HELEN KELLER'S MESSAGE

Thanksgiving Address to the Children of the Church-in-the-Gardens—An Inspiring Event

Last Sunday morning Miss Helen Keller, unquestionably one of the most noted women in the world, who has lived so inconspicuously in Forest Hills that many citizens have not known that the village was honored by her presence for seven or eight years, delivered a most impressive Thanksgiving message last Sunday morning to the Junior Church of the Church-in-the-Gardens. In spite of what are supposed ordinarily to be handicaps, blindness and deafness, the beauty and forcefulness of her words were such as few people who see and hear have ever attained. Miss Keller said:

Dear Children of the Junior Church:

Just now, when the Thanksgiving spirit is seeking to express itself everywhere, it seems a good moment for us to stop and think about the meaning of Thanksgiving. It means being grateful to our Heavenly Father for all His loving kindness to us. It means giving happiness, and sharing the good things we have with others. It means being kind to people who are not as happy as we are. It means that we must try to remember every one who is poor or sad or friendless. It means that no child shall go hungry. It means that no sick person in our great land shall need help without getting it. So you see, Thanksgiving Day has a big meaning. The kindness we do to others makes every joy sweeter. If we help them to have a good time, we have a lot more fun ourselves.

My heart is full of thanksgiving this morning because others have been good to me, and helped me to overcome the handicap of deafness and blindness. Once I was very, very unhappy. When I was a baby, I lost my sight and hearing through illness. For nearly six years I was a fretful, wild little creature. Nobody knew what to do with me, not even my dear mother.

Then my teacher came to me, and everything was changed. Her heart was full of pity and love, and she thought out ways to teach me. At the beginning she taught me to spell words on my fingers. The first word I learned was d-o-l-l, doll. Then she helped me to find my lost voice. I learned to read and write and talk. She also helped me to discover that I had a spirit, and that God is love. I found out that there was enough sunshine in that Love to brighten a dark world. It is because some one cared about me that I am able to speak to you today.

I am glad to know that you care about making blind people happy. Your offering will help to buy nice books and many things the blind need. Yes, it will go like a sunbeam into their darkness. Thank you so much, dear children!

I want to tell you something which you may not all understand now; but as you grow older, you will understand. What we think in our hearts, and do, first for the other fellow, and then for ourselves, is the thing that makes us happy, and life worth living. Because people care, the blind receive their sight, and the dumb find their tongue. Because thousands of people care, they are going to make the world more like what God wants it to be. That is something to try for, hope for and pray for—that we may think more, feel more, love more and care more—that all His children may have life more abundantly, as He said they should.

After the address, to which the children listened with rapt attention, Miss Keller, accompanied by her companion, Miss Polly Thomson, went to the Social Room of the church, and the intensely interesting methods by which ability to speak was acquired were explained by Miss Thomson and demonstrated by Miss Keller. Her ability to acquire sound by the touch method was observed with amazement.

MEN'S CLUB DEEPLY MOVED

Judge Moore Talks on Real Things—Mr. Barr Tells of Pelham Club Activities—New Members Elected

The Men's Club, in the ten years of its existence, has had many eventful meetings, but seldom, if ever, has one been held which moved the members so profoundly and was characterized by such exalted sentiment of neighborly helpfulness as was the one at the genuinely hospitable home of John Allen King, Greenway North and Ascan Avenue, Monday evening, Nov. 24.

Judge Moore, wheeled from his home, where he has been an invalid for more than two years, frail in body, but stronger than ever in mind, sat in a comfortable chair and with soul-stirring words talked to his friends and neighbors of the real things of life, concerning which his meditations during his seclusion have given him deeper appreciation than he had in the days of his health. No abstract of the address could do it justice, and the club hopes that Judge Moore will be able to reproduce it for publication in full. He spoke without notes.

The subject of the evening was "What Men Can Do for a Community," and Judge Moore, while giving full credit to the state, the church, the club and other organizations for all they accomplish, stressed the personal, individual responsibility of every man to serve his fellow men from day to day in the common things of life.

The other speaker of the evening was Lockwood Barr, manager of publicity of General Motors Corporation and an active member of the Men's Club of Pelham, who, in an exceedingly interesting manner, told how that club had served the community and also entertained its members. The club has over 600 members, and takes part actively in promoting the schools and in promoting the public welfare in many ways.

