GLORIA TRUMPETERS ON PROGRAM

Choral Club to Give Concert on December 7—
Mrs. E. B. Wilson to Be Soloist

The Gloria Trumpeters will appear at the concert of the Forest Hills Choral Club, which will be given at the Masonic Temple on the evening of Dec. 7. This in itself will bring a capacity house, for these rare musicians are praised in superlative terms by musical critics all over the country.

The Gloria Trumpeters' Program

a Polonaise in D Major.....	Beethoven
b Romance	Rubinstein
a Serenade	Drigo
b Military Polonaise	Chopin
Coronation March from "Le Prophete"	Meyerbeer

Mrs. Edwin Bird Wilson, soprano, will sing a group of Marie Walters Kennedy's songs, with the composer at the piano. Mrs. Wilson is a member of the Choral Club and this program will give her neighbors an opportunity to hear her in concert form.

The Choral Club's 75 members will be lead by Bruno Huhn, with Miss Adele M. Shaw, accompanist. Miss Shaw is official accompanist of the Rubinstein Club, New York. The program which the club will present consists of eight numbers by the best composers and will give evidence of the faithful attendance at the rehearsals every Tuesday evening. The Club will sing two selections which will be offered in the musical contest of greater New York. These are "Cometh Earth's Latest Hour" from "Hora Novissima" by Horatio W. Parker and "Mirth" (words from "L'Allegro") set to music by Cecil Forsyth.

After the program, which will begin promptly at 8:15, dancing will be enjoyed and the music will be furnished by Taylor's orchestra.

There will be a final rehearsal on Thursday evening, Dec. 6 at the Masonic Temple.

At a recent regular rehearsal Mrs. Gertrude Ross, a composer from California, gave a short talk.

CHORAL CLUB DIRECTOR APPRECIATED IN WEST

Bruno Huhn, director of the Forest Hills Choral Club, last summer enjoyed a holiday in Pasadena and Los Angeles and incidentally he was much feted by the people there. The daily papers of those cities praised him as a musician and composer. In the musical column of one of Los Angeles leading dailies the musical critic wrote: "It is perfectly apparent when speaking to Huhn that something will have its roots in the eternal sources of beauty; that it will speak of no pain, no loss, no disillusionment; that in every cadence it will breathe calmly, even in its passion, like a trained and swift runner."

"In the pages of 'The Divan', in a few glowing phrases of the 'Invictus,' in certain pulsations of other Huhn lieder, that something speaks with an eloquence which is unanswerable."

CARD PARTY AT INN

On last Wednesday evening a card party was held at the Inn for the benefit of the Jamaica Hospital, under the auspices of the local auxiliary to the hospital. Everything from the ballroom to the ice cream was donated so that the returns from the party, which tested the capacity of the ball room, go into the treasury of the hospital.

FOREST HILLS ASSOCIATION

The executive committee of the Forest Hills Association met at the Club House Thursday evening to make preparations for the general meeting held last night. Matters of urgent interest to the members were discussed and plans were laid for a more general interest on behalf of the community in the work of the association.

PERSONALITY CHARMS

Angelo Patri Speaks—Harpist Plays—Forest Hills Gardens Mothers' Club Active

The Church-in-the-Gardens was filled on last Monday evening when Angelo Patri, famous educator, spoke under the auspices of the Forest Hills Gardens Mothers' Club. He was introduced by Lyman Beecher Stowe, who said that Mr. Patri's vision and personality had permeated his school where he had inaugurated many new things and that he had also had time to write books. Mr. Patri in speaking on "Some Aspects and Prospects of the Child" said that (1) the child comes into the world with capital which he invests in all the relationships of life; (2) the child believes in his investment; (3) as a barometer of growth he shows whether the capital and faith are justified. Throughout the child's development, he needs: to do things, time in which to grow and, most of all, encouragement.

