FASHION SHOW IN DECEMBER

Women's Club to Study Styles—Chapters and Committees Active

The next meeting of the Women's Club will be held, as usual, at the Forest Hills Inn, Monday, 2 p. m., Dec. 1. Best & Co. will conduct a fashion show and each member of the club has the privilege of bringing one guest. The money which is ordinarily paid to a speaker will probably be voted for the philanthropic chapter, which will give the amount to some worthy cause. The civic committee is in charge of the December meeting.

At the November meeting, when the library committee was responsible for the program, a most charming little pageant was given. For the execution of the idea, Mrs. George Smart, library committee chairman, gives the credit to Mrs. Jules Gingras, who in turn insists that Mrs. E. M. Guyon deserves much praise for helping. At any rate, the club enjoyed the innovation of a library pageant at the meeting and as a result, the circulation of the books in the library has greatly increased since Nov. 3. Mrs. Guyon was at the piano when Pam Sweeny, "The Dance of Life," appeared and danced gracefully into the room leading "The Forest Hills Library," (Bobby Clarke), who, carrying a book almost as big as himself, was accompanied by Miss Florence Loper. These were followed by John Vincent Hogan and Jack Farrand, as "Where the Blue Begins"; Francis Gordon, as "Little Miss Muffet"; Karen Hasselriis, as "Red Riding Hood"; Jean O'Connell, as "Evangeline"; Carl Joys, "Treasure Island" and Dorothy Clark, as "In the Dozy Hours." The last named book is by Miss Agnes Repplier, who was the speaker of the afternoon.

Miss Repplier's subject was "What It Means To Be Civilized," and she spoke in polished English, with knowledge of her subject and using a humorous banter and satire which she employs in her essays. Although the cities have given to civilization art and letters, still Miss Repplier believes that they are not civilized. "Transportation in the large cities is impossible, indecent and uncivilized," she asserted. Also she asks for quiet and good manners in civilization. We have a right to expect sufficiency, security and freedom from the state, she believes.

"Our country has sufficiency, but since automobiles killed 11,000 people in the United States in 1923, have we security?" asked Miss Repplier. She believes that we have too many laws for freedom and spoke in praise of the few laws which England has. "In a democracy," she continued, "we must have pride of race and loyalty." "The study of history helps us think hopefully of our own time," was her conclusion.

Frederick Wheeler, baritone, with his sister, Grace Wheeler Dutton, at the piano, sang two groups of songs, in a rich, well cultivated voice, which captivated the audience.

Mrs. William A. Hume, civic committee chairman, reported that 12 of the 13 food stores had been inspected and that certificates of approval from the club would be awarded in January. The prize for the best kept zone goes to Mrs. George B. Hanavan, of the Continental zone.

The State Federation of Women's Clubs has accepted a gift of 100 acres of woodland in the Adirondacks, which will be kept as a state reservation. The different clubs are paying for reforesting the tract and the Women's Club of Forest Hills voted $3 to plant trees on one acre.

Mrs. Augustine J. Wilson asked for clothing for the Jamaica Day Nursery, particularly for a seven-year-old girl. But she also urged that clothing of all kinds be sent to her home, so that it could be taken to the Nursery and sold in the regular rummage sale, which nets $100 weekly for the institution. Members of the club are asked also to send to Mrs. Wilson's home canned fruit for the nursery.

The philanthropic chapter will meet Friday, Nov. 21, 3 p. m., at Mrs. Wilson's home, 80 Ascan Avenue, and all who are interested in this phase of the club's work are invited to attend.

The new members of the club are: Mrs. E. de Brun, Miss C. C. Carstens, Mrs. George W. Copp, Mrs. B. S. Deems, Mrs. H. S. Emlaw, Mrs. H. K. Endemann, Mrs. G. E. Fahys, Mrs. James Galbraith, Mrs. J. W. Gooding, Mrs. Alexander Greene, Mrs. Alice S. Gretsck, Mrs. Henry O. Howie, Mrs. Fred. W. Kentner, Mrs. T. M. McNiece, Mrs. E. C. McNutt, Mrs. F. W. Osburn, Mrs. Mae Patterson, Mrs. J. Oswald Parisette, Mrs. F. W. Roeder, Mrs. Katherine A. Schutz, Mrs. Jean M. Taddeken, Mrs. Julius Tannen, Mrs. Alfred I. Wright and Mrs. H. A. Yates.