The constitution of the Men's Club of Forest Hills is a model of brevity, and a committee, appointed at the last meeting to consider amending or supplementing the constitution, reported that the 26 lines of which it is now composed appeared to answer the purpose perfectly, with no substantial change. It was decided not to limit membership to the Gardens.

The club showed its approval of a movement, initiated by the Forest Hills Mothers' Club of Public School 3, looking to having the Forest Hills Theater show motion pictures which are suitable for children to see. The Civic Committee was directed to use its efforts with the management of the theater to the desired end.

The president was authorized to appoint a committee to confer with the officers of the Celebrations Association in regard to the Fourth of July and Christmas celebrations, with a view to making them conform to original ideas of the club where the celebrations were inaugurated.

The following new members were elected: Hoyt B. Evans, W. W. Corlett, F. E. Tyrell, Harry E. Hanes, Thomas Lawton, Harry Banning, George Hampton.

FOREST HILLS, LONG ISLAND

Published fortnightly by

SAGE FOUNDATION HOMES COMPANY*CORD MEYER DEVELOPMENT COMPANY*FOREST HILLS GARDENS HOMES COMPANY*FOREST HILLS INN*AU REVOIR

THIS is the last news issue of the FOREST HILLS BULLETIN. The companies financially responsible for the publication do not feel justified in longer bearing the expense. They reluctantly permit the paper to cease publication, and they do so only after the Cord Meyer Development Company has given the Forest Hills Association and the Gardens Corporation an opportunity to assist that company in carrying it on.

A large, illustrated supplement of this number will be mailed in an envelope, just before Christmas, Dec. 13, to every one on the BULLETIN mailing list. It is hoped that this special, final number will be prized by all who receive it. It is a gift to the readers from the Cord Meyer Development Company.

The first issue of the FOREST HILLS GARDENS BULLETIN appeared on Sept. 25, 1915, and the publisher was the Sage Foundation Homes Company. In May, 1922, the financial responsibility was assumed by the Sage Foundation Homes Company, the Cord Meyer Development Company, the Forest Hills Gardens Homes Company, the Forest Hills Inn and the Gardens Apartment, Inc. In September, 1922, the last-named company withdrew and the other four companies have continued the paper to date. In May, 1922, the name of the paper was changed to the FOREST HILLS BULLETIN, and since that date a special effort has been made to have the news cover every geographical part of the village. To these companies the readers of the paper are indebted for the publication, which has printed the news, held up community ideals and brought together the various interests of the village. Seventeen hundred copies have been printed fortnightly. The Jackson Heights News, the Country Club District Bulletin, of Kansas City, and three or four other similar papers have been started, in the country, following the example of the BULLETIN—a pioneer of its kind—and for a number of years they have served their communities in the same way.

In June, 1919, the writer became editor of the paper and has always aimed to keep it at the highest standard as a community newspaper and historically accurate as a town record. On the editorial page of the New York World appears this motto: "There is mental exercise and a lot of satisfaction in trying to say much in a few words." This might have been regularly printed at the head of this column, for we have been compelled to weigh every word. We have come to know intimately the officers and leaders of the various organizations and churches, as well as many others who have taken a less responsible part in the village life. Many residents, men and women of newspaper and magazine experience, have from time to time contributed articles which have been greatly appreciated by all the readers. It would be impossible to name all who have helped, one way and another, to produce the BULLETIN, but to all of these we say a heartfelt "Thank you" for understanding, encouragement, and co-operation.

Five sets of the BULLETIN were indexed and bound, covering the years from 1915 to 1920; one of these was for the New York Public Library and one for the local library, so that they will always be available as a town record. Several sets of the volumes from 1920 to Dec. 13, 1924, will be indexed and bound in three-quarters morocco, and one copy each will be placed in the New York Public Library and the local library, to be of service to the greatest number of people interested in the history of Forest Hills.

L.A.S.

LET US PAY A COMPLIMENT TO HELEN KELLER

Miss Helen Keller, Mrs. John A. Macy and Miss Polly Thomson, Seminole Avenue, will start on a long speaking tour, Dec. 2, in order to help raise the $2,000,000 fund for the Foundation for the Blind. Miss Keller, doubly afflicted and marvelously gifted; Mrs. Macy, the phenomenal teacher, and Miss Thomson, who is a most efficient companion to both of them, will make the living appeal to the American people to give this money which will mean better schools for the blind, more and better Braille books, better typewriters, better equipment in every way for the education of those who cannot see. Last Sunday morning Miss Keller told the children of the Church School of the Church-in-the-Gardens why she is thankful. Her wonderful message is printed elsewhere. The children gave $100 for the Foundation for the Blind.

