NEW ORGANIZATION

Celebrations Association of Forest Hills Gardens Organized this Week.

Its Function will be to Manage July Fourth Celebrations and Others of That Nature—Board of 24 Chosen.

At a meeting of the Fourth of July Committee at the sales office Monday evening, Sept. 13, the Celebrations Association of Forest Hills Gardens was organized to conduct the Fourth of July celebration annually, and such other celebrations as the community may desire.

Judge Charles F. Moore, for the committee on constitution, appointed at the meeting held July 26, submitted its report, which was adopted, after changing the proposed name from the Fourth of July Association of Forest Hills Gardens to the Celebrations Association of Forest Hills Gardens. The constitution as adopted follows:

This association shall be known as the Celebrations Association of Forest Hills Gardens.

Purpose. The purpose of the association shall be to provide for the residents of Forest Hills Gardens and their guests such exercises and entertainment as may fitly and appropriately celebrate the Fourth of July and such other events as the community may desire.

Membership. Every adult resident of Forest Hills Gardens who may contribute toward defraying the expenses of the association shall be entitled to the privileges of membership for a period of one year from the date of such contribution.

Executive Board. The entire management of the association shall be vested in an executive board of twenty-four, which shall be divided into three groups of eight each, the first group to serve from the time of election until the second Monday in September, 1921, the second group until the second Monday in September, 1922, and the third group until the second Monday in September, 1923, their successors thereafter to be elected to serve for three years.

Officers: The officers of the association shall consist of a president, a vice president, a secretary and a treasurer, whose duties shall be the same as those ordinarily discharged by such officials.

Elections: The members of the executive board shall be elected at the annual meeting of the association to be held on the second Monday of September.

The officers of the association shall be elected by ballot at the annual meeting of the executive board, to be held on the third Monday of September, said officers to be chosen from the membership of the executive board and to serve for a period of one year.

Vacancies: Vacancies occurring in either an office or in the membership of the executive board may be filled by the board, such appointees to serve till the next election.

Special Meetings: Special meetings of the executive board may be called on five days notice given by the president or by five members of the board.

Special meetings of the association may be called on five days notice given by the president, by ten members of the executive board, or by twenty members of the association.

Committees. The executive board is empowered to create such committees as it may from time to time deem necessary to accomplish its work, such committees to be appointed by the president, subject to the approval of the board.

Quorum: Nine members of the executive board shall constitute a quorum; twenty-five members of the association shall constitute a quorum of that body.

Reports: A detailed report of all receipts and disbursements shall be made at each annual meeting of both the association and the executive board.

GROUP OF HOUSES ON SUMMER STREET

The group of houses known as group 43 is located on Summer Street near Greenway South. The exterior has been so well treated architecturally as to eliminate any feeling of monotony occurring so frequently in row houses so common in other developments. The front with its projecting gables and porches helps to make this a particularly successful group. The Homes Company was architect and builder.

Members of the executive board were elected as follows: For three years: Donald G. Clark, John M. Demarest, Arthur H. Flint, Horace McRobert, Jr., E. H. Mays, Mrs. Charles H. Scammell, Mrs. George Smart and Harvey T. Warren.

For two years: Harold P. Daniels, Mrs. Albert Morton Gray, Louis P. McGahie, John M. McMillan, J. Gorton Marsh, Scott Robinson, Dr. Ralph W. Waddell and Mrs. Augustine J. Wilson.

For one year: W. W. Bruce, F. B. Colton, Mrs. George A. Douglass, Henry Hirschberg, Mrs. J. S. Maxwell, Judge Charles F. Moore, Francis H. J. Paul and Dr. Thompson Tyler Sweeney.

The executive board will meet at the sales office next Monday evening, Sept. 20, to elect officers and transact other business.

FOREST HILLS REPUBLICAN CLUB

The social room of the Church-in-the-Gardens was filled to overflowing Wednesday evening by the large crowd of men and women who came to hear the speakers of the evening and organize a Republican Club. Lyman Beecher Stowe presided and the first address was made by George Lounsbury, formerly of Illinois and now of New York, who seriously arraigned the Wilson administration and said if the League of Nations is included in the peace treaty, nothing less than the Lodge reservations must be adopted. James F. Pershing discussed dangerous radical tendencies of the times.