WHAT CAN MEN DO?

Representatives of the Sterner Sex Will Consider Their Community Duties

The next meeting of the Men's Club will be held at the home of John Allen King, Greenway North and Ascan Avenue, when the subject will be "What Can Men Do for a Community?" Judge Charles F. Moore, who during more than two years of confinement on account of illness has given much thought to the problems of the community, will deliver a short address. Lockwood Barr, a prominent member of the Men's Club of Pelham, will tell what the men have done in that progressive suburb. Mr. Barr is assistant to the vice-President in charge of finances of the General Motors Co. It is expected that there will be a general discussion following the addresses of Judge Moore and Mr. Barr.

Secretary Bebb has written a brief history of the Men's Club which will be printed as a part of the club's new handbook, which is now being prepared.

Secretary Bebb urges those who have not already done so to fill out immediately the blanks sent to them inquiring as to their business addresses and telephone numbers as well as their home telephone numbers.

It is expected that the handbook with the list of names of members will be published at an early date, and it is earnestly desired that the information requested be given by all members.

The committees on civic affairs and constitution have held meetings recently and will report at the club meeting on Nov. 24.

The Home of Mr. and Mrs. Lytle J. Hunter, Greenway Terraces

CHORAL CLUB CONCERT DEC. 12

The Forest Hills Choral Club will give a card party at the home of Mrs. J. R. Woodrough, 215 Greenway South, Thursday, Nov. 20, 2 p. m. There will be prizes for each table and tea will be served at 4:30. Mrs. James H. Cassidy is chairman of the party and Mrs. F. W. Kiendl is treasurer. Other members of the committee are Mrs. G. Willis Drake, Mrs. H. P. Shedd, Mrs. F. Clark Thompson and Mrs. W. Harcourt Woods. Tables may be reserved from any member of the committee.

The first concert of the season of the Forest Hills Choral Club will be held on Friday evening, Dec. 12, at the Forest Hills Theatre. That date should be reserved by Forest Hills people, for, according to the leaders of the club, this will be the best concert which the club has given. A souvenir program is being prepared for the concert. The club appreciates the patronage of the merchants who make this program possible.

Alfred Boyce, director, is getting the enthusiastic following of the members and the singing is improving at each rehearsal. There are many very well trained voices which bring to the club the advantage of an accomplished technique. All who have good voices, whether trained or not, are urged to join. In this way their voices will be trained and in turn they will assist an organization which means so much to the community life. More voices will be welcome. Those who care to join will please get in touch with Mrs. Charles H. Scammell, president, Greenway Terraces.

CARE IN RE-SALES

THE quality of a community depends primarily and in the last analysis not upon the architecture and landscaping, important and vital as they are, but rather on the ideals and character of the people who make up the village population. This fact has been appreciated by the Cord Meyer Development Co., the Sage Foundation Homes Co. and the Forest Hills Gardens Homes Co., for from the beginning these companies have been interested in the quality of the purchasers as well as their financial ability to buy houses here. This method augured well for the future of Forest Hills and, with due modesty, we think that it has been proven that the course has been wise.

Besides these companies, there are seven real estate offices in town, ready to help us rent or re-sell our houses. Every time one walks on Continental Avenue a new sign of some new realtor appears. These are valuable people in the community and we welcome them, but we urge the realtors to use care in the selection of purchasers. This is a critical time for Forest Hills, and we like to believe that people of clean character and ethical ideals will continue to find Forest Hills a congenial place in which to live. This kind of people helps to keep up property values, and for purely selfish reasons, if for no better, the realtors should investigate those who wish to make this place their home.

Charles Edmund Page, a resident of Forest Hills for many years, died very suddenly on Nov. 3. Funeral services were held at Zion Church, Douglaston, L. I., on the morning of Nov. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Page and their son, Charles, Jr., lived for some time in the house which they owned on Underwood Road, the house now owned and occupied by the Alexander Greene family. Later they lived at the Inn, and then in the Tennis Apartments. They have a great many friends in Forest Hills.