It seems to the writer that Forest Hills, the home town of Helen Keller, may want to augment that sum many times, as a sort of compliment to a neighbor who has overcome insurmountable obstacles. Surely there are many here who want to give. Mail checks to Mrs. George Smart, Deepdene Road, and she will see that the gifts are forwarded to the American Foundation for the Blind. Helen Keller's warm heart will be kindled anew and she will have still another reason for being thankful.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORS

Herbert Warren Allen, 2317 Cortelyou Road, Flatbush, Brooklyn, has purchased the house at 120 Meteor Street and will make this his home after Dec. 1.

George S. Springsteen has purchased the house at 112 Meteor Street and he and his family are occupying the house now.

Robert Tappan has bought the house at 116 Meteor Street. These new houses on Meteor Street have been built by the Cord Meyer Development Company after plans drawn by Mr. Tappan. They are called Cape Cod houses.

U. S. Commander Victor Herbster, of Ballston Spa, N. Y., has purchased the very attractive house at 104 51st Street. This is one of a series of houses, designed by William Patterson, and built in a circle by the Cord Meyer Company. Each house is most complete and while each one has much individuality, still there is a harmony of the whole group. The Herbster family will move into the house, recently purchased, about Dec. 1.

Miss Mabel Sondheim has encouraged the school children to clean up all the lots adjoining Public School 3, on Meteor Street.

Rev. and Mrs. W. P. S. Lander, Ascan Avenue, announce the birth of a son, William Wolter, Tuesday, Nov. 18. Mr. Lander is the Rector of St. Luke's Church.

Mrs. W. E. Woodard, Groton Street, is recovering from an operation, at Jamaica Hospital.

Mrs. D. M. Sarkisian, of Jewel Street, who underwent an operation in the Jamaica Hospital two weeks ago, is recuperating in her home.

The drive for the Roll Call of the National Red Cross has been completed in Forest Hills by a large group of ladies, under the direction of Rev. Albert Sheppard. It appears that almost 100 per cent of the people here have either subscribed through the local canvassers, or in New York.

The Kew-Forest School field was the scene Thanksgiving morning of a football game, in which the Boys' Biography Class of the Church-in-the-Gardens defeated the E. H. Mays Class of the same church by a score of 41 to 0.

Children who ride unlighted bicycles on the streets of Forest Hills after dark strike terror into the hearts of those who drive automobiles and endanger their own lives.

ETHEL LEGINSKA TO APPEAR

The Forest Hills Choral Club will present Ethel Leginska, pianist, at the concert to be held in the Forest Hills Theatre, Dec. 12, 8 p. m. Leginska ran away from Frankfort when a young girl and she went to Vienna where she could study under the great Leschetizky, who showed her many kindnesses and for a long time taught her gratuitously. She says of music: "To me, music is a language, each note, every phrase, carries a message, a meaning. To find and proclaim that meaning should, to my sense, be the aim of the interpreter. I try to find what the piece means. It may not always be exactly the meaning of the composer, but it is what the music means to me. Even as a little child I had this idea, that music meant something definite. The music made pictures for me; I could see them in my mind."

Mrs. Rose Schulze-Berge, soprano, Forest Hills, whose voice has rare quality and training, will also appear. The sixty voices of the club will be under the direction of Alfred Boyce. After the concert, the club members and guests are invited to Forest Hills Inn for dancing until 12:30.

A souvenir program is being prepared which will contain photographs of the artists and lists of names of active and associate members. The merchants of Forest Hills are supporting the program liberally, but there are a few spaces left. For space in the program, please apply to Mrs. Charles H. Scammell, Greenway Terraces. It is important to renew subscriptions to membership at once, so that the program may contain the names of all members.

WILL SEE LATEST FASHIONS

The members of the Women's Club will see the latest fashions, put on by Best & Co., under the direction of Mrs. K. P. Fritz, next Monday afternoon, Dec. 1, in the ball room of Forest Hills Inn. Each member has the privilege of bringing one guest. The program is announced for 2 o'clock, as usual, but only those who come promptly will be able to get seats.

The current readings chapter will meet Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 2, 2:30 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. C. C. Carstens, 212 Gardens Apartments, when Mrs. Goldthwaite H. Dorr will review "The White Monkey" by John Galsworthy. Mrs. J. Gorton Marsh will be assistant hostess.