Miss Julia Harden was a delight to the eye and the ear when she played, most charmingly and appealingly, a group of selections on a harp. Mrs. Donald G. Clark, as president of the club, presided.

On the afternoon of Nov. 13, the club met at Public School 101, and thoroughly enjoyed a program of dramatization of stories, recitations and songs given by the children. Anne Halsey, in a Dutch costume which her mother brought from Antwerp, sang a solo. Among other children who took part were Jane Osborn, Jane Mitchell, Rita Earl, Virginia and Basil D'Emo and Helga and Carl Eiler Hölch. Mrs. Mary Hoppe, principal, spoke on some plans she has for improving arithmetic in the schools and told that a school bank will soon be established. The children assisted in serving tea.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Lyman Beecher Stowe, Greenway South and Union Turnpike, on the afternoon of Dec. 10, when Miss Mae Masee, in charge of the department of children's books of Doubleday, Page & Co., will speak.

A NEW LAMP FOR DEEPENE ROAD

Deepdene Road boasts a much needed new street lamp, situated on the south side of the street in front of the home of John Almy Tompkins, near the entrance to Olivia Park. This improvement has come through the interest of Mrs. F. M. Knowles, chairman of safety of the civic committee of the Women's Club, James Butler, deputy commissioner of the bureau of water supply, gas and electricity of Queens Borough and James M. Murtha, alderman-elect of this district.

The social functions of the Winter season are well under way at the Inn, and, besides the regular Saturday night dances and Sunday concerts, numerous entertainments have been given, all of which have been enthusiastically received.

These include Prof. Zanoni, who appeared on Thursday evening, Nov. 8, and the experiments which he so successfully completed were enjoyed and applauded.

The well-known psychologist, Arthur Delroy, gave a lecture in the ballroom on Sunday, Nov. 11 to the great satisfaction of all present.

Another entertainment was that given by Mr. Morton, the noted magician, formerly on the Keith Circuit, whose clever work was enjoyed by all, particularly the children.

Florence Koehler's Mairionettes appeared on the evening of Nov. 18, and the overcrowded ballroom was the best possible indication of how well such performances are received by the guests and their friends.

The management is planning an appropriate supper dance on Thanksgiving Eve, Wednesday, the 28th. Supper will be served between the hours of 10:00 and 11:30 at $3 per cover, in which charge dancing is included. Numerous reservations have already been made, not only by house guests but by a great many residents of the Gardens as well, and all indications point to the fact that accommodations will all be taken before the subscription list closes on Sunday, Nov. 25. The dance begins at 8 p. m.

The Queens County Medical Society will hold the regular monthly meeting at the Inn on Tuesday, Nov. 27. Supper will be served. The same organization has arranged for its annual banquet to be held at the Inn on the evening of Dec. 20, when an attendance of 350 is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Willson gave a delightful luncheon and bridge party on Nov. 12 to 12 of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McClenaghan entertained a dinner party of eight in the sunporch on the evening of Nov. 9. The affair was complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Luther I. Foster who sailed on Nov. 15 for a trip around the world.

A recent dinner and bridge party was given at the Inn by Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Adair in honor of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Russell of Cleveland.

Harry King Curtis, son of Senator Curtis of Kansas, who was recently married in New York to Mrs. Beatrice Elliott Cameron, is registered with Mrs. Curtis at the Inn, where they are at home to their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Moore, of the Gardens, gave a delightful dinner in the sunporch on Nov. 17. On the same date George Quinn celebrated his birthday with a dinner party for ten.

