HOME OF PROFESSOR LEE GALLOWAY.

In this number of the Bulletin is shown the home of Professor Lee Galloway, located on the northeast corner of Greenway South and Rockrose Place. This house, adopted from the old "Dutch Colonial," with its gambrel roof, is quaint and homelike and is admirably adjusted to its use. On the long side is an enclosed porch, with sleeping porch above. Attached to the house by a tile-covered hood is the Garage. The plan of this house effects great economy of space. The entrance is into a rectangular hall, with a large opening to the living room, the main stairs go up to a landing and connect with the service stairs at this point. Back of the living room is the dining room separated by wide sliding doors, opening up the house in a very agreeable fashion. The living room is about 18 to 20 feet with a large fireplace, faced with Rookwood tile of a warm pleasing color, with French windows opening onto the porch on each side of the fireplace. The butler's pantry is of good size, furnished with ample dressers and sink. The kitchen arrangement was well studied. Access to this is through the servants porch where a table and benches of quaint design are built in.

On the second floor are the four bed rooms, sleeping porch and two bath rooms. Large closets are provided for all the rooms.

On the third floor are two bed rooms and bath, and a large, well-lighted studio with a dark room for developing photographs.

The construction is of hollow tile blocks faced with a warm gray texture stucco, the roof being tile of a light brown color.

The house was constructed by the Homes Company from plans prepared by its own Architectural Department.

METROPOLITAN AVENUE TROLLEY LINE.

The Mayor's action in signing the franchise for the extension of the Metropolitan Avenue trolley line to Jamaica is of great importance to the people of Forest Hills, who will now have a direct line to Brooklyn. At present the route is roundabout—by way of Jamaica or Manhattan. The trolley line will connect at Jamaica with the trolley on Jamaica Avenue, it will also provide a connection on Metropolitan Avenue with the Myrtle Avenue elevated line to Park Row, Manhattan.

BOY SCOUTS.

Welcome Girl Scouts! You can count on us individually, collectively, fraternally or otherwise.

The prize offered by the Ushers' Club of the Church on the North Side in the ticket-selling contest was won by our Troop. The prize (a handsome flag) was presented to Senior Patrol Leader Smith on Thursday night of last week.

We wish to take this opportunity to express our thanks to the members of the Men's Club and to the many other friends of the Troop who supported us in this contest.

Scout Charles Goodis has been given charge of placing the Bulletins of the Audubon Society at the eleven stations throughout the property.

The majority of the members of both Troops attended the Union Service in the Church on the North Side on Sunday evening last. Dr. Kent made a very interesting statement in regard to the life and work of the founder of the Audubon Society. The work of William T. Grenfell, medical missionary working among the fishermen on the Labrador Coast, was also very interestingly described by Mr. T. A. Greene—an Amherst graduate who spent a summer as a volunteer worker with Dr. Grenfell. His talk was illustrated by stereopticon views.

Camping plans, some interesting hikes, and a forthcoming play await fuller announcement in these pages.

The Homes Company has sold two more of the interior houses in the new group on Ascan avenue to Louis A. Springer, of the New York Sun, and Charles Ham, a teacher in the DeWitt Clinton High School. Mr. Ham's house has been rented to Gilmore Kinney, Jr., who expects to occupy it about June 1st.

Mr. Davir Millar, of Forest Hills North, has moved into his new house in Olive Place.

On Arbor Day, May 5th, Mr. Howard Cleaves, of the New Brighton Museum, talked to the children of both schools in the social room of the Church-in-the-Gardens, on native birds. The talk was given under the auspices of the Audubon Society. Mr. Cleaves had some excellent pictures and gave an entertaining lecture.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon D'Emo, formerly of Chicago, are occupying their new house, 102 Ascan Avenue, Forest Hills Gardens. Mr. and Mrs. John Bolinger and their little daughter Rhoda moved into their new home on Short Hills road last week.

Alexander Cameron expects to move into his new house, on Ascan avenue and Summer street, this week.

Edward W. Deems has purchased 602 Ivy Close, and will move in this week.

GIRL SCOUTS.

The girls of the community will soon be out with their scout uniforms. There will be two patrols. Mrs. Norman B. Baker is Captain and Miss Mabel Brewer, Lieutenant. The charter members are Dorothy Burton, Janet Perry, Phyllis Leonard, Rosalind Holmes, Ella Springsteen, Eunice Rossman, Alice Ortgies, Helena Ketcham, Evelyn Wessman, Winifred Leonard, Margaret Eddy, Elizabeth Rossman, Courtney Small, Mildred Weiss, Bettie Gray and Eleanor Rountree.

The Bulletin regrets that it frequently misses interesting personals and events because of the innate bashfulness of the interested parties. Items of interest may be sent to the office of the Homes Company. They must, however, be in the office not later than the Tuesday preceding date of issue.

CHURCH-IN-THE-GARDENS.

Rev. Arthur J. Smith, our neighbor in Kew Gardens, will preach Sunday morning, May 7th, in the absence of the pastor. He is Chairman of the Evangelistic Committee of New York City, and a most excellent preacher.

The illustrated lecture at the union meeting in the Church of Forest Hills on the work of Dr. Grenfell was very interesting. The next union meeting will be Sunday night, May 14th, in the Social Room of the Church-in-the-Gardens. The speaker will be John Godfrey, who has a large experience in the investigation of mendicancy and who has a very striking story to tell. His topic will be, "Shall We Give to Beggars?"

The Primary and Cradle Roll Departments of the Sunday school are planning to hold their annual party on Saturday, May 20th, from three to five o'clock. Mothers invited.

The portable chapel has been taken to Jamaica and re-erected on Victoria Avenue, two street north of Hillside Avenue. The chapel was filled last Sunday afternoon at the first service. Four children were baptized. The building will be dedicated on Sunday, May 21st.

Two hundred and thirty persons were present at the Easter service. The special music by quartet and soloists was much appreciated. The offering, including the special offering and the regular contributions for church support, amounted to about $350. Three children were baptized: Creighton Croy, Helen Annette Dietsche, Harrison Shepard Williams. Ten members were voted into the fellowship of the Church at the Good Friday service, making the total membership 140.

Mrs. Warner James, of Brooklyn, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Women's Guild, May 12th. She will tell about "Japan."

Topics for the midweek meetings: First week, "The Kingdom Abroad;" second week, "The Kingdom in Our Own Land;" third week, "The Kingdom in Our Own Church and Community;" fourth week, "The Kingdom in Our Own Hearts and Homes."

The children are earning money to operate the school garden. Each child is to have an individual farm garden bed and a section of a class flower bed.