JAMES RIDPATH DIES

James Ridpath, of Sharon, Iowa, died about two weeks ago, following an accident in which the vehicle in which he was riding was hit by a truck. Mrs. Ridpath (Mabel Brewer), has many friends in Forest Hills, for she and her family were pioneer residents here and she was the kindergarten teacher of Public School 101. She and her husband met abroad while doing war relief work under the Friends Committee and were married after their return to this country. Besides Mrs. Ridpath, Mr. Ridpath is survived by a little daughter.

MRS. FLORY DIES

Word has reached Forest Hills of the recent death of Mrs. Esther S. Flory, wife of Curtis B. Flory, at her home in East Orange, N. J., after a long illness. The interment was at Scranton, Pa. Mrs. Flory lived for some time at 16 Park End Place, Forest Hills Gardens. She is survived by her husband, her daughter Gertrude V., and a son, C. Bertram, a junior at Lehigh University.

NEW BOOKS IN THE LIBRARY

The circulation of books from the Forest Hills Library this month so far shows a marked increase.

Among the new books recently added to the collection are: another clean book by Temple Bailey, "Peacock Feathers"; Thomas Beer's new biography, "The Life of Stephen Crane"; "Pilgrimage," a new novel by Johann Bojer; "Switzerland in Summer," an entertaining travel book by Will Cadby; Joseph Clouston's, "Lunatic At Large Again"; Curwood's new Canadian story, "A Gentleman of Courage"; Maud Diver's short stories entitled "Siege Perilous"; "As To Polo," by William Forbes; "Guilt," a mystery, by Forman; "Georgian Stories of 1924"; Hacher Hughes' successful play, "Hell-Bent for Heaven"; William Locke's new English story, "The Coming of Amos"; "The Gracious Hostess," a book on etiquette by Mrs. D. Lutes; Kathleen Norris' "Rose of the World"; "The Little French Girl," Anne Sedgwick's latest success; Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan"; Shelia Kaye-Smith's unusual story, "Isle of Thorns"; "Lady Rose Weigall," a biography by her daughter; a mystery by Honore Willsie, "The Devonshers."

There are now fifteen books in the Lincoln Collection at the Library.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORS

Denie Claypoole gave a dance to about 60 of her young friends on Saturday evening, Nov. 1, in the Home Grill Restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur N. Penn, Shorthill Road, have written from Havana that it has been very warm there. The Penns have left Havana for Mexico City and by this time are probably in the latter city.

Mrs. J. A. Corscaden, Underwood Road, has had enjoyable visits in Washington, D. C. and Mt. Holyoke, Mass.

Edward A. Dow, Ibis Street, spent last week-end with his daughter, Evelyn, at Wellesley, Mass., where she is a Freshman in the college. They attended the Princeton-Harvard game last Saturday.

Irving K. Ward, Borage Place, recently visited his daughter, Helen, at Wilson College, Chambersburgh, Pa. Miss Helen is thoroughly enjoying her mother's alma mater.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McKenzie, of Kelvin Street, spent the week-end in Atlantic City.

FOOTBALL AT KEW-FOREST

This is the first year that football has been played at Kew-Forest School. Although the team does meet defeat, as it did Nov. 8 at Bronxville, 26 to 0, still Coach Bill Hazel, brother of the famous Rutgers star, has done much in the short time in which the boys have been in training for football at Kew-Forest. There is much promise in that team. The line-up last Saturday for the local school was: end, Degnon; tackle, Lhevine; guard, Elliott; center, Earl; right guard, Quitman; right tackle, Haggerson; right end, Davenport; quarter back, Fowler; left halfback, Renshaw; right halfback, Wicke, and full back, Hubbard, who is captain.

MISS CARITHERS MARRIES

Miss Etta Wylie Carithers, niece of Mrs. J. Floyd McTyier, Summer Street, was married Nov. 4 at Fort Valley, Ga., to Lawrence Edward Houston. They will live at Fort Valley. Mrs. Houston has many friends in Forest Hills, for she lived in the home of her uncle and aunt while taking a post-graduate course in sociology at Columbia University. She has been Y. W. C. A. secretary at the Georgia State College for Women, her alma mater, and she originated the peach blossom festival of Georgia, following the custom of the famous cherry blossom festival of Japan.