F. Dassing also entertained a party of ten for dinner on the evening of Saturday, Nov. 17, in the sunporch.

Recent arrivals include Major and Mrs. Albert P. Duval, the latter a sister of General Crowder; Mrs. H. D. Head of San Francisco, who will shortly be joined by her husband; Miss Lorena C. Donifelser and her sister, Miss Edna Z. Donifelser; Mrs. Andrew S. Marsh of South Orange, N. J.; Harry M. Sieber of Washington, who has joined his wife and daughter at the Inn; also V. Muller and family of Copenhagen, Denmark; Mrs. Gertrude H. Freeman and her daughter, Miss Ora Freeman; Mrs. D. M. Tracy of New York; W. L. Craige of New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. LaSpada of Los Angeles and little daughter; George Richards of Chicago; Mr and Mrs. O. C. Harn; Miss Beatrice Detwiler of Columbia, Pa.; Commander J. F. Green, U. S. Navy; J. B. Hammond, Altoona, Pa.; and Mrs. A. McDermott of New York.

LECTURES ON MUSIC APPRECIATION

Miss Mae Collins opened this season's monthly series of talks on music appreciation, Saturday afternoon, Nov. 17, at her Forest Hills studio, 10 Roman Avenue. Miss Collins gave a most instructive and illuminating talk on "How to Listen to Music," and called to attention its three important elements—melody, harmony and rhythm, each element being most vividly illustrated by the Ampico.

ENCOURAGE COMMUNITY SINGING

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE is quoted as saying: "Music is the art directly representative of democracy. If the best music is brought to the people, there need be no fear about their ability to appreciate it."

In a recent address here, the famous lecturer Edward Howard Griggs said: "One of the hopeful signs of these times is to be found in community singing, for when people sing together their hearts are softened towards each other and prejudice and selfishness are removed."

Since the early days of the village, a number of singers, under the inspiration of Mrs. Charles H. Scammell, have brought melody to July Fourth and Christmas Eve celebrations. In 1921, when the Forest Hills Choral Club was organized, Mrs. Scammell was elected president and she has continued to serve in that office. She is the kind of president who spells the word honor, w-o-r-k, for her days and nights, her talents and her efforts are spent in the interests of the organization. Twice a year concerts are given, and many other times in the community and in the churches the singers of the club are generous with their voices. In order to keep the treasury in a sound condition, this industrious president secures advertising for a many-page program of each concert. This year the club is entering a contest in which the choral clubs of the greater city are enrolled.

By joining the club as active members, if they sing, and as associate members, if they do not sing, and by attending the concert on Dec. 7, the people of Forest Hills can show their appreciation of good music and of the labors of Mrs. Scammell and those associated with her.

SAVE OUR EYES

IN this column a month ago, we asked for more light on the station platform and in Station Square. We can see that our suggestion is being heeded, and we become bold to make another. We urge the Gardens Corporation to trim the rose vines climbing up the walls of the station platform so that our eyes may not be plucked out—as in the famous nursery rhyme—when we come down the steps. In fact, all over the Gardens trees need pruning in order to save our hats and our eyes.

GALA EVENING ENJOYED

Miss Winifred McDonald opened her new tea room on the evening of Nov. 8, when fully 300 people were served with dinner. Dancing was enjoyed until midnight and every one present rejoiced with Miss McDonald and her sister in the success they have had in the past, and Judge John R. Davies expressed the feeling of all of their neighbors who hope for them great prosperity in the future.

A supper club which is to meet every Wednesday evening at McDonald's tea room has been organized by George Quinn and Allen Hopping. After supper, dancing will be enjoyed every Wednesday evening. All who are interested, please telephone Allen Hopping, Rector 2038, or write to his office, 14 Wall Street, New York.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. Luther I. Foster, Ascan Avenue, sailed last week on the Franconia for a trip around the world.

Mrs. Tryphena Penn sailed on the Scythia, Nov. 17 for her home in London, after a three months' visit at the home of her son, Arthur N. Penn, Shorthill Road. Mrs. Arthur N. Penn gave a tea on the afternoon of Nov. 15 for their guest, Mrs. Penn, Sr., was delighted with the Gardens and was particularly impressed by the community life here as she saw it typified at a meeting of the Gardens Corporation. She was surprised at the many vacant lots not used for vegetable gardens.