A constitution was adopted giving the name Forest Hills Republican Club to the new organization and the following officers were elected: President, S. W. Eckman; vice presidents, James F. Pershing, E. J. Dows, Mrs. A. J. Wilson; secretary Charles F. Johnson; treasurer, John W. McMillan. The executive committee will be composed of Dr. Thomas C. Chalmers, L. B. Stowe, Thos. B. Paton, Mrs. Charles H. Larsh, Mrs. Stephen L. Coles, Dr. J. Ward McNeal and a representative from Kew Gardens to be chosen later.

A large number of those present signed their names as charter members of the new club. Col. Theo. Roosevelt, who had been invited to address the meeting was unable to be present.

BE A FRIEND

BE a friend. You don't need money;
Just a disposition sunny;
Just the wish to help another
Get along some way or other;
Just a kindly hand extended
Out to one who's unbefriended;
Just the will to give or lend,
This will make you some one's friend.

Be a friend. You don't need glory.
Friendship is a simple story.
Pass by trifling errors blindly,
Gaze on honest effort kindly,
Cheer the youth who's bravely trying,
Pity him who's sadly sighing;
Just a little labor spend
On the duties of a friend.

Be a friend. The pay is bigger
(Though not written by a figure)
Than is earned by people clever
In what's merely self-endeavor.
You'll have friends instead of neighbors
For the profits of your labors;
You'll be richer in the end
Than a prince, if you're a friend.

MORE ABOUT A COMMUNITY LAUNDRY

Editor Bulletin:—

Mrs. Rimple's letter, in the last number of the BULLETIN, is typical of the mania for co-operative enterprises that is our last contribution to the H. C. L. The simple answer is that people won't get together on a genuine practical basis and see this sort of thing through. If they would, the whole question of community living would be simplified and made less costly. But the basis of all co-operative work must be a group of responsible individuals working as a unit, with equal personal disinterestedness. And this cannot be found in the average suburban village, even if it be Forest Hills Gardens. People will get together for a ball, or a fair, or a day's amusement, but it is simply too much work, so they say, to tie themselves down to a dull week's routine. And, provided you could get such a group together—and I'll admit it might come nearer being done in the Gardens than anywhere else—there would develop the same laxness on the part of some, which would mean that others would be compelled to do double duty. I doubt the success of your common laundry for another reason. The financial part of these co-operative undertakings is not carefully enough worked out.

Self interest keeps a business going. The supposition that without this motive power, or with this power spread over a group of a dozen or so, an enterprise will work just as well, remains a long way from proof.

THE WOMEN'S CLUB

The Women's Club of Forest Hills will hold its first meeting of the season of 1920-1921 at the usual time and place, the Inn, 2 o'clock in the afternoon, on Monday, Oct. 4. This meeting will mark the beginning of the eighth year of the club's successful activities, and, judging from what has been accomplished and what is in prospect, the members will fully appreciate the year's opportunities in friendly associations and combined efforts to keep in touch with whatever is of interest and concern to the club and the community of Forest Hills.

The various chapters and committees are thoroughly organized for both work and entertainment. The philanthropic chapter, under the leadership of Mrs. Maud Judd, plans an active season and confidently anticipates cordial co-operation with moral and material support in her good work. The whole club takes a deep interest in the work of this chapter, every member regarding it as a medium through which she may express her sympathies with others less fortunate than herself. Mrs. Donald G. Clark, chairman of the current readings chapter, and her associates are preparing a delightful program on current literature. The popular music chapter, Mrs. Edwin Bird Wilson chairman, will continue its interesting studies of the great composers and the interpretation of their works. Mrs. Lyman Beecher Stowe, chairman of the new chapter on current events, hopes to interest the members in some of the deeper problems of the day.

All of these chapters meet at the homes of the members, once or twice a month, to consider their various subjects; the study and the social cup of tea make the gatherings a very attractive feature of the Women's Club. All members are cordially invited to join one or more of the chapters as their inclination may suggest.

The several committees are fully prepared with plans for handling the details of the several matters of which they have charge. The chairman of the ways and means committee, Mrs. Curtis E. Kloetzer will present, at the Oct. meeting of the club, a program of entertainment for the season.

The regular meetings of the club will continue to be held at the Inn at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on the first Monday of every month up to and including May 2, 1921.

Any woman of the community, who cares to join the club, is invited to communicate with Mrs. John A. McFarlan, 44 Slocum Crescent, chairman of the membership committee.