MOTHERS INTERESTED IN HEALTH INSPECTION

The Gardens Mothers' Club met last Monday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Donald G. Clark, Markwood Road, and listened to a very interesting talk from Dr. M. M. Vinton, medical inspector for the Board of Health. She discussed the health of the school child and laid emphasis on the care of eyes and teeth. She told that medical inspections are made in the public schools once a month. Eyes, ears, teeth, heart, lungs, feet and nerves are examined and a report for each child is made in detail. Miss Mabel Sondheim, principal of the school, was present and spoke also.

THE INN

Saturday evening marked the opening of the Century Supper Club in the ball-room of the Inn, tables being laid in the sun parlor and blue room. Owing to the limited space, reservations were closed on Friday and for that reason many who had expected to attend were turned away at the last moment. One of the special features of the evening was the interpretative dancing of Miss Harriett Russ, of New York, who gave as her first number an Egyptian dance and later a skating ballet number, which proved so popular that she responded to an encore.

Manager Meade, who originated and supervised the evening's entertainment, was the recipient of many pleasing comments in the course of the evening.

Mrs. George Smith will be hostess at a luncheon and bridge in the sun parlor on Tuesday.

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion has reserved the sun parlor for their usual tea and card party on Wednesday afternoon.

A special feature of the coming week will be a dinner for 150 guests given by the Women's Auxiliary of the Mary Immaculate Hospital, Jamaica.

Mr. and Mrs. Manton Morse Marble recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Tibbett and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sills. Mr. Tibbett is at present with the Metropolitan Opera Co., and Mr. Sills has recently signed a two-year contract to the First National Pictures Corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. Rivers will entertain about 50 guests in the sun parlor of the Inn on Saturday evening.

Mrs. J. B. Armstrong is giving a luncheon on Wednesday for several friends.

Among the recent arrivals from abroad are: Henry Le Fevre, of Mulhouse, France; H. N. Smith, of Scarborough, England; Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Nettlefold, and family, of Melbourne, Australia.

Mrs. Samuel Castleman had as her guest over the week-end her sister, Mrs. E. V. Sumner, of Vineyard Haven, Mass.

Little Miss Rosetta Duncan was the recent guest of her aunt, Miss Evelyn Blow.

Their many friends at the Inn were pleased to welcome Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Butterick, of Boston, who have returned for a several weeks' visit.

J. B. Johnson was a week-end guest of his father, J. M. Johnson.

Recent arrivals include: Lieut. Commander and Mrs. H. B. McCleary, U. S. N.; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Beard, and Mrs. Asa B. Gardner, Baltimore; Mrs. K. Chandler, New York; Miss Emma O'Neil, Pasadena, Calif.; Norman D. Johnson, and H. D. Jarette, Montreal; Mrs. J. P. Walsh, Garden City.

Mr. and Mrs. George K. Reed will have as their guest over the week-end, Edward O'Neil, Sewickley, Pa. Mr. O'Neil is a nephew of Mrs. Reed and he will join Mr. and Mrs. Reed in a motor trip to Princeton to attend the game on Saturday.

SEASON'S PROGRAM FOR PLAYERS

The Gardens Players are handicapped for lack of a place to act. In spite of that fact, the Players will meet at the home of Mrs. Frederick Kiendl, 60 Greenway Terraces, Nov. 17, at 8:30 p. m., and there will be read "Crainquebille" by Anatole France.

During the week between Christmas and New Year's, "Eagerheart" will be presented, under the direction of Miss Bertha Mandell, in the Church-in-the-Gardens. The play will be put on under the auspices of the Women's Guild and the net profits will go to the Community House.

If possible, the Players will enter a production in the Little Theatre tournament this winter.

It is hoped to put on an outdoor production in the spring.

If the meeting on Nov. 17 proves enjoyable, other evenings of that nature will be arranged.