Burns Mantle, Ascan Avenue, has issued his fourth volume of his dramatic year book, which contains not only "a survey of the year, but a detailed account of its high lights and a set of statistics that make it a reference book invaluable to those interested in theatrical affairs." The quotation is from the New York Times Book Review, of last Sunday and the very admirable review closes with these words: "Mr. Mantle offers a capable, comprehensive volume containing a vast amount of information and much just and interesting comment."

Fred Stone and his daughter Miss Dorothy, Greenway North, are making such a hit in "Stepping Stones" at the Globe Theater, that it is hard for their neighbors to find available seats there.

Charles Aldrich, son of Mrs. Jewel St. Leger Aldrich, Continental Avenue, has a part in the play, "The Dancers," in which Richard Bennett is starring.

S. N. Zinberg of Livingston Street, who sailed on the Olympic last week for Europe, will return home just before the holidays.

Mrs. Zinberg and daughter Mary Amelia, will spend Thanksgiving week-end with Mrs. Zinberg's sister Mrs. Floyd Wingett in Hartford, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. McMillin, Fairway Close, recently made a trip to Denver and on the way home stopped at Carroll, Iowa, where Mrs. McMillin was in an automobile accident. She came home last Tuesday and is daily improving.

Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Keyes, 110 Greenway South, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Marquis and little daughter, Wendover Road, are back in the Gardens after a trip abroad.

News has come of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. James Ridpath at their home in Iowa, in August. Mrs. Ridpath was Miss Mable Brewer and was the kindergarten teacher in Public School 101.

"ORDER OR CHAOS IN PHILANTHROPY?"

Allen T. Burns, a national leader among the social service workers and well-known student of social conditions, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Women's Club, to be held on the afternoon of Dec. 3. The place of the meeting will be announced later. Mr. Burns is also director of the National Information Bureau, which is a co-operative effort for the standardization of national social, civic and philanthropic work and the protection of the contributing public. His subject will be "Order or Chaos in Philanthropy?" and he will be introduced by Mrs. John M. McMillin, chairman of the philanthropic chapter.

The current readings chapter will meet Dec. 4, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Kenneth I. Small, 231 Greenway North, with Mrs. Walter C. Longcope assistant hostess. Mrs. George Smart will review "From Immigrant to Inventor," by Michael Pupin. The same chapter will meet on the afternoon of Dec. 18 at the home of Mrs. Robert C. Adams, 22 Deepdene Road, with Miss Rose Terry assistant hostess. Mrs. Beatrice D'Emo will review "The Wind Bloweth," by Donn Byrne.

PLAYERS SURPRISE HARTWIGS

On Sunday evening, Nov. 18, when Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hartwig returned from a trip to New York, they were much surprised to find about 40 members of the Gardens Players in their home on Dartmouth Street. The party had been arranged by Mrs. Jewel St. Leger Aldrich and was so successful that it has left Mr. and Mrs. Hartwig unable to find the right adjectives to express themselves. One dozen small silver plates and a silver gravy dish were presented to the bride and groom with the felicitations of the Gardens Players.

JOHN BREWER DIES.

John Brewer died last Sunday at his home, Columbia Heights, Brooklyn. Mr. Brewer and his family formerly lived at 229 Greenway South. He was for many years prominent in the stationery business in New York.

KEW-FOREST SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

On Hallowe'en the senior class at Kew-Forest entertained the other classes of the upper school. There were, of course, the usual Hallowe'en games and revelry. Other features, too, added novelty and zest to the occasion. A class song competition afforded especial enjoyment. In this the class of '26 won the prize, the song rendered being an original composition extolling the merits of the class. Prizes were also awarded for the best costumes, and for highest scores in various games. Delicious refreshments detracted not at all from the enjoyment of a very happy gathering.

