GERMANY PLANS WAR

World Needs Christian Service, Speaker at Women's Club Asserts

"The Next War in Europe" was the subject of the address of Dr. Rosalie S. Morton at the opening meeting of the Women's Club, held at the Inn on the afternoon of Oct. 2. The speaker reviewed the ideals with which we went into the war and then spoke of the low moral standards following the war due to neuresthenia, the after-effect of the war. She recalled the many evidences of neuresthenia, such as disorganized minds, fatigue and interest in horrors. She said that there is proof that we are getting over the neuresthenia in more normal thinking and living.

Dr. Morton, as a surgeon, did phenomenal work on the other side during the fighting and she has done fine reconstruction work since the armistice. Now she is the head of a committee which is seeing to it that young Serbians have a chance to be educated here. The world will be a better place, according to the speaker, if each one does some definite, unselfish Christian service and she has dedicated herself to the education of Serbians.

"According to the Germans, the next war in Europe will come in 1926," said the speaker "and every class of German society is planning for it. Every country of Europe has grievances which would help in the general conflagration." In closing Dr. Morton begged that all her hearers do something in service as a noble expression of Christian faith and so help to make the world better.

The new members elected are: Mrs. Estelle Phillips, Mrs. R. L. Van Orden and Mrs. Arthur M. Guy.

In the absence of the voice of Mrs. Louis D. Speir, Mrs. Edward H. Mays, vice-president was in the chair. Mrs. Louis D. Speir, Mrs. A. J. Wilson, Mrs. E. M. Guyon and Mrs. Edward H. Mays were elected delegates to the State Federation meeting in New York this past week. Four alternates were also elected. Mrs. Louis D. Speir and Mrs. Anna C. Boyd were elected as delegates to the City Federation, to be held Oct. 22.

It was voted that the club should have its own banner to be hung at every meeting below the United States Flag. Reports were given by the civic committee which is trying to keep the village and station platform clean, by the library committee and the chapters, current readings, philanthropic and music.

In speaking of the next meeting of the music chapter to be held at her home 342 Burns Street, on Oct. 27. Mrs. E. M. Guyon announced that Victor Biart, a well known lecturer and pianist would give the program. He will be a lecturer this winter at Columbia. For two years he has given explanatory lectures before the Philharmonic Symphony Society. He has enthusiastic recommendations and a large number will turn out to hear him.

Local news notes and other items of interest for publication should reach the Editor of the BULLETIN not later than Tuesday morning of the week of publication.

THE first number of the FOREST HILLS GARDENS BULLETIN, published by the Sage Foundation Homes Company, appeared on September 25, 1915 and regularly thereafter fortnightly through April 29, 1922. The paper definitely and vitally filled a place in the community life from the beginning and as the village grew it kept pace with the news of that growth by using smaller type and by making each word of news count. From the first day of publication the BULLETIN has been mailed free to every family of the Gardens and to all others who asked for it. It has been a unifying, constructive force in the activities of the organizations and of the people here. When by some chance a resident has failed to receive his copy, he has soon expressed his loss to the publisher or editor—each resident feeling that he must regularly read the paper to keep informed about his home town. The unique paper has been copied by many other communities.

Once a month since last April, the paper has been published by the Sage Foundation Homes Company, the Cord Meyer Development Company, the Forest Hills Gardens Homes Company, the Forest Hills Inn and the Gardens Apartment Inc., thus keeping the paper alive after the withdrawal of the Russell Sage Foundation from the responsibility for the development here until a decision could be reached by the people as to how to publish the paper in the future.

Lawrence F. Abbott, chairman of a committee of the Community Council appointed to consider the continuance of the BULLETIN, reported in the early summer on the various phases of the subject; cost, probable income from subscriptions and advertising and after recommending that the paper be sent free to all residents, closed with this sentence: "It appears quite demonstrable that the enterprise could not wisely be undertaken unless a group of underwriters would subscribe a guarantee fund of from two to four thousand dollars for an experimental period of a year."

An opportunity has been given to all readers to subscribe for the paper to see what return that would bring. A goodly number of people have responded enthusiastically, but not more than enough to pay about one-fourth of the printer's bill. A number of checks were mailed to the editor and these will now be returned with appreciation.

Acting on Mr. Abbott's suggestion that a group underwrite the paper, John M. Demarest for the Sage Foundation Homes Company and the Forest Hills Inn, George Meyer for the Cord Meyer Development Company and S. W. Eckman for the Forest Hills Gardens Homes Company will publish the paper for the present under the new title THE FOREST HILLS

BULLETIN, and it will cover the news of the whole village and will be mailed to all residents free.

The files of the BULLETIN contain the primary source of the history of the community. Through the efforts of the present editor and at the expense of the Sage Foundation Homes Company, the first five volumes have been indexed, a preface has been inserted and five sets have been beautifully bound. One set is for the Russell Sage Foundation, one for the New York Public Library, one for the Library here, one for the publisher and one for the editor. After the completion of another five volumes in 1925, they too will be bound for preservation.

A LIBRARY BUILDING

Looking to the Future the Organizations of the Village
Petition Board of Estimate to Buy a Site.

