. James, W. J. Dempsey, Miss O'Reilly, and H. P. Green, purchasers of the new Group on Burns Street; George L. Snowden and Frank Blanchard purchasers of the company's duplicate brick houses at the entrance to Fairway Close; Harry J. Brady who bought Mr. Eames' house on Summer Street; Donald G. Clark who bought the house on Markwood Road, corner of Union Turnpike; Miss Corscaden purchaser of the Stotler house on Beechknoll Road, and Miss K. C. Knobbe who bought Mr. Kinsey's house in Ivy Close.

AUDUBON SOCIETY

The Audubon Society has just sent out its annual plea for membership. The dues are only a dollar a year and the Society has no other income. The experiment of inviting and protecting birds in a built up community is a new one but the increase in the kinds of bird life to be seen has been such as to make it certain that with protection, the suppression of bird enemies and the gradual disappearance of the ubiquitous sparrow, the Gardens will become a genuine sanctuary. A SUBSCRIPTION TO THE AUDUBON SOCIETY IS A LANDSCAPE INSURANCE FEE.

THE BULLETIN FILES

THE BULLETIN is the 'town crier' of the Gardens. It has no political, social, or religious prejudices. Its ambition is to bring the news of current events to those whom it tries to serve. Its purpose is to interpret the community; to reflect its struggles; to gather up its loose ends; to call attention to its needs; to deal with facts; and to create an atmosphere of neighborly feeling."

We reprint these words of an earlier edition because they do reflect so well the function of the BULLETIN. Through the editorial column from week to week we try to interpret and to mold somewhat the trend of the community life. In the news columns, we print the news (all that can be crowded into its four pages) in such a way as to tell the story of our village life.

The story of Forest Hills Gardens today becomes the history of tomorrow! In the files of the BULLETIN will be found the history of this unique and interesting community; just as to the town records of the New England villages we turn for our primary sources in the history of that section. In the future, men and women will look to the bound volumes of this periodical to find the happenings of the early days; to read the story of the organizations and to see who the leaders were; and through the pictures to find examples of the beautiful architecture of our homes and the charming vistas of our streets and parks. The files of this paper become priceless in the story of the past.

It is the plan of the management to bind several copies of the different volumes into attractive and durable books. To do that we are asking readers to look over old papers and to send to the BULLETIN office, 9 Station Square, the following numbers, unfolded, which are so much needed. In volume 1, number 15, we need 4 copies; number 25, we need 2 copies. In volume 2, number 1, we need 5 copies; number 22, we need 5 copies; number 23, we need 4 copies; numbers 24, 25, and 26 we need 5 copies each. In volume 3, number 1, 2, 3 and 5 we need 5 copies each and in number 6, we need 3 copies. In volume 4, number 20, we need 4 copies.

We shall be grateful indeed to our friends who supply these missing numbers.

MOTHER'S CLUB

Many Plans Being Made to Raise Fund for the Proposed Community House—Card Party to be Given May 5.

The Mothers' Club is very much alive to the need of a Community House, which will furnish a gymnasium for the boys and girls, as well as providing other features. Mrs. George A. Douglass, president of the club, is general chairman of several committees which are planning entertainments to raise money for the Community House fund. Mrs. Louis C. Pedlar is chairman of publicity, Mrs. E. H. Mays is treasurer and Mrs. George C. Devol, Mrs. Ernest M. Bristol and Mrs. Samuel Castleman are members of the refreshment committee of this general committee.

Mrs. Henry Hirschberg will open her home, 108 Greenway North, for a party for bridge and five hundred on the afternoon of Wednesday, May 5, at two o'clock, to help in this good cause. Mrs. Harold P. Daniels is chairman of this affair. Mrs. Arthur P. S. Naul, Mrs. Basil D'Emo, Mrs. James A. Corscaden and Mrs. Frank Y. Low are to be the ushers. Several handsome prizes are to be donated. Admission tickets may be procured from Mrs. Daniels or at the Inn at $1 each. Refreshments will be served at 35c each after the games. The ladies are requested to invite their husbands to stop at the Hirschberg home and to join them in an hour of dancing, 5:30 P. M., to 6:30 P. M. Most artistic posters by Louis C. Pedlar have helped to advertise this party.

Mrs. Donald G. Clark is chairman of a committee making plans for an operetta "Cinderella in Flowerland," which will be given by seventy-five children in Olivia Park on the afternoon of June 5. Later copies of the BULLETIN will give further particulars.

PUBLIC SCHOOL

To the Parents of Children of School Age.