Work has begun on a covered passage connecting the two buildings. The structure will be of clinker brick and in architectural harmony with the other buildings. It will not only add greatly to the appearance of the school buildings but will make for the comfort and convenience of all.

Friday afternoon is a busy time at Kew-Forest now that the dancing classes have started. On that afternoon, also, Miss Stewart holds her special arts and crafts classes in the laboratory. Added to this there are generally important athletic contests.

Tuesday evening, Nov. 6, the upper school presented a very beautiful floral piece to Miss Dorothy Stone on the occasion of the first night of "Stepping Stones" at the Globe Theatre. Miss Stone was for two years a Kew-Forest student and made many friends among teachers and fellow students. Last June Miss Stone presented to the school a handsome athletic trophy. In other ways, too, she has shown that Kew-Forest still means more than a mere memory of happy school days.

MOTHERS INTERESTED IN SCOUT WORK

Mrs. Jane Landers, a leader in the organization of Girl Scouts in Queens Borough and responsible for the troupe in Richmond Hill, was the speaker at the meeting of the Mothers' Club of Public School 3, on the afternoon of Nov. 19, in the school auditorium. Mrs. Landers said that the Girl Scouts are being trained in patriotism, citizenship, wifehood, motherhood and leadership.

Miss Julia Harden, 46 Continental Avenue, and Miss Mae Paterson, 6 Middlemay Circle, gave a delightful program of music, the former on the harp and the latter on the piano. Their playing showed feeling, intelligence and skill.

The club has 79 paid up members. A resolution against child labor was passed. The club is represented on the library committee by Mrs. Thomas J. Kelly, president, Mrs. Hubert A. Yerkes and Mrs. Robert Marsh.

The next meeting will be held the third Monday afternoon of January.

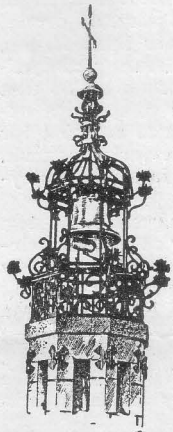

DR. BONIME SPEAKS

Those who attended the Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, Nov. 18, were interested to hear Dr. Ellis Bonime, of Seminole Avenue, lecture on "Infection, Its Prevention and Cure." Dr. Bonime described the human body as the host, disease as the besieging enemy, and preventive measures—such as good air, exercise, plenty of sleep, moderation in eating, attention to the three "Ts" (teeth, tonsils and tummy), and the modern method of immunization—as the fortifications against the enemy. He stressed the advantages of immunization and said that with it no one need fear the sneezer in the subway, or even refrain from that most unhygienic of all pastimes, kissing. He showed screen pictures of Pasteur, Metchnikoff, Koch and other great men of medical science.

NEW BOOKS IN LIBRARY STATION

New books for both adult and juvenile have been sent to the library station, and the following shows some of the titles: Adult books—Galsworthy, "Windows"; Ham-sun, "Victoria"; Hough, "North of 36"; Paris, "Kimono"; O'Brien, "Atolls of the Sun"; Townley, "Indiscretions of Lady Susan." Juvenile books, for girls—Ashmun, "Including Mother"; Curtis, "Little Maid of Narragansett Bay"; Hume, "Judy of York Hill"; Hunting, "Friendly Enemy"; Taggart, "Nut-Brown Joan." For boys—Andrews, "Bob and the Guides"; Barbour, "Fourth Down"; Driggs, "Arnold Adair With the English Aces"; Tarbell, "Boy Scout's Lincoln"; Wheeler, "Wreck Hunters."

THE CHURCH-IN-THE-GARDENS

Tomorrow morning, the sacrament of infant baptism will be administered to several children during the morning service, and in addition to the usual music by the choir and soprano soloist, the Junior Choir, vested and under the direction of Mrs. Alexander Greene, will sing a Thanksgiving anthem. The minister will preach a brief sermon.