Mrs. Augustine J. Wilson,
President of Women's Club.

LETTER FROM PRESIDENT ABBOTT

My dear Editor:

It is pleasant to have your note of Aug. 11, but I am very sorry to say that I cannot give you any program for the Men's Club at Forest Hills for the coming year for I have no such program. As a very new member of the club I shall have to feel my way gradually in consultation with those who know very much more about the club than I do. So far as I have any definite idea it is to carry on the Men's Club like a weekly newspaper or monthly magazine—that is to say, dealing with the topic or topics of importance that are uppermost in the public mind from time to time by means of the most illuminating, informing and inspiring address that we can obtain on the subject. To do this I simply consider myself a kind of managing editor, recognizing that the staff must make the really valuable and concrete suggestions.

Lawrence F. Abbott
President of Men's Club.

MOTHER'S CLUB

The annual election of officers of the Mother's Club will be held at public school 101 on Monday afternoon Sept. 20 at three o'clock. All women of the community who are interested in the welfare of the children and the schools, are cordially invited.

The public school committee of the Community Council, of which Mrs. Harold P. Daniels is chairman, has been working hard to encourage the completion of the new building, public school 3. This particular work has been done by Mrs. A. E. Kretschmer, Kelvin Street chairman under Mrs. Daniels for that district. Although Mrs. Kretschmer has done her utmost the building is not ready for occupancy, due to labor and industrial conditions.

THE INN

The tennis tournaments brought the largest crowd to the Inn that has been on record for several years and it is believed was the means of adding many new friends to the clientele; many inquiries for accommodations and several reservations were booked as a result of the initial visit of the enthusiasts to the hotel. Tables in the dining room were reset two and three times for each meal and during the latter part of the week several hundred outsiders were entertained at luncheons and dinners.

Mrs. J. H. Cassidy of Ascan Avenue gave a small but delightful luncheon a few days ago at the Inn in honor of Mrs. H. T. Loomis of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. W. S. Lapham of New York and Mrs. A. S. Major, also of New York. The luncheon was followed later in the afternoon by an informal tea given at Mrs. Cassidy's home, to which many guests of the Inn and Gardens were invited.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Cray and their son and daughter, who have had a house in the Gardens for the past season are among the fall arrivals at the Inn where they anticipate spending the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan A. Dorr and little Miss Julia, who have also been residents of the Gardens, are now at the Inn.

Mrs. F. Fiset and Miss Katherine Fiset, together with Miss Hendricks, of Austin, Texas are spending the month of Sept. at the Inn as they have been doing for the past few seasons. Other Texans at the Inn are Mrs. I. S. Kampman with her two little children and nurse and Mrs. W. A. Adams, mother of Mrs. Kampman and Mrs. E. Camp all of San Antonio, who will remain the rest of this month, and Mrs. W. D. Cleveland of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hearn have recently returned from a delightful vacation of three weeks in New England.

C. E. Beatie has just returned from Paris where he will soon settle in business though it is not expected that he and Mrs. Beatie will sail for the next few weeks.

Miss Margaret L. Spendiff, Frederick H. Koswitz, Miss Elizabeth Williamson, Stafford Smith, Miss Estelle M. Johnson and Miss Adele M. Shaw have all returned from their vacations and once more settled at their "Inn" home.

George B. Cortelyou, Jr. of Chicago was the week-end guest of Mrs. Fearn and her daughter of the Inn.

Gardner Hunting of New York is among the recent arrivals and will shortly be joined by Mrs. Hunting. Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Franklin of Denver, Colorado are also among the late arrivals for the winter season.

PERSONALS

Captain and Mrs. Stephen L. Coles have returned to their home on Ascan Avenue after a month at Nantucket, Mass. Professor and Mrs. Lee Galloway, Greenway South, are home after a month near Moosehead Lake, Maine.

Mrs. Guv Hinman Catlin, 49 Burns Street, entertained the Marquis de Spinola, of Rome, at luncheon recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Brion, who recently sold their house at 71 Burns Street, have bought the Washburne home on Olive Place.

Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Washburne are living at 350 West Seventy-first Street, Manhattan. The sale of their Olive Place home probably means that they will not soon return to live in the Gardens, and it is with regret that this announcement is made. Mrs. Washburne was an ardent pioneer of this village. She is a lover of trees, birds and flowers, and her devotion to birds made her an active member of the Audubon Society. In all of the social activities of the Gardens the family was well known.