APPEAL OF THE RED CROSS TO FOREST HILLS

On the afternoon of election day, Nov. 4, four Boy Scouts, under the direction of Rev. Albert Sheppard, placed Red Cross advertising matter in all the homes of Forest Hills and East Forest Hills. Last Sunday afternoon a large group of ladies met in the Presbyterian Church for the purpose of organizing the canvass which is going forward for the National Red Cross Roll Call. Every home and business house in the community will be given an opportunity to join this roll call by dollar membership. It is hoped that, in view of the work carried on by the Red Cross, a 100 per cent response will be made to this appeal in Forest Hills.

TELLS OF WAR'S HORRORS

Lieut. Hare Describes Some of His Experiences—Preparedness Strongly Urged.

The Boys' Biography Class of the Church-in-the-Gardens listened with rapt attention last Sunday to an informal address in honor of Armistice Day by Lieut. Irving H. Hare, who served in the world war and narrowly escaped death several times. Lieut. Hare began his talk by telling of the events on the very last day of the war, when the men were troubled by fear to an unusual extent because they dreaded what might happen in the closing hours of the great conflict. Many were in fact killed and wounded just before the final shots were fired.

Lieut. Hare told of an experience which he had when walking along a road in France with three companions. A shell landed near the road, and Lieut. Hare found himself somewhat later about thirty feet from where he had been walking. He had been hurled that far but not injured. He was horror stricken to find that his three companions had been shot to pieces.

Lieut. Hare said he believed that the world is getting better, but that there have always been wars and he feared there would be some more; hence he advocated being thoroughly prepared for any conflict that might come.

He related some interesting experiences connected with the recent mobilization day, telling of interviews with restaurant people, who were questioned as to the number of men they could serve. They were enthusiastic over the prospect of an immediate and large increase of business, not realizing that the soldiers, in looking for information, were merely stating a hypothetical case.

Lieut. Hare is now in the Anti-Aircraft Service, and is of the opinion that considerable progress has been made in providing equipment to shoot down airplanes. He regards the air service as highly important and believes in its development to the utmost. He is also an ardent believer in military training at Plattsburgh. He believes that to prepare for emergencies is the best way to prevent war.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY ELECTION

The Forest Hills Auxiliary of the Jamaica Hospital held the annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Niels F. Holch, the retiring president, 125 Ascan Avenue, on Nov. 6. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Frederick M. Waterbury, president; Mrs. Niels F. Holch, first vice-president; Mrs. R. Dierck, second vice-president; Mrs. R. E. Renaud, recording secretary; Mrs. G. H. Wicke, treasurer, and Mrs. H. N. Vermilye, corresponding secretary. The chairman of the hospital visiting committee is Mrs. Lyman Beecher Stowe; chairman of hospitality is Mrs. Burns Mantle; chairman of publicity is Mrs. Beatrice D'Emo. Members of the advisory board are Mrs. Donald G. Clark, Mrs. Albert Sheppard, Mrs. Harry Hardinge and Mrs. Augustine J. Wilson.

The new president is taking hold with enthusiasm and announces that the auxiliary will have a busy winter, and that the executive board will meet once a month. The quota for Forest Hills for the Jamaica Hospital building fund was $16,500, of which all but $4,000 has been raised during the presidency of Mrs. Holch. It is the determination of the new officers to raise the rest of the quota.

The new hospital is receiving praise from the medical profession as well as from patients. Latest and best equipment has been installed in every department. The maternity suite, toward which the money from Forest Hills went, is receiving most favorable comment from every visitor. A cordial invitation is extended to Forest Hills people to visit and inspect the hospital, which is located within two miles of the Square. Because of its location and equipment, it is no longer necessary for Forest Hills people to go a greater distance to find a thoroughly modern hospital. All who wish to contribute to this institution should mail checks to Mrs. George H. Wicke, 19 Markwood Road.

PUBLIC SCHOOL 3 MOTHERS TO MEET

The Mothers' Club of Public School 3 will hold its regular monthly meeting in the school Monday, Nov. 17, 3 p. m. Mrs. Louis Jeserwit, of the Federation of Child Welfare Workers, will speak. Her subject will be "The Moral Training of Children." Dr. Vinton will give a ten-minute talk on the work of the Tuberculosis Committee in Queens. Mrs. Harry Law will be the hostess of the afternoon and will serve tea.