The same chapter will meet Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 16, 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. William H. Kershaw, 31 Greenway Terraces, when Miss Rose Terry will review "The Little French Girl," by Anne Douglas Sedgwick. Mrs. S. E. Davenport, Jr., will be the assistant hostess.

The philanthropic chapter will meet at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Augustine J. Wilson, 80 Ascan Avenue, Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 19, 3 o'clock. All who are interested in the philanthropic work of the club are invited to the meetings of this chapter.

CHRISTMAS EVE CELEBRATION PLANNED

The lovely and colorful Christmas Eve pageant will pass up and down the streets of the Gardens on Dec. 24, as formerly. There will be two floats of singers and many more assistants to Santa Claus than in former years, so as to cover all the ground at any earlier hour than usual. There will also be singing by local talent in Station Square.

The custom of making gifts for the poor was inaugurated three years ago and this will be emphasized this year. A large chimney will be in evidence in the Square and in it may be placed money, toys, books and clothing for unfortunate children of Queens, who have so much less than the children of Forest Hills. Last year $100 was given to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children in Queensboro and several automobile loads of clothing, toys, and books were divided between the Big Sisters of Queensboro and the Jamaica Day Nursery. It is the hope of the committee that people of Forest Hills will be even more generous this year.

BARN DANCE A SUCCESS

The Masonic Temple presented a rustic scene, Friday evening, Nov. 21, when the Women's Guild of the Church-in-the-Gardens gave a barn dance, for the benefit of the Community House. The walls were decorated with corn husks and from the ceiling were hung many flags. At one end of the room was a country store, where apples, pumpkins and doughnuts were sold. Coffee and cider were given away. Mrs. H. W. Hillman received the prize for the best woman's costume and her prize was "A Book of Hims." Otto L. Grever received the prize for the best costume among the men and his prize was an ash tray.

Mrs. Beatrice D'Emo and Mrs. Henry Hof were co-chairmen of dance, which netted a neat little sum for the Community House.

THE INN

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Batcheller entertained at a large dinner in the sun parlor on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hall Gerould, of Princeton, N. J., were recent guests of Mrs. Gerould's mother, Mrs. B. M. Fullerton. Mrs. Gerould is the well known author, Katherine Fullerton Gerould.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Meyer entertained at a dinner of ten covers in the sun parlor on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wood, Miss Wood, and their house guest, Mrs. Arthur E. Kustere, of Grand Rapids, Mich., motored to New Haven on Saturday for the Yale-Harvard game.

There was a large contingent from the Inn attending the Yale-Harvard game on Saturday, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fullerton, G. H. Dorr and family, Charles Irwin and Bradford Fullerton.

Lieut.-Col. D. S. Fairchild, and family, of New Haven, Conn., were recent guests of the Inn.

Mrs. B. Paget Chandler, of Lakeland, Fla., is staying at the Inn while visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Miss Dorothea McNulty, of New York, held an exhibition and sale of Batik and hand-decorated works from 5 until 10 p. m. in the sun parlor of the Inn on Nov. 28.

Mrs. Charles H. Fitch, and daughter, Miss Fitch, of Boston, have taken a suite at the Inn for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wood, and Miss Wood, are spending the Thanksgiving holidays in Pittsburgh and Grand Rapids.

The Big Sisters of Queens held their annual benefit dance in the ball-room of the Inn on Wednesday evening. Music was furnished by the Inn orchestra and the whole affair was a marked success.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Carlyle Goodwin, and daughter, Audrey, have returned from a visit to Mr. Goodwin's parents in Montreal. They made the trip to attend the wedding of Mr. Goodwin's sister, who was married in Montreal last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jewett are entertaining Mrs. Jewett's niece, Miss Audrey McGrath, over the week-end.

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion will be held in the sun parlor of the Inn on Monday evening at 8 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Fenlon are returning the first of the week from an extended western trip.

The regularly monthly bridge in aid of the work of the Big Sisters of Queens will be held in the ball-room on Monday evening at 8 p. m., Dec. 1.

QUEENS COUNCIL, GIRL SCOUTS

Attractive 1925 calendars brought out by the Girl Scouts are now available. The colors are dark blue on a background of gray. Each page shows photographs of Scouts at work and play. The pictures were taken by Queens Scouts as souvenirs of any interesting events during the past year.