The Forest Hills Library Station of the Queens Borough Public Library has been growing steadily, not only in the number of the adults and children who use it, but also in the number of books that are circulated. The library is open Monday and Friday afternoons from 3 to 5:30 o'clock in the sale office.

The organizations of the village are backing the institution by committees, the members of which keep in touch with the Library and from time to time suggest the lists of desirable books to be added to the shelves here. The Community Council Committee consists of E. D. Sealy, president, Mrs. H. P. Green, Lyman Beecher Stowe, Dr. David Latshaw and Mrs. E. J. Kline, with Mrs. George Smart, chairman. The personnel of the Women's Club committee consists of Mrs. L. D. Speir, president, Mrs. Donald G. Clark, Mrs. Phanor J. Eder, Mrs. Albert M. Gray, Mrs. Lee Galloway, Mrs. Clifford Le Page, Miss Rose Terry, Mrs. Edward H. Mavs, Mrs. J. Gorton Marsh and Mrs. H. Pushae Williams, with Mrs. Smart chairman. The members of the committee for the Gardens Mothers' Club are Mrs. Lawrence F. Abbott, Mrs. Mary Hoppe and Mrs. Smart, chairman.

At the meeting of the Women's Club on Oct. 2 the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Because of the growth in the use of the Forest Hills Station of the Queens Borough Public Library due to the ever increasing population of the village and the growing popularity of the Library Station, it is reasonable for the tax-payers to expect that in the next few years a permanent Library Branch Building may be erected here, and

Because the central and desirable lots for such a building site are fast being sold,

Therefore be it resolved, that the Women's Club of Forest Hills petition the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of the City of New York to appropriate $25,000 and purchase a library building site in a central location within the village.

JUDGE GARY PRAISES CLUB WOMEN

"Women have come into their own," said Judge Elbert H. Gary, in speaking before the women attending the twenty-eighth annual convention of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs, meeting at the Commodore this week. "For a great many years they were considered by the majority of men and a minority of women not quite equal to the men. But quietly, peaceably and persistently they organized, selected leaders and pursued a course of demanding what was their right. Finally a majority of the men, shamed that they had considered that they alone should be the managers of affairs, granted the women's demands."

"This organization grew in strength until the women succeeded in everything they had set out to achieve. You'll pardon me for saying what I'd say to any men occupying responsible positions and who have been successful: with the privilege of success goes a corresponding responsibility. But I am glad to say that the women are living up to this responsibility."

After outlining the aims of "Safety Week" and telling of the good record of the last few days in reducing the number of avoidable accidents, Judge Gary asked the club women to co-operate.

THE LITTLE TOWN OF FRIENDLINESS

'Tis fine to see the western coast and travel all around
Among the famous cities and places of renown,
To admire the lofty mountains and the flowers and everything,

But now I know I've had enough of being on the wing;
So it's home again and home again, in Forest Hills
I'd be,

I want a train that's eastward bound, to fly along with me

To the Little Town of Friendliness, and there I hope to die,

For all my days I'll sing the praise
Of Forest Hills, L. I.

San Francisco is a splendid town, there's power in the air,

And Los Angeles is beautiful with flowers everywhere,
And it's great to visit Berkeley and among its hills
to roam,

But when it comes to living, there's no place like home;

I admire the mighty redwoods in grand battalions drilled,

I love the mountains and the flowers and flashing
fountains filled,

But just to be at home again and wander for a day
Through the restful streets of Forest Hills,
And there I hope to stay.

I know the west is wonderful, but something seemed to lack,

For the home is where the heart is
And I kept looking back

To the Little Town of Friendliness,
And there I hope to die:

For all my days I'll sing the praise
Of Forest Hills, L. I.

Millard Tompkins has returned to Choate School and Ernest Thompson has entered there. If any others were missed, parents please send word to the editor.

One writes: "I have read each line any number of times and it is all so interesting to me." Another writes: "News from home certainly does sound good and I fairly memorized the whole BULLETIN." Another: "I was thrilled to receive the news from the home town."

Guild yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Otto Grever, 22 Slocum Crescent. W. P. Merrill, president, very becomingly expressed to Mr. and Mrs. McCulloch the good-will of the Guild as they leave to take up their new work at Princeton.

The completion of the first decade of the Church-in-the-Gardens was celebrated with appropriate services on last Sunday. The Rev. Robert J. Kent, D. D., the first pastor of the church, preached, using the same text (Matt. 17: 1-2) from which he preached at the first service ten years ago. It was a most stimulating message. The Rev. William A. Rice, D. D., charter member and first treasurer of the church, also took part in the service. The Rev. Charles E. Burton, D. D., presided and sounded a helpful prophetic note regarding the place of the church in the community and in the larger world-circle of influence and service.

The rally luncheon of the Women's Guild on Oct. 6 was attended by one hundred ladies. Mrs. Merrill presided. Vocal selections were charmingly given by Miss Helena Ketcham, with Miss Rosa Snowden at the piano and piano numbers were skillfully executed by Mrs. Cecile Behrens, of Brooklyn.