The principal of public schools 3 and 101 of Forest Hills wishes to know the number of children who will attend these schools next fall. The schools open Sept. 1920; school 3 will hold eight grades and a kindergarten; school 101 in Forest Hills Gardens will hold first, second and third grades and kindergarten.

Please notify the principal by May 10, so she may secure the necessary books, supplies and teachers. Will the parents kindly give the name, age, address and grade of each of their children.

Public Schools 3 and 101

The garden work of public school 101 has been planned; the children have started the work with great enthusiasm. The garden is to be divided into twenty-seven plots, including individual plots for the fifth, sixth and seventh years; class plots for the younger children, and larger school plots in which all will share.

Pupils of public schools 3 and 101 contributed $88 to the fund for Near East Relief. They have also contributed $4.50 recently toward the Statue of the Marne to be presented by the people of the United States to France.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Williamson, of Fairway Close, sailed April 17 on the Baltic for England. They will also visit France and Holland.

Mrs. A. M. Gray, of 38 Slocum Crescent, received some of her friends on the afternoon of Thursday, April 29.

On the afternoon of May 12, Mrs. George A. Douglass will entertain the members of the Mother's Club and the teachers of public schools 3 and 101.

Mrs. Anna C. Boyd, 7 Greenway Terrace, was hostess at a yellow tea on Tuesday, April 20, to compliment Mrs. James Garretson who is leaving the Gardens for Lawrence Park, Bronxville.

All regretted the departure of Mrs. Garretson, but united in wishing her much happiness in her new home.

Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Chalmers have gone to New Orleans, to attend the meeting of the American Medical Association. Doctor Chalmers is a delegate from the New York State Medical Society. They will return about May 3.

WOMEN'S CLUB

Evening Card Party to be Given May 12 for the Benefit of the Community House—Final Meeting of the Year to be Held May 3.

Mrs. James R. Woodrough will open her home, 215 Greenway South, Wednesday evening May 12, eight o'clock, when the Women's Club will give a bridge party for the benefit of the Community House. The ways and means committee, of which Mrs. Charles H. Scammell has been the successful chairman all year, will have charge of the affair. The tickets will be $1.25 each, including refreshments, and may be secured by sending a check to the chairman, Mrs. Scammell. There will be fifty tables and the tickets are selling fast, so that the first applicants will be the fortunate ones.

On Monday afternoon, May 3, at two o'clock at the Inn the annual meeting of the Women's Club will be held with Mrs. A. M. Gray in the chair. There will be an election of officers and the reports of all committees for the year.

Tuesday afternoon, May 4, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Eugene Schoen, 30 Olive Place, the current readings chapter will meet, when there will be an open discussion on the subject of the curricula of the secondary schools. There are some opponents and some exponents of the classical education in the group and this ought to prove a most interesting meeting.

The current readings chapter will hold its last meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Harold P. Daniels, 20 Markwood Road, on the afternoon of May 18. This will be a business and social meeting.

The music chapter which planned a meeting for April 23 for the study of Speaks, Granger and Nevin, has postponed that meeting until May 12, 2:30 P. M., when Mrs. George Barnes will entertain at her home 19 Winter Street.

THE GARDENS PLAYERS

The Gardens Players of Forest Hills will make their third production of the season at the Kew Gardens Country Club on next Thursday and Friday evenings, May 6 and 7.

Another bill of four short plays will be presented. "The Decision of the Court," by Brander Matthews, is a light comedy with love and the divorce court as its theme. Isabel Birmingham will play the part Agnes Booth made famous with Evelyn Dorr, Cecil Bayley and Maurice Mayer completing the cast. The second play is "A Bright Morning," a romance of old Spain, by Sarafin Quintero. In this play Harvey Warren, who has always played juvenile leads with the Gardens Players, makes his first appearance in a character part. Supporting Mr. Warren, Elizabeth Williamson and Beatrice Kieffer make their debut with the Players, and Bryan Dorr, recently seen in "Cooks and Cardinals," completes the cast.

"The House of Cards," by Percival Wilde, is a serious little aspect of life. Violet Eder, who was out of the cast of "The String of the Samisen" on account of illness, will make her reappearance with the Players after two years. Edward Swazey, who at the last performance brought a minor character part into fine prominence, will play a straight lead in this play. The bill closes with a smart farce, "Modesty," by Frank G. Tompkins, a teacher in a western school. The scene of "Modesty" is laid in a Turkish bath, but the Players' board of censorship has approved of its production. Jewell St. Leger Aldrich, the "Duchess" in last year's production of "Poached Eggs and Pearls," makes her reappearance in "Modesty," supported by Edward H. Moir, Beth Cason and Jack Posner.