The calendars will make useful and attractive Christmas gifts. They are on sale at $1 each at the following places:

Long Island City—Daily Star Office and Queens Plaza Red Cross Rooms.

Jamaica—Plaut Brothers Department Store and Scout Headquarters, Grove Street and Flushing Avenue.

Richmond Hill—The Record Office.

The monthly Council meeting will be held at headquarters Wednesday, Nov. 19.

Through the courtesy of St. Mary's Hospital, Jamaica, the training class was given the use of the nurses' class room for a demonstration of bed making and first aid work, Wednesday, Nov. 19.

A week-end conference for officers will be held at Southampton, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 29 and 30. Pioneer and star gazer merit badges will be featured.

ONLY HOPE LIES IN PUBLIC OPINION

Are you in favor of a living wage for postal employees? If so write to your U. S. Senators and your Congressman to use their influence on bill known as S-1898 now before Senate and Congress to be acted upon Dec. 1 over presidential veto. Do so at once. Write before Dec. 1. The names of your Senators and Congressman follow: Hon. James W. Wadsworth, Jr., Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Hon. John J. Kindred. Address all communications to Washington, D. C.

CHURCH-IN-THE-GARDENS

Beginning tomorrow afternoon and continuing through the Advent season, Vesper services will be held every Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at which there will be special music and a brief address by the minister. On Sunday afternoon, Dec. 21, these will culminate in a candlelight service, similar to that held at the last Christmastide. It is expected that the Junior Choir will assist at some of these services.

The annual Union Thanksgiving Service was held last Thursday in the church, the First Presbyterian Church co-operating. Rev. Albert Sheppard preached the sermon, and music was offered by the Junior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Alexander Greene. An offering was taken for the benevolent funds of the two churches.

The mothers of the children in the Primary and Beginners Departments were entertained at tea last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Forry R. Getz, 60 Olive Place. Mrs. Charles E. Burton, superintendent of the department, spoke of the work being done and invited opinions on various suggestions. Some twenty of the mothers expressed a desire and readiness to join a Bible Class to meet on Tuesday mornings at 10:30 after New Year's and arrangements are being made for this class which will be led by Mrs. George H. Merrill.

At a recent meeting of the New York City Congregational Association, the delegates from this church included Mrs. F. H. Plate and Mrs. H. N. Jackson. The meeting was held at the Lewis Avenue Church, where Dr. Robert J. Kent was pastor before he came to Forest Hills to launch the Church-in-the-Gardens. Dr. Kent and Mrs. Kent were present and wished to be remembered to their friends in the Gardens.

SAINT LUKE'S CHURCH

The annual Fair of the Women's Guild will be held Thursday and Friday, Dec. 4 and 5 at the Sales Office at the head of the Green. The variety and attractiveness of the articles on sale will be unexcelled. Every conceivable article, useful as well as ornamental, will be found there. This event will afford the community a convenient time and place for Christmas shopping. The prices will compete very favorably with the shops in town. No "Church Fair" prices but every article reasonably priced.

The parish "Get-Together" held at the Guild Hall on Nov. 24 was a great success. Interesting talks were given by three of the Vestry.

The Bishop of the Diocese visits the parish on Sunday, Dec. 7 at the 11 o'clock service. Let us be on hand to welcome him.

NEW FIRE DEPARTMENT BUILDING OPENED

The new Fire Department building for Forest Hills, located on Queens Boulevard, at 11092-11096, was opened with appropriate ceremonies, Nov. 15. Those taking part in the ceremonies were: Fire Commissioner Thomas J. Drennan, Deputy Commissioner William Thompson, and Deputy Fire Chief John O'Hara, who is in charge of Brooklyn and Queens. The new house has a kitchen and is equipped with air tight doors to protect firemen while asleep, from the danger of gasoline exhaust fumes. It will house Engine Company No. 305 and Hook and Ladder Company No. 151. The building cost $78,000.

Lieutenants Loonar, Healy and Powell are in charge of the building.

FOREST HILLS GIVES TO NEEDLEWORK GUILD

Mrs. Fred Gretsche, Shorthill Road, chairman of section 40 of the Needlework Guild of America, reports that she was able to deliver 1104 garments this year from this section—an excess of 100 garments over last year. Mrs. Gretsche is very grateful for this co-operation from her friends in Forest Hills. The last meeting of the New York City sections was held in the Colonnade Building, Broadway and 57 Street, Nov. 18, when 44,000 garments, contributed by the city's sections, were on display.