CHURCH-IN-THE-GARDENS

The senior choir of the Church-in-the-Gardens has been reassembled and under the direction of Samuel Pearce is making a marked contribution to the services. Last Sunday, November 9, the anthems were: "Souls of the Righteous" (Noble), and "Great Is Jehovah" (Schubert). The music for the next two Sundays is as follows:

Nov. 16—"Adagio" (Organ), Widor; "The Lord Is My Rock" (Anthem), Rogers; "Blessed Be the Lord" (Soprano), Foster; Allegro—Symphony VI, Widor.

Nov. 23—"Allegretto Grazioso" (Organ), Tours; "At Twilight" (Organ), Frysinger; "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem" (Anthem), Maunder; "Imperial March," Elgar.

On Thanksgiving Day a union service will be held in the Church-in-the-Gardens, at which Rev. Albert Sheppard will preach. Music will be furnished by the junior choir.

Among the recent soloists at the Junior Church have been Elizabeth Chaney and Victor Luneborg. Last Sunday the choir sang Barnby's "O Lord, How Amiable." Mrs. Alexander Greene, the director, is drilling the children now in Thanksgiving and Christmas music.

The enlargement of the Church School has made it necessary to divide two more classes: the one of junior girls, taught by Miss Huldah Flint, and the other of beginners, taught by Miss Dorothy Flint. The two new classes will be taught by Mrs. Alden H. Vose and Mrs. F. W. Osburn respectively. At least one more class will have to be divided before many weeks. The Church School needs larger accommodations immediately, but will have to endure the makeshifts until the Community House is ready.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Tomorrow's services at the First Presbyterian Church, Seminole Avenue and Gown Street, are as follows: 10 o'clock, Church School; Henry Peelle, superintendent. 11 o'clock, public worship. Rev. Albert Sheppard, minister of the church, will preach on the topic, "Best Men Are Moulded Out of Faults." The subject for the fourth Sunday in the month will be "Making America Christian." This will be National Missions Week in the Presbyterian churches throughout the country.

Forest Hills Boy Scouts Troop No. 1 meets each Friday night in the Social Room of the church. The Scouts are busy collecting used magazines, in order that by their sale they may be able to contribute something to some worthy charity yet to be decided upon.

Forest Hills Girl Scouts meet each Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Social Room of the church. All girls qualified to join are cordially invited to the next meeting of the Girl Scouts. Miss C. B. Ford is captain of the troop.

The First Annual Parish "Get-together" will be held on Monday, Nov. 24, in the Guild Hall at 8:15 p. m. Several speakers will be on hand and a pleasant informal evening is promised. Every member of the parish is expected to be present.

Beginning Sunday, Nov. 16, the hour of Evensong will be changed from 5 p. m. to 4 p. m. for the winter months.

ARMISTICE DAY AT THE PUBLIC SCHOOL

Public School 3 had two programs on Armistice Day, one for the primary grades and later one for the grammar grades. The following children took part at the earlier program: Sarah Wheeler, Robert Marsh, Leslie Marsh, Charles Powers, Edwin Getz, Dorothy Anderson, Virginia Drake, Dan Kelly, Patty Chase and several groups of children.

The principal speaker at the later program was Lieut. Nicholas M. Pette, of the 77th Division, who has been state assemblyman and assistant district attorney. He is a resident of Kew Gardens. Charles Schill, custodian engineer of the building, told of an experience he had on a submarine in the war. Rev. Albert Sheppard read scripture. The boys and girls who took part were: Perry MacNeal, Victor Luneborg, Thomas Pedlar, Gordon Grace, Mona Hasselriis, Margaret Muniz, Doris Magne, Dorothy Reinert and several groups of the pupils. Miss Theresa Floruss, teacher, and a chorus of pupils sang "La Marseillaise."

CHAPLAINS FOR JAMAICA HOSPITAL

At the invitation of the trustees of the Jamaica Hospital, a group of clergymen met at the hospital last week to consider possible plans for the chaplaining of the hospital. A committee representing different denominations was appointed to devise a scheme which could be approved by the trustees, and this committee is already at work. The chairman is Rev. R. T. Homans, Grace Episcopal Church, Jamaica, and the secretary, Rev. C. E. Silcox, of the Church-in-the-Gardens, Forest Hills.