Katherine Glover, the magazine writer, and her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Gingras, have rented the house at 338 Burns Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Parker, Kew Gardens, who are building a house at the corner of Puritan Avenue and Greenway North, have returned from their summer home at Spofford Lake, New Hampshire. Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Parker, Russell Place, are settled for the winter, and with them Miss Florence K. Nixon, who has returned from Spofford Lake, New Hampshire, will make her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Van Houton, 302 Burns Street, announce the birth of a son, Harold D., Jr., on Sept. 6.

Mrs. Albert Farjeou, 134 Ascan Avenue, is spending the month of September in Atlantic City.

UNIQUE PERFORMANCE BY GARDEN PLAYERS

Considerable interest is being shown by followers of the Little Theatre movement throughout the country in the forthcoming production of "Pomander Walk" by the Gardens Players due to the use of actual houses and natural scenery to an extent never before attempted.

Two performances will be given on the evenings of Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 at 8.30. The natural setting used is the group of houses on Burns Street near the Station. This will be a unique performance inasmuch as the actors will move in and out of real houses, walk on real grass and sit under a real tree. The cast will include: Lolita Cordon, Beatrice Kieffer, Jewel St. Leger, Aldrich Frances Moir, Maude Maren, Evelyn Dorr, Nancy Hanks, Hildegard Diechmann, Edward Moir, Edward Swazey, Harvey Warren, Frederick Smith, Walter Claypoole and Bryan Dorr. The production is under the direction of Bertha Mandell.

Tickets are on sale at the Inn and Chemist Shop.

This is a special performance of the Players and is not one of the subscription series.

In the event of rainy weather the performance will be postponed to the following night.

WOMEN'S GUILD FAIR

The members of the Women's Guild of the Church-in-the-Gardens, who are planning for the alphabetical fair to be given Nov. 3 and 4, are receiving much encouragement from the people of the Gardens. Even the children are becoming interested and are helping the proposition. Wanda Danne, 39 Ingram Street, assisted by Sylvia Thornley, 22 Ingram Street, wrote and produced a little play last week, called "Fairies." Margaret Kendrick served refreshments after the performance. The children raised $1.12 which was given to Mrs. Charles H. Scammell, general chairman of the fair, for the benefit of the infants' wear booth of which Mrs. Donald G. Clark is chairman. All money cleared by the fair will eventually go to the Guild's Community House fund, so that the children are encouraging this splendid project.

Mrs. Scammell announces that any one who wishes to do so may contribute articles for the various booths through her. The booths are as follows: aprons, bags and baskets, confectionery, dolls and children's dresses, embroidery, fancy work and favors, gypsy fortune camp and real grab bags, handkerchiefs, infants' wear, jellies and preserves, kimonos, lingerie, millinery, nuts, orangeade, pop corn, records for victrolas, refreshments, sporting goods and stationary, toilet articles, and XYZ. The last will be the great attraction for the children for it will be a Zoo full of real animals. The grab bag and the children's booth will hold many surprises, so when contributions are sent to the chairman these must not be forgotten.

MASONIC HALL CORNER STONE

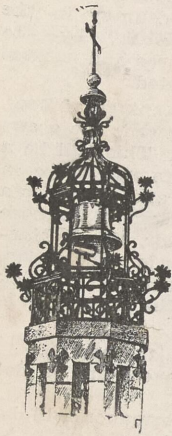

The corner stone of Forest Hills Masonic Hall will be laid on the afternoon of Saturday Oct. 9 at three o'clock, at the corner of Gown Street and Queen's Boulevard. Robert Robinson, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of the state of New York, will officiate assisted by a number of eminent speakers. A large representation of Masons from other lodges will be present and the occasion will be a memorable one. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present.

TILDEN VICTOR

The New York Times of Sept. 7, summed up the last day of the tennis matches as follows:

"William T. Tilden, 2d, of Philadelphia is the tennis champion of the United States and of the world in general. His victory over William M. Johnson, the former national titleholder, at the West Side Club, Forest Hills yesterday afternoon, stamps him as not only the greatest of all living tennis players but, perhaps, the greatest of all time. * * * * To what was probably the most dramatic scene in the history of lawn tennis was added the excitement of an airplane tragedy, in which Lieutenant J. M. Grier of the U. S. Navy and Sergeant Saxe of the army lost their lives in full view of the spectators narrowly escaping a far more disastrous fall into the crowded stands themselves."