The performance will start as usual immediately after the arrival at Kew of the train which passes through Forest Hills at 8:24 P. M., and arrangements have been made to have an eastbound express train stop at both Kew Gardens and Forest Hills immediately after the performance.

On Monday night, May 10, the Gardens Players are booked to play in Jamaica at the St. James Guild Hall under the auspices of the Jamaica Day Nursery.

There is on exhibition in the window of A. H. Van Houtten's chemist shop an interesting model of a stage setting which the Gardens Players have made and which they plan to construct during the summer for use in one of their Fall productions. The Players invite the co-operation of anyone interested in constructing models of this sort.

On the same evening, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Halsey, of Greenway South, entertained twenty-four guests, also in the Sun Parlor of the Inn, the two parties creating a very festive atmosphere. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins are now on a wedding trip through New England.

THE CHURCH-IN-THE-GARDENS

Rev. Harry O. Hannum, who supplied our pulpit on a former occasion, will be the speaker tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. He comes from Boston.

The place of woman's suffrage in the promotion of Christian Democracy proved an interesting topic, under Mr. Longcope's leadership, at the Thursday night open forum on applied Christian Democracy. E. T. Colton's talk last week was one of the clearest and sanest statements of the Russian situation that Forest Hills has heard. Whether a member of the church or not, you are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

The Church-in-the-Gardens is attempting $1,500 as its share in the nation-wide effort of the Interchurch World Movement. This movement represents the united program of thirty great denominations. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort. And they ask us world citizens to help make this a better world to live in. We can all save our local committee's time and effort if we will bring in our subscription tomorrow.

A church meeting is called for Tuesday evening, May 11, for the purpose of hearing a report from the committee on new pastor, and for the election of a trustee to fill the vacancy on the board caused by the death of Rowland H. Smith.

W. P. McC.

The Women's Guild of the Church-in-the-Gardens will meet all day, May 14, at the home of Mrs. Frederick E. Smith, corner Greenway South and Shorthill Road, with Mrs. R. P. Kaighn and Mrs. A. A. Renshaw as assistant hostesses. The ladies will sew for the Armenian children under the direction of Mrs. Ward J. MacNeal. A devotional and business meeting will be held in the afternoon.

SAINT LUKE'S

Easter Day, though stormy, found the chapel again filled to its capacity, some standing, with a devout congregation to greet the Risen Lord.

The Easter offering, for the reduction of the mortgage on the land, amounted to fifteen hundred dollars of which the Woman's Guild gave a thousand dollars.

In the afternoon the children had their joyful Easter festivals and carols, led by Mrs. Moir who had spent much time in training the children. There were several recitations, and a brief address by the Vicar.

The Children's Lenten offering, for general missions, collected in their mite boxes, was presented. They had done well in making an offering of fifty-one dollars and 87 cents, almost double that of 1919 and the largest in the history of the mission.

Mrs. Robert Tappan's class gave the Vicar a very handsome Amice to complete his set of Eucharist Vestments.

On Eater evening, April 3, the Vicar baptised, Euphemia Millar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Millar. On Easter day, he baptised Betty Vivian Crossman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lyman Crossman of New York City.

On Sunday evening last, Judge Davies as chairman, presided over an important meeting of the parishioners, who filled the chapel, to consider the Bishop's surprising wish to appoint another Priest in charge of the mission.

Attention is called to the change of time, during the summer, of the Sunday early celebration from 8 to 7:30 a. m.

Dance For St. Luke's

Seldom has there been given a prettier dance than that at the St. Regis Hotel Friday evening, April 23, under the auspices of St. Luke's Woman's Guild. The ball room suite of the St. Regis is a delightful place to have such a party. To Mrs. Curtis E. Kloetzer is largely due the idea of the dance and its success, also for securing the excellent music and charming solo dancing. Forest Hills was well represented and among the out-of-town guests was Governor Morrow, of Kentucky.

This dance brings to a fitting-climax the season's plans of the Woman's Guild. But it is earnestly requested that everyone bear in mind the rummage sale planned for the fall. Discarded articles of all kinds may be sent to Mrs. Thompson Sweeney, 5 Russell Place, who will be glad to store them until the date of sale.

Children's Fair

Today on the Green the children of St. Luke's parish will hold their fair at 2:30 P. M. There will be cake, candy and fancy articles for sale and a fortune teller will be there. At four o'clock the Queen of the May will be crowned and there will dancing around the May Pole. All friends of the children are invited to attend.