On the first Sunday in December the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered, and about 15 or so new members, it is to be hoped, will be received into the church at that time. During December the minister will preach special Advent sermons, culminating, of course, on the Sunday preceding Christmas. A fine program of music is being arranged by Mrs. C. H. Scammell and her assistants.

Considerable interest has been shown in the biography class for the older boys being conducted on Sunday mornings by Mr. Smart at his home, 45 Deepdene Road. Some dozen boys are finding these sessions of vital interest, and the prospects for a fine class are very bright. The primary department, under the leadership of Mrs. Charles E. Burton, is also being thoroughly organized, and the enrollment and interest in this department of the work of the Church School are steadily growing.

In the Church School on Sunday, Dec. 2, a special offering will be taken towards the rebuilding of the Kumiai churches of Japan, destroyed during the earthquake. These churches are self-supporting and free from all missionary control; but the terrible blow which they have received necessitates additional and generous help from America. The church has already taken up a most generous offering towards general Japanese relief, but this new appeal is one which the churches of America alone are apt to answer.

The union Thanksgiving service this year will be held at the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. Silcox is to preach the sermon, and the Junior Choir of the Church-in-the-Gardens will furnish the music.

The new sexton of the church is Claude R. Fox, 20 Austin Street. The best wishes of the church go with D. O. Perry, who is leaving Forest Hills for Courtland, N. Y. and who, during his term of service as sexton has shown fidelity which is beyond praise.

MRS. EDDY DELIGHTS FRIENDS

At the meeting of the Women's Guild of the Church-in-the-Gardens held at the church on the afternoon of Nov. 9, Mrs. George Sherwood Eddy, lately returned from a trip around the world, spoke most inspiringly of her experiences. A drama was acted by a group of young women, with Affa Gray the heroine and the Junior Choir sang.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hubert A. Yerkes, 15 Meteor Street, on the afternoon of Dec. 14, when Mrs. H. L. Willson will be the assistant hostess.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Prof. W. R. Rogers lectured on "Tomb Hunting in the valley of the Tombs of the Kings" before a fairly large audience on Friday evening, Nov. 16. The professor described in vivid fashion the search after hidden tombs throughout the famous valley; the manner of their construction and equipment, and the assiduous efforts made in early times to so hide the illustrious tombs that they might not be rifled by the professional robbers. At the conclusion of his lecture, Professor Rogers answered a number of interesting questions put to him by members of the audience. The lecture was held under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church.

A troop of Girl Scouts has been organized in Forest Hills and will shortly hold its first meeting in the Social Rooms of the Presbyterian Church. The troop is open to all girls in the village qualified by age to join. The officers of the church have kindly consented to give the use of the rooms to the troop for their meetings.

Various organizations in Forest Hills have been invited to attend the celebration of "Education Week" at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, Nov. 25, held under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge of Forest Hills. The Hon. Richard S. Newcombe, newly elected district attorney for Queens, has been asked to speak.

Union Thanksgiving Service will be held at the Presbyterian Church, Seminole Ave. and Gown St., Thursday morning, Nov. 29, at 9:30 o'clock. The Church-in-the-Gardens will, as formerly, join with the Presbyterian Church in this service and the sermon will be delivered by Rev. C. E. Silcox, minister of the Church-in-the-Gardens.

LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Forest Hills, announces a free lecture on Christian Science by John M. Doorly, C.S.B., London, England, a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston. The lecture will be held at the Masonic Temple, Sunday evening, Nov. 25, at 8:15 o'clock. The residents of Forest Hills are all cordially invited.

HELPING ST. LUKE'S BUILDING FUND

Mrs. A. A. Stokes, 191 Greenway North, is happy to receive magazine subscriptions or renewals from her friends and neighbors in Forest Hills. Every cent of the commission goes into St. Luke's building fund. Subscriptions for magazines make most acceptable Christmas gifts and Mrs. Stokes suggests that Forest Hills people do their shopping early.