THE CHURCH-IN-THE-GARDENS

"The Abundant Life" was the theme of Dr. Latshaw's first sermon, Sept. 5, as minister of the Church-in-the-Gardens. He expressed his profound conviction that at no time in the past have men and women inside the Church and out, been turning more earnestly to the words of his text "I came that ye might have life, and that ye might have it more abundantly" for the solution of their problems. And he believes that never in the history of the Church of Christ has it faced such an opportunity to interpret in terms of spiritual ministry and everyday helpfulness this abundant life which Christ offered so freely to mankind. Dr. Latshaw believes that in order to keep the great reservoir pure and life-giving the importance of the outlet as well as the in-take must be fully recognized. The Church must continue increasingly to assume the attitude of benefactor rather than beggar.

A little different phase of the same subject was presented by Dr. Latshaw last Sunday morning under the theme "Co-operation and Service." Taking his text from Paul's letter to the Church at Corinth, he coupled with it most effectively those significant words of Kipling's "The strength of the wolf is the pack, and the strength of the pack is the wolf."

It is already evident that Dr. Latshaw possesses in a marked degree two of the essentials necessary to bring the Church-in-the-Gardens to its highest place of usefulness in the community, viz. experience and vision. His greatest service to the church as well as to the community, will be to create an atmosphere in which people will want to serve. And this is his avowed purpose.

Note the change in time of the Sunday School. The school will open tomorrow morning, both the primary department and the older school meeting at 9.45—the primary department in the social room and the older school in the church proper. It has been felt for some time by officers of the church and school that it was unfair to deprive the fifteen or eighteen workers in the primary department the privilege of attending church service at 11 o'clock, especially since we have the morning church service only. The new plan will have its disadvantages, but until the community house is completed it is thought worth trying.

The Women's Guild has issued invitations to a reception to be given to Dr. and Mrs. Latshaw at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gorton Marsh on the evening of Wednesday, Sept. 22.

Oct. 3 will be Communion Sunday. Dr. Latshaw will be glad to confer with any who may be considering coming into the church fellowship at that time.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor will hold its first meeting of the season on Sunday evening, Oct. 3 at 7.45.

On Sept. 5, at the morning service Dr. Latshaw baptised Nancy Reading Hanks, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin K. Hanks. Miss Nina Reading Cutter was godmother and William Clive Crosby was godfather.

FOREST HILLS IN "WHO'S WHO."

The Bronxville Review boasting of the quality of the Westchester village in which it is published says that the current number of "Who Who" contains the names of more residents of Bronxville than of any other town of like size in the state. But the claim does not bear examination. Forest Hills, with a population less than that of Bronxville, has 29 of its people, nearly all residing in the Gardens, among those whose biographies are given in "Who's Who." They are with their occupations as there stated:

Allen, Martha M., temp. advocate.
 Burton, C. E., clergyman.
 Caldwell, C. P., lawyer.
 Carr, Gene, illustrator.
 Christian, Eugene.
 Cole, Patience B., writer.
 Croy, Homer, novelist.
 Eames John C., merchant.
 Eder, Phanor J., lawyer.
 Galloway, Lee, editor.
 Goudy, F. W., designer.
 Howe, Willard C., editor.
 Keller, Helen A., author.
 Keyes Edward L. Jr., surgeon.
 Latshaw, D. G. Y. M. C. A., secretary.
 MacNeal, J. Ward, bacteriologist.
 Mantle, R. B., newspaperman.
 Marsh, Mae W., film actress.
 Martin, Thomas C., editor.
 McArdle, M. P., architect.
 Oyen, Henry, author.
 Paltsits V. H., historian.
 Perry, Clarence A.
 Shaw, Adele M., author.
 Stowe, Charles E., lecturer.
 Stowe, Lyman B., author.
 Watrous Richard B. civic work.
 Whitman, R. R., newspaper publisher.

In addition to these Forest Hills Gardens may properly claim Lawrence F. Abbott, editor, who is listed in "Who's Who" as of Cornwall N. Y. where he maintains merely a summer home, and Willis J. Abbot author and editor, who is credited in that publication to Bronxville although now a resident of the Gardens. With these corrections it seems Forest Hills Gardens will rank first among places of its size in representation in this standard work of reference.
